AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Residents of West Side Complain of Lack of Water Supply.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL

Appraisers Present Report of Damages to Property on Establishment of Grade on Thirty-Third Street.

The complaint of the residents of South Omaha who live in the district from Fortieth to Forty-fourth streets, between L and Q streets, as to the lack of water pressure, was reinforced last night by a complaint made to the Board of Education by S. L. Winters, the contractor for the new school building at Forty-second and F streets, in the Hillside addition. The date of the opening of the school has been put back, owing to the fact that enough water cannot be got for the boilers. The trouble seems to arise from the fact that the whole district is supplied from a main on Twenty-fourth street, which passes through the stock yards and has to do service for them as well. It is only in the evening when the stock yards are not drawing upon the supply that the people in this elevated part of the city can get water for their culinary purposes. What would occur should a fire break out in the earlier hours of the day they dread.

A suggestion is made that the district should be supplied direct from Omaha and probably this matter may be discussed to-day when a committee goes to Omaha to consult with the officials of the water company.

The board last night named the new school the Franklin school, in honor of the eighteenth century patriot and philosopher. The board passed a resolution fixing a definite fee of $1 for the use of the school auditorium except when the hall is used for school purposes.

City Council Proceedings.

Petitions were received by the city council last night from property owners for the grading of O street from the east line of Linwood Park addition to the east property line of P street, and for the paving of E street from the east line of Thirty-sixth street to the east line of Forty-fourth street.

The appraisers appointed to assess damages to property owners in connection with the establishment of the grade of Thirty-third street from Q street to F street, reported that the only persons who would sustain any damage were the owners of lots 2, 4, 6 and 8 in block 6, and they assessed the damages at $100, $250, $75 and $50 respectively.

The appraisers reported that the abutting property owners sustain no damage through the grading of Thirty-second street from Q to R streets, nor through the grading of the alley between Thirty-ninth street from I to Q streets.

In response to a petition from residents it was decided to request the electric light company to install arc lights at Twentieth and Z streets and Eighteenth and U streets.

Thomas Hector wrote, calling attention to the fact that the contract had not been let for the paving of Pauline avenue and other streets in that locality. The communication was referred to the committee of the whole.

G. W. Holdrege, general manager of the Burlington railroad, forwarded the consent of his company to an easement on the railroad property at Forty-fourth street to enable the opening of that thoroughfare through the city of Omaha.

City Attorney Murphy again reported rejecting the claim of Thomas J. O'Neill for $1,000 for dirt removed from the site of the city hall. His action was approved by the council.

The council decided to pay Hanson & Craig, contractors for the Highland park sewer and the north branch of M street gutter sewer, and Dan Hanson, the contractor for the Twelfth street sewer, the reserves held, on Mayor Trainor having advised that the work had been satisfactorily maintained and was now in good order.

Ordinances were passed for the paving and grading of the alley between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets from J to K streets, paving and curbing Twenty-second street from Q to Y streets and paving and curbing the alley between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets, M to N streets.

The judiciary committee to which was referred an ordinance prohibiting the establishment of additional cemeteries or other structures within two miles of the corporate limits of South Omaha and providing penalties for violation of the ordinance, reported requesting the ordinance be referred to the city attorney upon its legality. Their request was granted. Counsellor Walters, chairman of the committee, remarking that the city attorney had not drawn up the ordinance, said:

Bids were received from Condon & Smith and Dan Hanson for the grading of Sixteenth street from E to K streets, Twenty-seventh street from R to Y streets and curbing the alley between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets, M to N streets. The price ranged from 15.90 to 22.25 cents per cubic foot.

Omaha Men Buy Real Estate.

H. M. Christie of Omaha has purchased the ten-acre tract of land owned by Mrs. Mary Cassidy south of L and just west of Forty-fourth street. The price was $700 in cash. Gould Diets of Omaha has purchased thirty-one acres with five south of Grover street and west of Forty-fourth street. In this case $600 was paid per acre. The purchases are part of a plan for the development of this part of South Omaha in which a number of Omaha people are interested.

Sequel to Joe Stout's Death.

