

BRIEF CITY NEWS

Have Root Print It. F. J. Oreson & Sons—Coal. Take Your Printing to the Times. Mincham, Photographer, 18th & Farnam. Jave Your Best Money—Hawings & Hayden, 1014 Harney street, will sell you a new home on a small payment down, balance like rent.

Fire Loss Fully Covered—Simply indicates forthright. Service to clients is our motto. Creight, Baldrige & Co. Phone Douglas 206. The Way is Open through the Neb. Savings & Loan Ass'n to save money. Weekly on monthly payments may be made, pay 4% per annum. 1605 Farnam Street.

Private Safe in our burglar and fire-proof safe deposit vault for only $2.50 per year. Large storage vault for silverware, etc. Entrance at 1614 Farnam street, or through the Omaha National bank.

Judge Sutton to Tekamah—Judge A. L. Sutton left Monday for Tekamah, Neb., to hold court for one week. His place as judge of the juvenile court was filled by Judge A. C. Troup of the equity division of the district court.

Man is Coming—If you want any rubber toys you can get them at the Rubber Store. Rubber balls, rubber dolls and everything else that is rubber. The Omaha Rubber Company, E. H. Sprague, president, 1608 Harney street. "Just around the corner."

Released on Affidavit—Gus Apolatoski, a Greek, who was fined $100 and costs a month ago for violating the Heburn anti-pass law, was released Monday morning from the Douglas county jail upon a poor prisoner's affidavit. The Greek was arrested a month ago in South Omaha after he had sold his return ticket to Ogden, Utah.

Use Air Pressure in Tunnel—The attempt of the city engineer's men to work without air pressure in the tunnel of the new Burt street sewer resulted in several bad cave-ins in the last few days and although no one was hurt the use of air pressure was resumed again Monday morning for safety. The pressure now maintained is about fourteen pounds above the atmospheric weight.

Boys Get Another Chance—Fred Compton and Virgil Smith, two boys each 10 years old, were given one more chance to reform by Judge A. C. Troup in juvenile court Monday morning. Compton is the boy who helped Herman and Henry Chesler steal some potatoes from Courtney's and then boarded a train and "bummed" his way to Marshalltown, Ia. Virgil Smith's only naughtiness is playing truant. Both boys have been punished several times, but with little effect. They were about to be sent to the state industrial school for boys at Kearney until they so sincerely declared their willingness to be good that the judge and the juvenile officers agreed they should be given one more chance.

Sweeps Vengeance on Mory—Angered by the charge of juvenile officer Mory Bernstein that one of her sons was a "dope fiend," Mrs. William Norton swore dire vengeance against the officer in juvenile court Monday morning. Judge A. C. Troup, on recommendation of Bernstein, committed John Norton, another of the woman's sons, to the state industrial school for boys at Kearney. John and his mother had been summoned into court to answer charges that John is a general mischief maker and cannot be controlled by his parents. Several sentences to serve short times in the detention home have failed to produce any effect upon the lad.

Worry Drives Man Insane—Wife Disappears While He is Sick in the Hospital—Would Give Away Oranges. H. A. Myrton at the police station Monday morning insisted on ordering a car of oranges from his fruit farm near the Omaha Country club. Myrton was once prosperous, but became sick and was forced to go to the hospital. While there his wife disappeared. Worry over his wife and property have driven him insane. Hence his inclination to send to his orange grove for oranges for the other prisoners.

Births—John Kriss, 3229 South Twenty-third street, boy; John Quade, 474 North Thirty-eighth street, boy; John Taylor, 2923 Dodge street, boy; Sidney La Taylor, 2923 Camden avenue, girl; John Terry, 3524 North Twenty-fourth street, boy; John Blank, Seventeenth and Jackson streets, boy; John Forbes, 3123 Woolworth avenue, girl; Charles Grestinger, 4022 North Twenty-fourth street, boy; Kenneth Hiatt, Fortney-fifth and Grant streets, boy; W. E. Burroughs, 2224 Fortney avenue, girl; Carl Fischer, 2207 Military avenue, boy; H. W. Wendell, 2224 South Sixth street, boy. Deaths—Anna J. Spilling, 78 Spilling street; Teddy Katoke, 21 Fortieth and Poppleton avenue; George Riley, 48, 816 North Twenty-fifth street; Mrs. E. Alice Smith, 2212 Vincent street; Edna F. Hamilton, 24, 719 North Twenty-second street; Willie P. Smith, 2.

