

BIG PRIZES FOR THE BIRDS

Premium List for Poultry Show Offers Valuable Awards.

REASONS FOR A BIG EXHIBIT

Indications Are that Exhibitors Will flock to Omaha to Make the Trans-Mississippi Show a Hammer.

Twenty-two silver cups are offered as prizes to exhibitors in the Trans-Mississippi Poultry show, which will be held in Omaha at the Auditorium December 12 to 17.

The premium list of the show just issued gives the following excellent reasons why fanciers should show in Omaha:

Best show town in the country.

One of the finest and largest show rooms in the United States.

Liberal premiums, cash specials and numerous silver cups offered.

Thousands of people will see exhibit.

Excellent railroad facilities—no less than ten trunk lines which terminate at Omaha.

Premiums won at this show of inestimable value for the exhibitor.

Exhibitors from a long distance offered special purses and accorded special consideration.

Competition unsurpassed by any show west of New York City.

Winners, except pigeons, will be banded with an association sealed leg band, each having the premium won, insuring purchasers receiving the birds bought.

Judging will be under the comparison system, awards thereby being more intelligently placed than is possible under the score card system as generally applied.

Services of some of the best judges in the United States, and quantity to one and all of absolutely fair treatment, whether exhibitor is present or absent.

Complete statement handed or mailed each exhibitor showing exact number of cocks, cockerels, hens, pullets and pens in each class and the band number of each winning bird; exhibitor may expect an immediate remittance for the premiums won.

Show will be conducted under the rules of the American Poultry Association.

Also in the official greeting "to the fancier, farmer and friend" of poultry the secretary, Anton Lamstrom, calls attention to the $2,000 equine fund available in this space, the attention paid to pigeons, ornamental birds and pet stock, and the great publicity which will accrue to winners, all the leading poultry journals having taken measures anticipatory of a great show.

The judges will be: W. S. Russell, Ottumwa, Ia.; Thomas W. Keating, Kansas City, Mo.; W. C. Ellison, Minneapolis, Minn.; Victor O. Hobbs, Trenton, Mo.; Russell P. Palmer, Topeka, Kan.

Fight for Money of Mrs. Bridget Sweeney

Jury Will Determine Whether it Goes to Relatives or Beneficiaries of Will.

Whether or not the will of the late Bridget Sweeney, bequeathing the $10,000 she and her husband, John Sweeney, had hoarded to Mrs. Bridget O'Malley, whom she had known but a few short months, and cutting off her nephews, Michael and John Burchill of New York, shall stand will be determined by a jury called before Judge Redick in the law division of the district court Monday morning.

For years Mr. Sweeney and his wife lived in a little hut in Omaha. The husband became demented and wandered away from home. His disappearance brought the case of the aged couple to the attention of the authorities. It appeared that they were in destitute circumstances. An investigation, however, disclosed the fact that they had starved themselves and deprived themselves of all but life's very necessities in order that they might hoard their wealth. Ten thousand dollars was found buried in the cellar under the hut.

This discovery was made in the summer of 1907. The couple were taken to a hospital in Council Bluffs and later to St. Joseph's hospital, Omaha, where Mrs. Sweeney died. Upon a showing that Mrs. Sweeney was of unsound mind Edward P. Lester was appointed her guardian. Peter O'Malley and his wife then interested themselves in her behalf and she went to live with them. In the summer of 1908 she died, and the O'Malleys produced what they said was her will, leaving all her property to Mrs. O'Malley.

In the county court Judge Leslie refused to admit the will to probate and held that the property should go to her nephews. The present hearing is on the O'Malley's appeal from the county court decision.

HARRIMAN OFFICIALS MOVE UP TEMPORARILY

Absence of Mr. Mohler Gives Change in Duties of Assistants.

The absence of General Manager A. L. Mohler of the Union Pacific makes some temporary promotions in the ranks of the other officials.

Charles Ware, general superintendent and assistant general manager, is taking the place of Mr. Mohler. David Lincoln, superintendent of transportation, is filling the place of Mr. Ware and W. R. Cahill, superintendent of terminals, is holding down the position of Mr. Lincoln for a while.

County Officers to Meet

State Association Here During the Poultry Show Next Month.

Many Interesting Topics to Be Discussed—Will Make Some Recommendations to the Legislature.

When the county commissioners, supervisors and clerks of all Nebraska come to Omaha week after next for their annual state association convention many of them will be likely to stroll away from the Roewe convention hall and wander over to the Auditorium, where the poultry show is on at the same time, and take a peep at the chirping chickens.

Many of the county commissioners and clerks are by way of being something of fanciers themselves and some will have entries in the big show.

The commissioners' convention meets December 13, 14 and 15 and will be noteworthy among other things for a talk by Governor-elect C. H. Aldrich, who has promised to deliver an address at the dinner of the convention Thursday evening, December 15.

One programmed event has been called off now. This is a "theater party free to all members at the American Music hall."

It was billed for Wednesday evening, the 14th.

The convention will discuss many topics of vital interest, some of the principal ones being:

Recommendation to legislature in regard to primary elections.

Recommendation to legislature in regard to deputy county assessors.

Should real estate be assessed each year? Advisability of making personal tax a lien on real estate without further process of law. This law is in force in South Dakota.

Recommendation to improve our method of assessing personal property. Improvements in drainage laws. Improvements in road laws. Recommendation to legislature in regard to salary of county clerks. Should a voting tax of $1 be assessed against each voter who fails to vote at each election? County clerks' accounts with county treasurer. Primary elections as handled by county clerk.