The final act in the tragedy of the death of Joe Stout, the colored man who died in the South Omaha hospital following a free-for-all fight at Twenty-sixth and O streets on the night of November 16, was played yesterday morning in the police court when Acting Police Judge Caldwell sentenced three colored men, Willis Williams, Fred Harris and Ed Flowers, to ninety days each on the charge of assault and battery. At the preliminary hearing the more serious charge of murder was dismissed, but the three were held, as it was proved they were members of the crowd who followed, and were in the vicinity when Stout received the stabs which brought him to the hospital. The medical evidence at the inquest was that the wounds inflicted could not cause death and that the man died from dilatation of the heart which might remotely be associated with the wounding. Chief of Police Briggs prosecuted and the accused were represented by Attorney M. L. Beckwith of Omaha.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, and Governor W. R. Stubbs of Kansas were the principal speakers at the annual banquet of the Illinois Manufacturers' association tonight. Governor Stubbs took up the subject of railroad rates and the relation of rates to the welfare of the people at large.

"MIDNIGHT ROUNDERS"

Become Daylight Gentlemen After Taking the Neal 8-Day Cure for the Drink Habit.

It is a very easy matter nowadays to become cured of the drink habit since the Neal 8-day drink-habit cure has been perfected. The hardest part of it usually is to convince the erring one that he needs it or for the erring one to convince himself of the adage, "Once a drinker, always a drinker," unless cured by the proper treatment.

A man's money, business, reputation and friends quickly drift away, like the fog before the sun, when the flowing bowl is tapped too frequently, and it does not take long for him to be pointed out and whispered about as a "rounder" and a "booze fighter." When a man gets that name his reputation for business honesty and integrity suffers a severe check. The contamination of alcoholism exerts itself in more than one way.

The Omaha Neal Institute is located at 1522 South Tenth St. Patients are received at all hours. The genuine Neal Cure is also administered at 1505 W. Charles St., Grand Island, Neb. For full information address, Neal Institute Co., O. B., 1522 South Tenth St.

In Wyoming the total increase was 15,000 and in the counties covered by the Burlington road it was 40 per cent of the 25,000 people. All of the increase shown is in land tributary to Omaha markets and jobbers in this city are more than pleased at the census showing of the two states.

Robbed by Bandit Who Carried Sack of Flour

John D. Quinley Slugged by Negro

Who Leaves Unusual Clue that May Reveal His Identity.

John D. Quinley, a contractor who lives at 214 North Twenty-eighth avenue, while on his way home Monday night at 4 o'clock, at Twenty-fifth street and Patrick avenue, was assaulted by an unidentified negro, who came upon him from behind, and after knocking him down, robbed him of $27, which he was carrying in a bill book.

Quinley had noticed the negro behind him carrying a sack of flour, but had paid no attention to him. When they had reached a dark spot in the street, Quinley received a push which sent him sprawling upon his face. Trying to rise, his assailant knocked him down. By this time the contractor realized that the negro wanted and put up a fight. However, each time he attempted to regain his feet the negro knocked him down, and the third time he was rendered unconscious by a blow on the forehead. When he came to his bill book and money were missing and the negro nowhere in sight. On the ground was the sack of flour, which the robber had been carrying, and Quinley picked it up and took it home with him in the hopes that it might in some way help to identify the man. He reported the affair at the police station, and as he was unable to give a very good description of his assailant, the police are now looking for a negro with flour on his coat and a scar on his chin.

FIGHT PICTURE LAW UP AGAIN

Ordinance Referred by Committee of Whole Back to Author.

BERKA DISCOVERS AN OLD ONE

Previously Passed Measure Covers All Provisions Except Patristic Displays—Bridges Opposes Restriction of Pictures.

The ordinance to prohibit prize fight pictures and other displays that might have a tendency to make heroes of brutal men and criminals was discussed at the meeting of the city council in committee of the whole Monday afternoon and referred back to Councilman Sheldon to be revised so that it will not conflict with a previous ordinance prohibiting indecent displays.

An old ordinance, which seemed to cover all the new provisions except the one relating to prize fights, was read by Judge Berka and several councilmen declared that it would be better to enforce that than to pass new laws. Councilman Bridges was rather inclined to be opposed to the proposition anyway, because he says that he enjoys going to picture shows and does not want his delights curtailed.

Discuss Eleventh Street Viaduct.

Councilman Kugel advocated a temporary repairing of the Eleventh street viaduct. It has been decided to have the Union Pacific put in a new bridge in place of this, the oldest viaduct in the city, but the closing up of the street altogether for several years would be a hardship to the jobbers and manufacturers who must do their hauling over the tracks at that point. Some plan will be devised for a temporary structure which will allow at least light traffic.

It was decided to allow the property owners at Fortieth street through the old McBurne pasture from about Blondo to Lake street.

