WEBSTER TO ARGUE APPEALS

Omaha Attorney Before Supreme Court in Guaranty Laws.

TAKES UP GROCERS' CAUSE
Will Appear in Nebraska in Test Case of Lincoln Grocers Against the "Weight Misbranding Prohibition" Clause.

John Lee Webster goes to Washington to act as attorney in several cases to be heard by the supreme court of the United States. Chief among these are the appeals in the bank guarantee suits by which the federal courts have put out of business the Nebraska and Kansas laws. Mr. Webster some months ago succeeded in getting opinions handed down that these laws are unconstitutional and the respective attorneys general of the two states have appealed.

In the Nebraska case the First State bank of Holstein is plaintiff, and Governor Schallenberger and S. R. Barton, auditor of accounts, are the nominal defendants and appellants.

In the Kansas case it is the Assaria State bank against Joseph N. Doley as bank commissioner and Mark Tully as state treasurer.

These cases will soon come up for argument before the supreme court. When Mr. Webster gets back to Nebraska he will have a highly important case to argue before the state supreme court. This is the matter of the granting of a writ of habeas corpus to the Lincoln grocers. It is made a test case of part of the Nebraska pure food laws as relating to "weight misbranding prohibition," which more simply means the law against falsifying the weight of a food package on the label.

One point involved in this suit has to do with the exact weight at time of sale.

The National Biscuit company, which is deeply interested in the case and which has retained Mr. Webster, argues that it ought to be able to put up a pound of crackers, a pound at the time of doing up the package. If a little evaporation should take place and the package becomes less than sixteen ounces at time of sale, it is none of the company's fault, says the company. The law says differently and this point is accordingly in contention.

The case will be argued on the issuance of the writ of habeas corpus. An agreed stipulation of facts has already been signed by both sides and filed.

STOLEN HORSE IS FOUND DEAD

Indications Hard Drive from Omaha Killed the Animal Found at Avery.

The horse and buggy stolen from George King of Omaha, Saturday afternoon, has been located at Avery, Neb., by Sheriff Hralley's office. The horse is dead. The first report came to the sheriff's office from W. Wells, a rural route mail carrier living in South Omaha. A stranger drove into Avery, which is two miles south of South Omaha, with the horse and buggy Saturday evening. He put the animal up at a livery stable and then disappeared. The horse is believed to have died from being over-driven from Omaha to Avery.

Verkes' Executor Ordered to Report, CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Judge Cutting in the probate court has ordered Louis Owsley, executor of the estate of the late Charles T. Verkes, in an advertisement for bids for the sale of bonds of the underlying company of the Chicago Consolidated Traction company. The executor also is given until January 11 to file a financial accounting of the estate.

Widow Secures Big Judgment for the Death of Husband

Saloon Keepers and Their Bondsmen Are Held by a Jury in the District Court.

Twelve thousand dollars for causing the death of Lorenzo D. Harrison by selling him liquor must be paid Mrs. Olive M. Harrison, his wife, and their children by Lewman & Strook, a firm conducting a North Twenty-fourth street saloon, and the Bankers Surety company, their bondsmen, unless they appeal from a district court judgment on a jury's verdict for the sum, returned before Judge Howard Kennedy Friday morning.

A motion for a new trial will be made. According to the testimony, Mr. Harrison last February became intoxicated on liquor sold him by the saloonmen. Attempting to go home, he slipped and fell on the sidewalk, sustaining injuries from which he died.

The widow and children sued for $2,500. The bonding company was made co-defendant with the saloon keepers. Of the $12,000 called for by the verdict and judgment the bonding company can be held liable for but $5,000, this being the amount of Lewman & Strook's bond, which it signed. The balance of the judgment must be paid by the liquor dealers.

Lake Improvement Club Organized

North Side Residents Start Move to Boost Improvements at the Lake.

The Levi Carter Lake Improvement club has sprung into being through the energies of citizens of the neighborhood and people interested in the improvement of the district.

The first work which the club undertook was the sending of a committee to the last meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners to urge the creation of a lagoon and harbor east of Thirtieth street and north to Fowler avenue.

The park board not only is giving the matter its favorable consideration but has promised the committee that any suggestion toward improving Carter park will be kindly entertained.

The club will meet Sunday afternoon at the club house of the Omaha Turvereth at Carter lake.

SON OF VETERAN IS A SAILOR

Father Comes to Omaha to Help Him Enlist in the Navy of Uncle Sam.

Donald Cosad of Red Oak, Ia., did not have to run away to be a sailor. His father, William Cosad, a veteran of the civil war and proud of it, came along to help his son through the preliminaries of enlistment at the Omaha recruiting station.

The lad was accepted for enlistment by Lieutenant Post yesterday and will be assigned to training ship shortly. By peculiar coincidence the recruiting station is receiving application for a whole series of Kirkpatrick scattered over widely separated sections of the western country. The run of Kirkpatrick, however, bids fair to be rivaled by the Clark.

Effort to Save is Source of Expense

Omaha Merchant Loses Out When He Tries to Save the Bridge Toll.

One of Omaha's merchants in the tailoring business thought he would take a little trip to Dow City, Ia., and visit certain relatives living there. As he had never been to Dow City his wife and daughter instructed him in the way to get there.