Business Men Refuse to Hire Drinking Men—Because they feel that their business interests demand clear heads and cool heads as well as an ability to perform manual labor. The man who attempts to keep his mental faculties whetted up to the point of brilliancy is making the greatest mistake of his life, for it is a well-known fact that narcotics destroy not only nervous energy, but the nerve that saves, so that it is only a question of time when the man who is stimulating himself by intoxicants today will find himself straggled, with health broken and pocketbook empty—and, in fact, so undesirable from the employers' viewpoint that he will be unable to give his services, aside from expecting much of a compensation.

The Neal Three-day Cure has permanently cured hundreds, regardless of how much or how long a man may have drunk. The medicine used is a vegetable alternative tonic, which does not contain any alcohol, free from narcotic drugs and other objectionable features, so that there are no dangers of an ailment to the patient taking the Neal Cure. Drug addicts also treated.

The Omaha Neal Institute is located at 1502 South Tenth street. Patients are received at all hours. The genuine Neal cure is also sold at 1502 West Charles street, Grand Island, Neb. For full information address Neal Institute Co., O. B., 1502 South Tenth St.

MAYOR ASKS LAWS ENFORCED

Writes Chief of Police Donahue a Letter of Instructions.

MAY AMEND THE LIQUOR LAWS

Some Councilmen Favor Making the Possession of a Government License Prima Facie Evidence of the Sale of Liquors.

A liquor reform that springs from the office of the mayor was inaugurated Monday morning when Mayor Dahman sent Chief of Police Donahue a letter of instructions, asking for a strict enforcement of all liquor laws. Further restrictions upon the sale of intoxicants is promised in a scheme now being agitated by various city officials for having the courts recognize the possession of a government license as evidence of being in the liquor selling business.

The mayor's letter was not a complaint against existing conditions and he specified carefully that the difficulty in enforcing the laws was obvious. "I realize the difficulty in such cases of a strict enforcement of the laws and ordinances," he says, "referring to sales, clubs and questionable residences." "At the same time I wish to the extent that it is practical or possible to do so, to maintain in Omaha a strict enforcement of all laws and ordinances of the city."

The mayor gives as the occasion of his instructions the numerous complaints he has received since returning from his vacation after the campaign. Chief Donahue sent the letter to police headquarters with orders to put two detectives on this special work and carry out the instructions. "It all falls under the head of routine business," said the chief, "and there will be the same precaution taken that has been observed and that would have been taken without special orders."

Would Change Ordinance. City Prosecutor Dickinson, Councilman Charles M. Davis and others are planning to ask the council to pass an ordinance which will make the possession of a government license prima facie evidence of the practice of selling liquor and all people who hold a government license will be required to take out a city license or pay a fine.

This move has been contemplated for a long time as one of the chief difficulties in enforcing the liquor laws is in dealing with the people who respect the federal authorities by getting a license from them and then evade the state statutes. There is some question about the possibility of making such a law enforceable, but it will be tried as a means of making disorderly houses live up to the Stoumub law, according to the councilman.

Story of Young Girl Gets Father in Jail

Forced to Go to Railroad Yards for Coal Because Father Would Not Work.

Brought into juvenile court on a charge of delinquency for staying out of school and picking up coal in the railroad yards, Regina Badura, 10 years old, pretty daughter of Tony Badura, Fortieth and K streets, South Omaha, told a story which resulted in the placing of the father under arrest. Her fearful story showed that the failure of the father to work and support his family and not any unwillingness of the child to be good, is responsible for the situation.