Defense in Charlton Case Takes New Step

State Department Issues Warrant for Surrender of Man Charged with Wife-Murder.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Dec. 13.—The efforts to prevent the extradition of Porter Charlton, wanted by the Italian government on the charge of having murdered his wife, was carried another step here today. Notices were served on Judge A. Blair and Prosecutor Pierre F. Garven of the circuit proceedings to be held before Judge Halladay in the United States circuit court at Trenton, N. J., next Monday.

A writ of habeas corpus was served on the sheriff for the production of Charlton at Trenton on that day. Charlton's lawyers said they would appeal to the United States supreme court, should Judge Halladay's ruling adverse.

Discrimination in Charities Too Great

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Associate Justice Hughes of the United States supreme court in an address tonight before the Associated Charities, denounced the late Justice Brewer as a philanthropist. He discussed benevolence in general.

"What a thing it would be if we should ever be up the fountains of generosity because we might be afraid of a little lack of discrimination in our benevolences," he said. "There is such a thing as thinking too much of whether the man who gets something is altogether worthy of it. The danger lies not in the fact that the other way be benefitted unduly, but rather in the impoverishment of ourselves by denying to those generous instincts, without which life would be barren. We must have back of all this organized effort the motive power of human love."

"In Justice Brewer's case the motive was greater than the judge," continued Mr. Hughes. "To one familiar with the work of the supreme court it seems incredible that he should have essayed the tasks, which, outside of that work, he performed so successfully."

Justice Brewer was president of the Associated Charities for six years.

Kokomo Girls Hunt for Husbands in South Dakota

Club of Indiana Young Women Asks for Honest Bachelors.

MITCHELL, S. D., Dec. 13.—(Special.)—Indiana girls are nothing if not practical and they give evidence of it in an appeal which they have sent into the northwest in order to find husbands for themselves. A number of young women living at Kokomo, Ind., have formed themselves into a society for the purpose of getting married, and they have gone about it in a perfectly legitimate manner. They have waited in vain for the young men living in the vicinity of Kokomo to take advantage of the opportunity which has been offered in getting good wives, and as they have been slow to embrace the same, the young women have determined upon another method of procedure, and which has found its way into the northwest.

The secretary of the club, members of which are to engage in correspondence with young bachelors of the northwest with the view to matrimony. They hold themselves ready and willing to take up their part of the contract, and are not afraid to darn socks, get the meals and make a first-class help in the household. These young women have heard of the chivalry of the young men of the northwest and they propose to test it out, and they are thus placing themselves in an attitude to remove from the streets conditions in Indiana to the more bustling situation in the northwest. The following appeal was received in this city, and it is given publicly to help the young women in their laudable enterprise of trying to establish a home out of a bachelor's shack:

KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 6, 1910.—Dear Sir: This may appear to you to be a strange appeal, but we Hoosier girls are told that in the great northwest there are many bachelors who would not be bachelors if they could find some girl who would darn their socks, sew on their buttons, cook the meals, take a half interest in their joys and sorrows, and assist in making a happy home for them. Now we know of several splendid young Hoosier girls who are accomplished in that line and would be willing to undertake the pleasant task of some tall, honest, honorable bachelors of good character and prospects, if we could only find the bachelors who are in this: You, in your position, perhaps, know of some handsome, lonesome souls of the above description who are anxious to get to us Hoosier girls; if so will you kindly make this information public, and both he and we will rise home in that regard. Address, Miss R. E. E. Lock Box 26, Kokomo, Ind.

CULVER IS MUCH OF A VETERAN

General Puzzles Presiding Officer by Number of Places in Room He Belonged at Once.

Last fall General J. H. Culver went on a business trip and on his way back had occasion to stop off at a junction town in Kansas, where he was delayed several hours waiting for a train. While idly walking around town he discovered a number of men entering a vacant store building, noticing that a number of them wore the Grand Army of the Republic button, others the Spanish war badge and some the figure 4 indicating Philippine war service in the Eighth army corps. His thought he ought to feel at home in that crowd, so joined the throng and walked in.

Soon a tall, grizzled veteran called the meeting to order and stated that this was a meeting of all who had served in Uncle Sam's service.

"Now you fellows who served in the war of the rebellion go over to the west side of the hall." The general walked over with the little bronzed button men. "Now you men who served in the Spanish-American war go to the south side." Comrade Culver joined the young veterans to the south end. "Now you kinds that served in the Philippine insurrection various to the east side."

The Nebraskan waited a few moments, then proceeded to join his Philippine comrades. During all of these movements the chairman had eyed him suspiciously, but this last move was too much for him, and he called out, "Say, you fellows, what have you lost, or where in h—l do you belong?" The general promptly responded, "I don't belong anywhere in h—l. Am simply obeying your commands."