"Now, papa," they concluded, "if you will go over to Council Bluffs and take the train you will save 15 cents, as it costs a quarter to get to Council Bluffs on the train and only 10 cents by street car."

However, he was an Omaha booster and bought his ticket at an uptown office in Omaha, unwittingly paying the 25 cents he was trying to save, plus a cent for the station. Total 26 cents.

After waiting the requisite time he caught a street car and paid another nickel to ride to the Council Bluffs line. Total, 35 cents. Another time took him across the river to the station. Total cost up to date, 66 cents. Imagine, if you can, the effect on his nerves when he got to Council Bluffs and found the train had just pulled out. It took another 15 cents (total cost now 81 cents) to get back to Omaha and home to explain his idea of women's plans to his wife. Another nickel took him to the Union station and he got the next train starting from dear old Omaha. Total cost of experience was 66 cents and much time and grief.

Wife Asserts Her Right with a Gun

Florence Bonner Shoots at Her Husband Through Door When He Returns Home.

Peaceful husbands be aware! Florence Bonner, negro, was incarcerated in police court Friday morning when arraigned for shooting her husband, John, in the left leg when he returned home at 1 o'clock in the morning after a family row.

The prosecution did not urge the case, taking the ground that Bonner got what he had coming to him.

In the course of a squabble earlier in the day, according to the statement of witnesses, Bonner slashed up his wife's wardrobe out of pure spite. When on his return he knocked for admission he was hit by a shot through the door.

Bonner is under treatment at St. Joseph hospital. His injuries are not dangerous.

SUIT TO RECOVER TAX PAID

West Point Creamery Company Asks for Return of Tax Collected on Butter.

Hearing of a suit by the West Point Creamery company of West Point, Neb., against Ross Hammond, collector of internal revenue, for the recovery of $500 alleged to have been illegally collected as tax for the manufacture of "adulterated" butter, began in United States circuit court Friday.

The government charges that the creamery was selling and making butter containing more than 16 per cent of moisture, bringing it within the specifications which classify butter as adulterated.

NO CHANGE IN POOL COUNT

All of Douglas County Except South Omaha Shows No Errors in Reading Machines.

Examination of all the voting machines used in Douglas county in the election of November 8, except those used in South Omaha, was completed shortly before noon Friday by the official election canvassing board, which is making a re-examination of the machines for the satisfaction of Charles W. Pool, democratic candidate for secretary of state, defeated by Addison Wait, republican candidate, by 52 votes. No changes nor errors were found. Examination of the machines in South Omaha will be completed this afternoon.

British People Generally Contented

Such is the Statement of Robert Cowell, Who Has Just Returned from Abroad.

"The thing that impressed me most in Europe," says Robert Cowell, who has just returned from several months' sojourn in the British Isles, "was the general contentment among the British people. Everywhere they seem to be happy and satisfied with their industrial conditions. Especially noticeable is the great decrease in the amount of liquor that is being consumed by the Englishmen of all classes. It is remarkable in this one thing, and as a result there is very much less wretchedness than there used to be. Scenes that were common once are almost unknown now."

"London itself is very much improved. Those who are familiar with the city would find it very much changed if they have not been there for a few years. Not such changes as there are on this side, of course, but very great improvements. The slums are to a great extent cleaned out and a number of the narrow, tortuous lanes have been widened into fine streets. The streets are very clean—much cleaner than in Paris. An American is always impressed by the fact that in that city of over 1,000,000 inhabitants there are no skyscrapers, and the tallest building is probably about eight stories, while most of them are three or four. I was in London for five weeks at two different times and saw no fog on either occasion. There was only one rainy day."

"Most of the time we spent on the Isle of Man, my old home, but we took a trip

Postal Receipts Increase

Omaha Postoffice Shows Eleven Per Cent Gain for November.

INDEX OF OMAHA PROSPERITY

Christmas Business Has Hardly Begun, Although There Are Some Indications by the Increased Sales of Stamps.

Gross receipts of the Omaha postoffice for November show an increase of $8,921.35 over the receipts for the same month last year, a growth of 11 per cent in business.

The office took in $97,325.51 during November, 1910, and $78,350.45 in November, 1909. The increased use of the mails incident to the holiday and gift-giving season has already become apparent at the Omaha office. Extra clerks have been put to work nearly two weeks in advance of the usual time.

The receipts of the postoffice are from the sale of stamps. The use of the mails is taken as an index to the volume of business done by a community and the increase in the gross receipts of the postoffice by 11 per cent is taken as one more indication of the prosperity and development of Omaha.

Neighborly Row Breaks Into Court
Anton Brebeck Alleges He is in Fear of Bodily Harm from His Neighbors.

Complaint that Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bierman, neighbors of his, have threatened to do him and his family and employes physical harm was filed by Anton P. Grobeck, fairman, 178 Van Camp avenue, in the county court Friday morning. The Biermans became angry when Grobeck began taking dirt from a lot adjoining their property, according to Grobeck, who said:

"They live right across the street from my place. I was taking some dirt from a lot next to them owned by Charley Van Camp. Bierman came out with a club and broke it over a horse my hired man, Jens Peterson was using. Then he hit Jens. Grobeck says the Biermans threatened not only him and his family and employes, but even his cows and horses.
