Culmination of all the weeks of preparing and beginning of the mid holiday week of festivities, the family Christmas dinner takes today, even as it rules the year as the event pre-eminant. In Omaha today there are many interesting family celebrations. These festivities include all the distinctive Christmas customs, and innovations.

Cornell alumni and the college people of Omaha are anticipating with much interest the festivities of tomorrow, when the Cornell Glee, Banjo and Mandolin clubs visit Omaha, give the holiday concert and will be the lions at numerous social entertainments. From the time the fifty-five young men, who are the university's musical emissaries, arrive in Omaha, until their departure, they will be feted. The local Cornell alumni give a luncheon at the Omaha club in their honor. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Clement Chase give a reception at their home for the visitors. The concert will be followed by a dance at Hotel Rome. The patronesses for the Rome reception will be:

Madames J. J. Brown, J. C. Cowin, E. A. Cudaby, F. H. Davis, Leonard Everett, J. C. French, C. J. Green, Benjamin Gallagher, G. A. Hoagland, E. P. Kirkendall, Thomas Kilpatrick, G. A. Joslyn, C. W. Lyman, R. C. Moore, C. F. Manderson, Nathan Merriam, W. B. Millard, E. W. Nash, E. P. Peck, J. N. H. Patrick, Alvin Saunders, General Smith, E. Wakely, G. W. Wattle, J. L. Webster, C. E. Yost, H. W. Yates, Herman Kountze, Charles Whitwick, Edward Rosewater, J. S. Brady and John L. Baldwin.

The reception committee includes the wives of the members of the Cornell Alumni association: Madames John W. Battin, Archie W. Carpenter, Clement Chase, Harold Gifford, Russell B. Harrison, Edwin C. Henry, Lucy C. Howe, Herman Kessler, Arnold C. Keenig, Alvin Millard, Ernest Page, James Richardson, Chas. C. Gossett and George Casela Smith, Eunice Stebbins, Ansel Steere, William Stull, Walter L. Selby, George H. Thummeil, John V. Towle, C. C. Slocum, Arthur C. Wakely, Edward S. Westbrook, Oscar B. Williams of Omaha, Frank A. Broadwell, James A. Van Dusen of South Omaha, John B. Atkins, Samuel Estayre, William Sendentoff, John F. Wilcox and Roy P. Wilcox of Council Bluffs.

Youth is written large over holiday plans, for with its natural arrogance youth has pre-empted the joyous season as peculiarly its own. This means not only that the returned college people demand a great deal of the calendar, but also that this is the week most favored by the season's debutantes and contains two of the debut receptions. Tuesday evening is the reception dance which Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Stevens give for their daughter, Miss Dorothy Stevens. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dinning will give a large afternoon tea to introduce their daughter, Miss Louise Dinning, and in the evening there will be a 25 cent coffee, when the guests will be the younger society people, and they will watch the old year out and the new year in.

Holiday week favors first the dancing party, and these events will be numerous. Mrs. W. B. Millard gives a dancing party at her new house on South Thirty-ninth street in compliment to Miss Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Barton Millard. The Omkron club gives its Christmas party at Chambers' Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McCann give a dancing party that evening to the college people. Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Bacon will give a dancing party New Year's eve. Brown's Hall Monday evening, January 2, Miss Maraden gives a dancing party. Mr. and Mrs. George A. Joslyn give a large dancing party Tuesday evening, January 3, for Miss Jewel Joslyn and Miss Mildred Rogers.

Three large receptions will be given holiday week. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Daugherty will be at home Wednesday evening, December 23, Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chase will entertain the members of the younger set in compliment to Miss Mildred Rogers.

Mrs. Charles Offutt will entertain thirty of the younger set at dinner December 23, the party attending the dance to be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bacon the same evening. Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Barkalow and Mr. and Mrs. Denise Barkalow will be at home to their friends Monday, January 2, from 4 to 7 o'clock.

When the college people come home for the holidays they like to compare notes with other college worlds, or the business world or have taken the step into the social world. This makes holiday week one in which class reunions are popular. This year the three latest high school classes will hold reunions.