Regina and her father took seats near Judge A. C. Troup, acting as judge of the juvenile court, and the little one in answer to the court's questions said that she was in school until her mother, who is sick, told her to remain at home and do the housework; that her mother told her to go to the railroad yards and pick up coal with other little girls because there was no coal in the house and no money with which to purchase any. The little girl cried from fear until the judge and other officers of the court assured her that no one would harm her.

Juvenile officers testified that Badura has not worked for a year. The man exhibited a slightly swollen wrist and asserted that it disables him. Neighbors of the Baduras testified that the family lives only by the donations of sympathetic friends; that Badura could work if he wished to, since he occasionally has worked a day or two. They said he does not abuse his family, but merely does not support it.

It was decided that a few days in jail may make the man change his opinion regarding his physical inability to work.

Trio of Crooks Gets Fifteen Days Each

Judge Crawford Sentences Old Offenders Who Face Other Charges.

George Morrissey, Henry Pape and Lottie Henry, a trio up on various charges were given fifteen days in jail on the last charge brought against them by the station. Morrissey is now held to the district court on two charges and Pape on one.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES HOLD FAIR IN THE BEE ROTUNDA

Sale of Handwork of the Women of Park Wild Home—Luncheon Served.

A twofold interest was aroused by the fair which the Associated Charities held in the Bee rotunda fair headquarters Monday—interest in the wares themselves and interest in their manufacturers. The goods were for the most part the handwork of the women who find needed employment at the industrial department at Park Wild home, making aprons, comforters and rugs.

The act booth, Mrs. Clara Burkank, president of the Frances Willard Women's Christian Temperance union, was in charge. Those who assisted in other departments were Mrs. J. P. White, Mrs. H. D. Neely, Mrs. L. M. Lord, Mrs. E. G. McGilton, Mrs. F. J. Berra, Mrs. W. E. Bingham, Mrs. Hampton, Mrs. J. M. Richards and Mrs. W. E. Berra.

At noon luncheon was served and included several hot dishes. The viands for the luncheon and supper were all donated. The supper hours are from 5:30 to 7 p. m.

Boy Bargains for Jack Rabbits and Gets Over-Supply

Victor Wiles Asks for Some Speedy Jacks and Gets Them Galore.

"And we shoot jack rabbits four feet long there all the time," concluded the stranger at the Union station in describing his home county.

Victor Wiles, an Omaha boy living at 1259 South Tenth street, was impressed and immediately put in a demand for a jack rabbit or two for his Christmas dinner.

"Sure," said the stranger, who gave his name as Farmer Bill Jamieson of Hiawatha, Kan.

Two days after he left for home a telegram came saying jack rabbits were on the way. Since that time Wiles has received anywhere from two to fifteen jack rabbits at a time, some alive, some dead, and all eatable.

At first the Wiles household tried their relations, their near and dear friends, then the neighbors, but true to the tale that "jack rabbits is jack rabbits," they have been coming steadily and all of Victor's spare time nowadays is spent in giving away jack rabbits.

Big Horn Basin at Omaha Land Show

Prof. Buffum's World Renowned Discovery, Winter Emmer, Among Products Exhibited.

People of the Big Horn Basin are becoming intensely interested in the coming land show at the Omaha Auditorium. H. G. Shedd has been selected as chairman of the executive committee, to have charge of the exhibit.

This clipping from the World-Grit shows the interest being taken in the show: It has been decided that the Big Horn Basin shall be well represented at the Western Land-Products exhibit to be held in Omaha, January 15-23, 1911.

This is considered a good opportunity to let the people of the central states know of the wonderful opportunities to be had in the Big Horn Basin in the way of farm lands in the midst of other undeveloped natural resources of untold value.

The executive committee that will have charge of the Big Horn Basin exhibit consists of H. G. Shedd, chairman; R. R. Crowe, George Randall, R. A. Miller, C. E. Ellis, C. F. Robertson, J. L. Brown, Ralph Hoover, H. L. Houx and W. A. Sicker.

Jones Just Hates the Sight of Money

For This Reason He Refuses to Listen to Any Talk of Paying for His Meal.

