Corn finished unchanged to %c higher, oats a shade to 420%c up and hog products at an advance of 224025c to 9c flat.

Wheat finished within a shade of the bottom prices of the day. During most of the session, however, stubborness cropped out whenever the market approached Sic for the May option. At that point there were resting orders to buy and no break occurred. In the last quarter of an hour the price went to 20% c. Dry weather in the winter wheat belt of the United States acted tupe or less as a counterpoise to the news from Argentina. In consequence cash wheat was firmly held here and elsewhere, although the demand could not be classed although the demand could not be classed as anything but poor. Cows and beifers were in good demand and they sold quite readily at steady prices. Still for the week the market is around 10filis lower.

There were only a few feeders in sight, but they sold readily at about the same prices as prevailed yesterday. For the week strictly good, well bred light or medium weight cattle are about steady, but the less desirable kinds and the heavy, fleshy cattle are around 10filis lower.

The following table shows the receipts of cattle, bogs an sheep at South Omaha for the year to date, as compared with last year:

SHEEP-Receipts of sheep were moderate again today and at the same time buyers' requirements were quite large. The result was that the market opened early in the morning with everything selling freely and with prices unevenly higher. To call the general market 10@15c higher than yesterday would just about cover the situations. This means that sheep are around 5c higher and lambs and ewes fully 50c higher than the close of last week. Good ewes sold as high as $3.55, with old wethers up to $4.15, and with quite a string of old wethers, with a sprinkling of yearing on them, at $4.55. Straight yearings sold as $15.80, and a big string of range lambs from the best fields of Idaho sold at $5.00. Good native lambs sold up to $2.55.

The market as a whole was very satisfactory to the sellers and the tone to trade good and healthy. As a matter of course the high prices paid are to all appearances the direct results of light receipts. esult was that the market opened early the direct results of light receipts.

There were very few feeders of any kind in sight this morning, but, as has been the case all the week, the demand was very urgent and there were plenty of buyers on hand to take anything that might put in an appearance. Under such circumstances it is hardly necessary to add that the feeling on feeders is good and strong. DRY GOODS HOLIDAY TRADE GOOD '

Some Improvement in Shoe Trade, but Business is Considerably Below Normal for Season of the Year.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will The year now drawing to a close will be

The year now drawing to a closs will be notable for its harvests, the money value of its farm products being computed at close to $2,000,000,000, a record figure. This fact forms the best possible basis for industrial advance next year.

There is, however, little change in financial and business sentiment, which remarks a conservative and cautiful. There is, however, fitte change in ancial and business sentiment, which remains conservative and cautius.

Continued restriction of output has not prevented steady accumulation of pig from stocks and the movement to ourtail operations is expected to be carried still further. In the dry goods markets, the holiday trade is shaping up well and re-orders for merchandles are going into jobbing houses steadily. The cotton goods and cotton yarn markets are hampered by the difficulty of getting prices commensurate with high cotton costs and curtailment continues.

While there is some improvement in the shoe trade, business is still considerably below normal for this season of the year. Prices on footwear are not strong, but no concessions of cure are reported as values are aiready low, considering the cost of production.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Seasonable Weather and Approach of Holidays Help Business. NEW YORK, Dec. 9.-Bradstreet's tombrrow will say:

mbrrow will say:

"Snow or rain, followed by cold weather throughout considerable areas, have tended to stimulate retail sales of winter goods and wearing apparel, while the approach of the holidays has helped specialties adapted to the season. Jobbers and whole-salers catering to this class of business have apparently done well as a whole, replenishing of broken stocks giving a slight impetus to trade in seasonable goods. In regular whole-sale trade the approach of the inventory season made for quistness and spring buying in general is reported of rather light volume with conservation still ruling trade for distant dates. Collections, as a whole, will not class better than fair.
