LEAGUE TO TEACH COURTESY

German Woman Founders Organization of Unique Character. ADOPTS AN ITALIAN MOTTO. Members Will Wear Medal and Are Bound to Be Polite Under All Circumstances—Pillar of Burning Gas.

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—(Special to the Bee.)—A "League of Politeness" and organization, which aims at inculcating better manners among the people, has been founded by a German woman, who has been inspired by a similar society in Rome. In deference to the parent organization the Berlin league has chosen the Italian motto, "Pro Gentibus." These words will be emblazoned upon a little flag which German women are accustomed to wear the insignia or orders. The idea is that a glance at the "talisman" will annihilate any inclination to indulge in bad temper or discourteous language. Any "polite person" is eligible for membership. The attempt to supplant politeness for incivility is to be directed especially at conductors, railway ticket collectors, cab drivers, customs "and other officials," including the insolent swashbucklers who are officers of the German army.

The burning natural gas pillar at Neuen-gamme is still blazing. Thousands of people daily leave Hamburg to see the strange spectacle. The gas is burning in three immense jets, which at times are visible miles away and are accompanied by a year which is audible for six miles. The adjacent ground trembles with the rush of gas. The latter was discovered accidentally while men were boring for water. It is not known whether the existence of gas indicates the presence of petroleum or coal below the surface. It is calculated that $30,000 worth of natural gas has been wasted.

A local theatrical manager has had his managerial license revoked at the end of a law court trial on the ground that his conduct unfit him to hold one. The verdict recited that the evidence left no doubt that the honor of actresses engaged at the theater could not safely be intrusted to his keeping. He appealed from the verdict, alleging that although the prosecution was instituted by the royal police administration, its real instigators were business rivals. His defense was that many actresses who testified had rehearsed irresponsible gossip. To the accusations of a well known actress, to whom the accused admitted that he had made advances, his report was that he was sincerely in love with her. He has not only lost his license, but must bear the costs of trial—$12,000.

BOYLES COLLEGE STUDENTS ENTERTAINED BY FACULTY

Reception in College Gymnasium for Students of Omaha and Council Bluffs Schools.

Five hundred students and graduates of the Boyles Commercial colleges of Omaha and Council Bluffs were entertained by the faculty of the schools in the gymnasium of the Omaha building Friday night. The reception was opened with a concert by the Union Pacific band of thirty-two pieces, which was brought by the manager, Joseph St. Louis, because the Boyles telegraph department is the training school for the Union Pacific operators. During the musical program two selections, composed by the leader, Karl Mazer, were played. Tony Hill, tenor, sang several popular songs. Anton Takabino, the cornetist, gave a solo and Frank Favara gave a selection on the mandolin.

Our Letter Box.

Contributions on Timely Subjects Not Exceeding Two Hundred Words Are Invited From Our Readers.

Mr. Warren's Compliments. HARVARD, Neb., Dec. 9.—To the Editor of The Bee: As my subscription for the Bee has expired, please stop sending it. I have had a tory paper in my house long enough.

I notice in your editorial this morning the statement that toryism in England dies hard, but it is bound ultimately to go. That statement is likewise true of America. I think you are the most inconsistent people I ever saw. On the same page you laud the liberals in England and condemn Representative Norris and the insurgents for fighting for popular government in America. You have defended high protection, a tory policy, the liquor traffic, a tory policy, government by the vested interests as represented by Taft and Ballinger, twin brothers to the policy of Balfour and Landowin, and oppose the initiative and referendum because the people would have a chance to vote the saloons and brothels out of Omaha. I should think the last election would be sufficient to show you that toryism cannot flourish in America, for while tory republicans in nearly every instance went down to defeat the insurgents doubled their representation in both branches of congress.

If your paper had and its way, we would have had a democrat elected as governor of this state. But with a county option candidate and platform we carried the state by 15,000, while if a tory republican he would have been defeated worse than the tory burket.

I suppose I am wasting ink writing this, as I have noted that you never give space in your paper to anyone except tories like Webster et al, defending Taft and Ballingerism, or democrats like Bryan, opposing county option. But that doesn't matter. You cannot prevent the spread of popular government anywhere, in England nor in America, and your paper will not gain in the long run for espousing toryism. Yours truly, B. A. WARREN.
