OMAHA. Dec. 19. 1910.

Lie-idedly weak Liverpool cables gave west eased off as the cheming conditions and sentiment rules bearish, but a large concentrated holding in the market checks the decliner, making a stubbora and fighting market, subject to the sharp reactions. Bearish conditions still role the corn market but good buying on weak spais prevent any severe breaks and any let up in receipts causes holders to lighten values.

The opening break on lower cables was held throughout the session. Eearly self-still sales were the ower breaks and following this the market was dull and inactive. Uself sold stopping demand.

The strength of the Harr man issues seemed to come from the buying by interests commonly recognized as substantial and may have had its origin in the excellent statement set forth by the Southern Pacific company last week.

The heaviners of United States Steel was in marked contrast to the tone of the contral list and by common consent was general list and by common consent was ascribed to the prevailing conditions in the steel and iron industries. There was, however, a good demand for steel sinking fund bonds.

Western railroad officials reported a heavier movement in merchandise and the rastorn roads made a better showing in the way of increased tennage. Dry Goods Market. NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—DRY GOODS— The cotton goods market ruled quiet and steady, with agents showing a firmer dis-position in the matter of accepting late business at current prices. The year trade is quiet. Overcoatings for fall of 1911 were opened during the day in all ranges of values. Raw silk is somewhat easier.