Guy Jones, who will be an occupant of the city jail for five days, just hates mercenary considerations. He can't stand the emotion of money. The base, gross, material things of life are offensive to him. That is one reason why he is in jail. Consideration of the prisoner's distaste for the mere mention of money deterred Judge Crawford from assessing a fine against Jones in police court. Then, too, the fact that the prisoner had no money was another reason.

Mr. Jones had completed a generous meal at the Victoria. He was wrapped in bland contentment, a fairly presentable suit and the contemplation of higher things when, horrors of horrors, the waiter suggested payment.

Mr. Jones was completely upset by the interruption of his reverie. He was so upset that he refused to listen to a repetition of the suggestion. Rather than pay he went to jail.

JOHN KANE IS DISCHARGED

Original Plea Made by Prisoner Gets His Release in the Police Court.

It was 10 o'clock Monday morning, therefore, John Kane was standing before Judge Crawford in police court for his weekly arraignment.

"Same charge, John," remarked the judge cheerfully. "Drunk."

"Not guilty, Master Judge," replied John with more than his accustomed confidence. His lip implied that he had been grossly libeled by the police in suggesting that possibly he had been intoxicated.

Judge Crawford looked at the prisoner's tumbled hair and watery eyes. Kane caught the look, "I was pison, simply pison," he said in reply to the inquiring but skeptical glance of the judge. "It was pison, simply pison. Honest, judge, these pure food guys should be on the job often."

John explained that if perchance he had been intoxicated, he had been so only in self-defense by taking an antidote for that unwholesome first drink.

John was discharged.

NO WORD YET FROM POND

Employer Says He Thinks He Simply Decided to Stay South for the Winter.

"I do not think there is anything really mysterious about Frank Pond's disappearance," says C. M. Wilhelm, head of the Orchard & Wilcox company. "I believe that Pond, after he drew his pay, just deliberately went south. He had been considering going to Memphis for some days. He gave no notice of his departure and this, while unusual, is not an unheard of thing among men. He had dropped hints that he wished he were back south and I fancy he just picked up and went."

Thursday is Home Day. Look over the bargains. Real Estate Dealers have prepared fine lists of homes on a plan so that you can pay for it without missing the money. Invest your money instead of spending it—and spending it you are when you pay it out as rent. The landlord gets it then and it is mostly profit to him. Why not invest this money in a home and turn the profit into your own pocket? Buy a home of your own, and if it is such a one as you will find advertised for sale in today's Bee, it can be bought on the easy term plan—a few hundred down, balance monthly like rent. In a short time the home is your's, bought with the money heretofore spent as rent. NOTICE To Passengers If you will observe these instructions you will assist us materially in perfecting our service. 1. Specify on entering the cab, if you want to ride on the hour or meter basis. 2. If the operator is driving too fast ask him to slow down, if he does not obey your wish, or the cab number, and report him to the company office. 3. Always look at your meter before paying your fare. 4. The Meter rate from downtown hotels to Union Depot is from 70c to 80c. For the accommodation of the traveling public we have made a flat rate of 80c per passenger to the Union Depot, from any of the hotels with which we have a livery contract. 5. If you feel that you have not had the proper treatment, don't "fuss" with the driver, pay him get his number, and report the matter to the Company's office. 6. The Company will deem it a favor to anyone using this service should there be any intimation or overcharge on the part of its employees to refer the matter to the Company's Office where proper adjustment will be made. WOODMEN SECURE THE CLUB Agreement is Reached for Club Rooms in New Building. ARCHITECTS PREPARE PLANS Commercial Club Has Been Negotiating with Several Builders for More Commodious Quarters for a Home. The Commercial club will be located in a floor of the new Woodmen of the World building at Fourteenth and Farnam streets. An official contract has not been drawn up, but a sort of "gentlemen's agreement" is known to have been reached. Both the Woodmen and the Union Pacific have been eager to secure the Commercial club, and Dr. Harold Gifford would not have been exactly eager to securing the club as a tenant in the building which he plans at Seventeenth and Douglas streets. The Bennett company was willing to build another story on its building at Sixteenth and Harney streets if the club would come there.
