He said the contin uance motion did not show due diligence

The motion for a continuance was overruled with the proviso that the testimony of witnesses not present who testified an the preliminary hearing might be introduced by the defense, Mr. Yeiser argued his demurrer on the ground that the information did not state specifically that the dynamite in the suitcase was sufficient to cause death. He said the information says, "sufficient to blow the house to pieces," when it should state the quantity, one stick, one pound, or whatever it is supposed to have been. This also was overruled after a short argument by Mr. English.

enough; perhaps you claimed you couldn't afford a new one. But there is NO excuse NOW. Your OLD plano is down and out; your children are ashamed to perform upon it; while you, think of it, have an opportunity to purchase the world's most POPULAR plano with $75 of its price chopped off the moment you BUY it. Don't say: "Til think over it." for, if you delay it beyond January 1, 1911, you will NOT get the $75 CONCESSION, and one MORE Christmas will have passed without a new plano.

T O assure the habitual doubter; to set back the professional "wise one," we will say that the Kimball planos and player planos upon our floors now, are marked at only the LEGITIMATE prices they have brought for YEARS. The $75 "concession" is offered you by the W. W. Kimball Co., of Chicago, as an experiment in advertising. The Kimball Co., is endeavoring to cut out high priced magazine advertising and sime to reach the priced magazine advertising and aims to reach the buyer DIRECT.
