The sealed verdict returned by a jury in the district court in the case of John Michener against the Alfalfa Mealy company was opened when court convened yesterday morning. Scherer is the attorney of the company, sued for $2,000 for severe injuries to one of his hands, caused by being caught in a cutting machine which was claimed not to be sufficiently guarded by protective devices. The jury awarded him $500.

Attorneys for Joseph Michener gave notice yesterday that an appeal would be taken from the award of Judge Green of one-half of the profits in a big horse deal in a coming contest by him to his partner, Thomas Olson of Sioux City. The allegation was that the profits were $20,000, but it is now known that the profits were less than half that amount, half of which the court directed Michener to pay to Olson.

The board of education will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening. The report of the committee whose members spent some time with the judges after going over her plans for the proposed public playground on the old high school site, will probably make its report. The official ratification of the employment of Prof. Bender to fill the vacancy in the high school caused by the resignation of Prof. E. L. Thomas will also be ratified.

Francis Benedict of Imogene, and Pearl Edmonds of Shenandoah, Ia., were united in marriage by Rev. C. S. Hanley at the People's Congregational church, Thirty-fifth and Avenue B, at the close of the Sunday morning services. They were accompanied by the bride's father of Imogene, and her brother and wife, who lives at Thirty-second and Third streets. The entire congregation were invited guests, and witnessed the ceremony and extended congratulations.

George O'Brien and C. E. Hayward, who have been held in the city jail for the last few days while the police detectives were investigating the charge of the theft of a box of shoes from the Hamilton shoe store, were confronted yesterday in an array of convincing testimony in police court yesterday morning that they waived further hearing before the same, half way through. The action was taken by advice of their attorney, Herman Schurz, detective Frank McPherson and Joe Hill of the Omaha force were witnesses against them and told of having received a tip from a dealer in whom the men had referred to sell the shoes, which led to their arrest when they had loaded the shoes into an express wagon to deliver them. Several employees of the Hamilton store identified the men positively as persons they had seen in the rear of the building inspecting the boxes of shoes before the case was stolen. The box contained twenty-eight pairs of men's shoes. The men were sent to the county jail under $500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury. Frank J. Capell, the new democratic county attorney-elect, made his maiden appearance in police court as prosecutor.

WATER BILLS GO TO MAYOR

Matter Brought Up and Referred with Notice of Suit.

ALDERMEN GIVE AND TAKE RAPS

Indian Creek Flood Situation Called Up and Diversion Plan Called for from the City Engineers.

Alderman Younkerman last night at the city council meeting endeavored to get immediate action on the water works settlement matter by introducing a resolution instructing the city solicitor to compel the water company to collect its long unpaid fire hydrant bills on the basis of $60 per hydrant, but during the pause that followed waiting for a second, which was not found, Alderman Fisher, the father of the compromise measure and amendment, to the rate ordinance passed under suspension of the rules at the previous meeting, asked that the matter be deferred until next Monday night. He said he was ill.

Alderman Fisher said he wanted to do a little talking and his voice needed repairing to do a good job, which he promised would be satisfactory to everybody, but Alderman Younkerman, Harding said the "improvers." He said there were several things he wanted to talk about as well as the water problem. He wanted to find out why it was that the city was being called upon to pay such increasingly heavy proportions of all of the paving ordered and intimated that one member of the council was trying to discover a means of getting a lot of money out of the city. He said it would be isolated and made to bear the cost of paving, and thus compel the city to bear the heaviest part of the cost.

Harding Rises to Reply. This taunt brought Alderman Harding to his feet with the declaration that if the alderman from the Third ward meant remarks for him he wanted to brand it as an unqualified falsehood. Fisher denied that he referred to Harding, but intimated that he must be guilty. Younkerman then said the thrust was meant for him and he explained that the council had assessed a lot on Benton street, purchased one week before the paving assessment was made, at $30 more than he paid for it and he had not objected since his first failure to get it corrected.

While the water bill settlement was under discussion and before it was abruptly suppressed, Alderman Evans said he had voted for the settlement because he believed it was right and because the city solicitor had declared the city was liable for the debt. Then the whole thing was submerged by referring the notice of injunction suit to the mayor and city solicitor, with power to act, which includes the carrying out of the agreement to pay the entire bill.

