UMPIRE MUST HAVE GOOD EYES | Russian Lion and Westergaard to Joke About Handler of Indicator Be-

ing Blind is Past. GOSSIP OF THE WRESTLERS

Zhysko Once Met a Man Who Was His Match and Failed to Finish the Contest After Wrestling for Hours with No Fall.

That ancient joke about the inability of the base ball umpire to see as well as he should is doomed. The new order of things which is to be established in the National league, whereby each candidate for umpire must pass a test, before an oculist before he can be appointed to his position, is a severe jolt to the spectators.

When they differ with the judge of plays in the games to come the harassed official na longer need preserve a meek and lowly manner. His test of perfect sight must be on file, and if the spectator can't prove that he is "100 proof" on eyesight, where is his chance to argue successfully.

Guess some of the base ball critics will have their troubles also against the man with the over which have gone through the test with "high credit" to their owners.

At least half of the incentive for quarreling with the umpire has been put to flight. And the players, Humph! If one of them as much as opens his mouth this season he is likely to be walked from the field before he has had time to catch his breath.

Regarding Zbyscho.

Any individual who can keep track of the wiestling championship has a severe task before him. It has been claimed so often and in so many different ways that one never knows where a claimant may "bot up" next

The following letter to the sporting editor explains itself.

In reading the account of the Zbyszko vs. Taylor wrestling match I see the former described as the 'giant champion of Eu which took place with Zbyszka and the Indian wrestler, Gama a few months ago, had the Pole on the mat for nearly four

The referce of the big match and the preliminaries are still unarranged. My friend, Harry M. Williams, came would thereby have to be disturbed, and pretty close to being elected United States senator from Louisiana, and the other candidates in the race were Eward Douglass White, Don Caffrey and Newton C Blanchard.

This is the way it happened: The Louis iana legislature was in session in July 1892. Murphy J. Foster, the present United States senator, was then governor, and a bitter fight was being made on the Louis iana state lottery and Samuel D. Mc Enery, Harry Williams was cover ing the legislature for the New Orleans New Delta, a newspaper that passed out of existence many years ago. In the course of his labors Williams had written an extended marriage notice about a legislator named Boggs. It was Boggs' fourth marriage and Williams had handled it in a way that pleased the victim.

The day came when complimentary votes were being cast for favorite sons who wanted to go to the senate and had no show of winning Roll call started. Boggs' name was eached.

"Here is where I can do the right thing." Soggs reasoned, and he shouted

"I vote for Harry M. Williams." In addition, he got busy with his fellow members and buttonholed them right and

"Vote for Williams," he pleaded, rushing n every corner of the assembly room. And nearly everybody did.

The roll clerk had reached the letter R. or maybe it was S. Then the leaders were thrown into a panie. "Good Lord!" they said, "here they are electing a senator that we never dreamed of: somebody we never got anything out of." So they rushed to everybody whose names began with R. S. T. U. V. W and so forth, and spiked Williams' chances. He missed being elected by seven votes .-New York Telegraph.

this calendar was submitted to Julius Caesar by his advisers, and that he objected to it because Quintilis, his birthday month, had but thirty days, and because of the superstition that there was luck in odd numbers, requiring that it have thirty-one days and had the month named for him.

changed, and the result was as in the table below, which shows the calendar as it was started. Thereby February lost one day:

such a disturbance would, no doubt; prevent acceptance by a large body of the people because of the religious observances which have become fixed in their relations with it. There are also many activities inseparable with modern civilization which cannot be suspended for Sundays and New Year's day and for which it is imperative that all days be counted. That the present calendar has annoying regularities must be conceded, but how they were introduced and the natural and simple calendar which would result from their elimination does not seem to have occurred to any of the would-be reform-

When Julius Caesar undertook the reision of the calendar his astronomical advisers gave him the length of the trop loal year at 365% days. This length, though it is 11% minutes in error, which is now corrected, astronomers generally feel should have been adhered to for the sake of simplicity. Julius Caesar, therefore, decreed that each year should have 365 or 2% days. Custom had also established a length of months, which divided into this year length about twelve times. How to divide this length in to twelve parts and most evenly distribute the days is an easy exercise in numbers, and the simple regularity which is possible is something of a surprise. That the problem was solved and submitted to Julius Caesar would seem probable, although there is no direct warrant in history, for it was the kind of a problem at which the mathematicians of those days were peculiarly adept. This is the solution: March April May June Quintills Sextills September October November December January 30 or February