The class of 1910, O. H. S., will have a reunion Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Nellie Bretzger, 2025 Dodge street. The class of 1905 will have its third annual reunion Wednesday evening, December 23, at the home of Mr. Frank J. Lattimer, 327 Poppleton avenue. There will be a special musical program in charge of Miss Jessie Pence.

The second holiday reunion of the class of 1900 will be held Thursday evening at the University of Omaha. Mr. Sam Carrier is president of the class; Mr. Stanton Salisbury, secretary.

The Les Hiboux, the prominent high school club, have their third annual reunion Tuesday evening at the Henshaus hotel. The alumni members come from colleges in the east and west and some from the land of the southwest where they have begun to carve their fortunes.

Mrs. Charles T. Kountze entertained at a box party Saturday afternoon at the Orpheum in honor of her nieces and nephews. Those present were the little Misses Elizabeth Nicholson, Gretchen Eastman, Katherine Davis, Eleanor Kountze, Master Meredith Nicholson, Jr., Lionel Nicholson, Denman Kountze and Mrs. Kountze. Earl Gannett, Jack Baldwin, Richard Baum, Ben Woodson, George Engler, Ed George, Lieutenant Watson, Captain Talbot.

The senior hop of the class of 1911 of the Omaha High school was held Friday evening at Chambers' and was an exceedingly pleasant expression of the holiday spirit. These Christmas trees decorated with Christmas trinkets shared honors with the decorations of the class colors, orange and black, and the big school colors, purple and white. A feature of the decorations was Les Hiboux' cozy corner. The color scheme was gray and black and colored lights lined the curtains that formed the entrance to it. The committee, which is to be congratulated on the good time they gave their guests, included Messrs. Voyle Hector and Leonard Marshall. The grand march was led by Mr. Leonard Marshall and Miss Muriel Baldwin.

Christmas trees and Christmas bells brilliantly illuminated formed an appropriate decoration for the Christmas dancing party given last evening at Chambers' assembly by the members of the Omaha Junior club. A large Christmas tree of holly and mistletoe completely covered the large central chandelier, and Christmas trees were placed around the room. The room was carpeted with ropes of Christmas greens which extended from the center chandelier to the balcony, where wreaths of red and green were suspended. For supper, which was served at 12 o'clock, the guests were seated at small tables in the supper room where Christmas decorations were also used. The committee in charge was Mr. Harry Koch, Mr. Edward

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING.

The constitutional amendments giving women the right to vote in the state of Washington was adopted at the recent election by a majority of more than 22,000. Mrs. Antoinette D. Leach is said to be the only woman in the country who is president of a bar association in which the membership includes men. Leach is the only woman lawyer in Sullivan county, Illinois. She was a candidate for the legislature at the recent election.

Miss Louise Stanwood, a special student in Radcliffe college, has won in the play competition of the Harvard Dramatic club. Miss Stanwood's play "The Progress of Mrs. Alexander" has been accepted by the club and will be presented in December. The competition was open to both Harvard and Radcliffe students.

Miss Della Sharp has just been declared elected circuit clerk in Jasper county, Missouri, after a strongly contested campaign. Her opponent was one of the most popular farmers in the county. Miss Sharp is described as a keen business woman and very attractive in looks. She was admitted to the bar in 1901. She was deputy circuit clerk for more than twelve years before her election as clerk. During her campaign she visited the mining districts, where she went down into the mines and talked to the men at work. It was in this part of the county that she received her largest vote.

Miss Edith Cameron had one of the finest exhibitions at the national apple show in Chicago. Miss Cameron's home is White Salmon, Wash., and she is the executive secretary and field representative of a commercial apple growers' association of women and ranchers in her state. She is said to have ridden more than 300 miles on her pony to gather the apples for her exhibit. Miss Agnes Duane-Cameron has been sent to England by the Canadian government to lecture on the advisability of emigrating to Canada. Before going over to the other country Miss Duane-Cameron traveled extensively over Canada for the purpose of investigation, the means for doing this being furnished by the government. She proved so successful that the Australian government has followed the example of Canada by sending Miss Beatrice Grimshaw to explore Papua, British New Guinea with reference to its opportunities for settlers.