Over-Valuation Protests. A large number of protests against over-valuation of property for pavement costs were received and several of them allowed, including those of K. M. Syster and K. Coyne. Bids were opened for the purchase of a discarded fire horse which the council declined to let Mayor Maloney sell last spring for $100. The bids ranged from $11 to $48.20 and the animal was sold to James Wood for that amount.

Mayor Maloney awakened the council by a sharp communication calling attention to the pre-election promises to do something with Indian creek to curb its floods and asked that the city engineer be instructed to report a plan for diversion of the waters in accordance with the council's instructions, dated November 1, 1909.

Mr. Evans made a verbal report stating that it would cost $53,000 to divert the stream at the north line of the city limits and $25,000 to change its course at Bryant street, and this matter was laid over until next meeting.

After a long session and much minor business the council met as a board of health and allowed the monthly bills, the Danie's, to be re-engaged for another year at an increase of pay from $50 to $60 per month. The council will meet as a committee of the whole on Thursday morning.

Manager E. W. Hart Returns from East; Water Case to Court

Receiver of Council Bluffs System Says United States Court Will Have to Decide on Matter.

Edward W. Hart, manager and receiver of the Council Bluffs waterworks, returned yesterday morning from a three weeks' visit to the environments of his old home at New Bedford, Mass., stopping at Boston, New York and Philadelphia. Mr. Hart arrived home just in time for another inning in the old waterworks fight, and could not repress an expression of extreme weariness when asked what he thought of the situation as it now stood. Mr. Hart declared his belief that the teaching of manual arts to boys in school will greatly lessen danger from accidents and injury to health. He also declared in favor of more stringent factory inspection laws. A large part of the conference was devoted to plans for lessening crime and pauperism and prevention of conditions which injure the earning capacity of individuals.

New officers were elected and Iowa City was chosen as the city for the next conference. The new officers are: President, F. C. Ensign, Iowa City; vice president, Dr. A. T. Bunnell, Des Moines; second vice president, George D. Easton, Vinon; treasurer, H. L. Houghton, Sioux City; secretary, Dr. George Mcgridge, Glenwood. Executive committee members: Mrs. Sam Weinstock, Des Moines, president and secretary; Rev. R. K. Atkinson, Davenport, and Miss Flora Dunlap, Des Moines.

Wintered Woman Injured. Mrs. T. J. Alexander, aged 60, wife of a prominent real estate man of Winnetka, was injured this morning by the explosion of oil so badly that she died at noon. She mistook gasoline for kerosene and used it to start the fire. Several others of the family were burned.

How to Head Off the Frost. The principal theme of the state meeting of the horticulturists next week is to head off the frost in Iowa orchards, and several prominent orchardists will discuss the topic. It is found that during the last year there was great profit to owners of orchards who took steps to prevent frost killing in the spring. The State Park and Forestry association, which meets at the same time, will consider public playgrounds, forests along rivers and kindred subjects. A report on the work of the Iowa Conservation commission will be made.

Returns from Food Convention. W. B. Barney, state food and dairy commissioner, returned today from New Orleans, where he attended the national convention of the food and dairy commissioners. He reports that it was a splendid meeting in every respect. They did not take up bleached flour, benzoate of soda, linsed oil or other subjects of controversy, but did consider a great number of things relating to the enforcement of the pure food laws.

Report on Tuberculosis. Dr. A. E. Kefford filed with the board of control today his report for the biennial period as state lecturer on tuberculosis. He states that as a result of the work being done there appears to have been at least a 20 per cent reduction in the number of deaths in Iowa. He has spoken to over 100,000 persons in the two years, lecturing before all kinds of meetings. A vast amount of literature has been distributed and there is great interest being taken in the methods of preventing tuberculosis. He concludes that Iowa climate is better than others. He would recommend an increase in the annual appropriation, more power to the board of health, authority for county sanatoria and a strict state-wide "anti-spitting" law.

Vital Statistics Are Imperfect. The secretary of the State Board of Health will urge upon the legislature a change in the law regarding vital statistics and that all deaths and births be reported to the county officials by doctors
