Alaska's Largest Bank Fails as Result of Investment Loss

Biggest Buyer of Miners' Gold Dust Will Pay Only Fifty Cents on Dollar.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Jan. 6.—The Washington-Alaska bank, which has $1,000,000 on deposit, suspended payment last night, and E. W. Hawkins was appointed receiver by the federal court today.
 The cause assigned was the failure of Vice President Jackson to realize on money invested in the Gold Star Lumber company. Several depositors with claims of $1,000 attached the bank's property, and this led to the suspension.
 The town is perfectly orderly. All other banks are sound and there was no run on any of them. The suspended bank is expected to pay 50 cents on the dollar.
 SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 6.—The Washington-Alaska bank was the biggest bank in Alaska and handled practically all the Tanana gold product, buying the dust from the miners and shipping it to the Seattle assay office.
 Because this gold was shipped in care of the Washington Trust company, Seattle, the latter institution was required to have a financial interest in the Washington-Alaska bank, but it acted only as agent. The bank was owned altogether by wealthy northern miners. E. L. Barnett of Seattle was president. Barnett is one of the most prominent Tanana gold operators. The gold product of the Tanana district has fallen off in the last two seasons, because of the exhaustion of the richest placers. Dredging and lode mining has only begun.

FAVOR NORTH PLATTE PROJECT

Army Engineers' Report on Reclamation Plan for River Improvement.
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The report of the special board of army engineers appointed to examine various reclamation projects states that the engineers visited the North Platte irrigation project last August and reported upon it favorably.
 The North Platte project includes a storage reservoir above the Pathfinder dam, located three miles below the junction of the Sweetwater and the North Platte rivers, the utilization of the channel of the North Platte for a distance of 20 miles to conduct the stored water to the area to be irrigated; diversion dams at several points in the lower river and the main canals and laterals necessary to distribute the water over the lands.
 This project is interstate in its character, being located partly in Nebraska and partly in Wyoming. The area in the part of the project is approved. The interstate unit is 125,270 acres in extent, of which about 44 per cent is public land.
 The area on the Goshute Park unit (not yet approved) is about 20,000 acres, of which about 75 per cent is public land.
 The water supply available depends on prior rights of settlers. There is a sufficient supply for the interstate unit and probably for the entire proposed Goshute Park unit. Any considerable extension beyond the present approved unit should not be begun until the water rights of the stream are adjudicated in the federal courts and the rights of the government definitely known.
 The total estimated cost of the Pathfinder dam is $1,750,000, of which $1,400,000 has been expended; that on the interstate unit is $1,670,000, of which $1,211,000 has been expended. The interstate unit is 80 per cent completed.
 The land in the interstate unit can bear the construction charge of $6 and that of the proposed Fort Laramie unit can bear a probable charge of $6 per acre. The

RECEPTION CLOSES FIRST DAY OF NEW ADMINISTRATION

Governor, Former Governor, Their Wives and Other Officers and Spouses Are in Line.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 6.—(Special Telegram.)—The governor's reception was a hospitable affair, in spite of the lack of the usual ball, and the fact that the lights went out twice for half an hour at a time. The state house was crowded tonight from 5 to 10. The downstairs halls were dark and the guests were kept going in the right direction and up the right stairways by members of the National guard. E. H. Phelps, the new adjutant general, had charge of the reception and stood at the head of the receiving line, which was drawn in a circle on the cleared floor of the house chamber. The guests were introduced to him by his predecessor, Adjutant General Hartman and by him to Governor Shallenbarger and by him to Governor Shallenbarger and his wife. Next in line stood the new executive and wife and then the state officers of the new and old administrations and members of the supreme court. Ten colonels of the governor's staff who stood at the end of the line were: H. J. Hill, Lincoln; E. J. Shinn, Beatrice; W. E. Straub, Lincoln; R. E. Piller, Pullerton; A. D. Fetterman, Omaha; J. H. Kelly, Gothenburg; B. F. Marshall, Omaha; F. W. Brown, Jr., Lincoln; A. P. Fitzsimmons, Tecumseh, and Charles Smith, Miligan.
 From the house chamber the crowd was led to the senate chamber, where a large orchestra was playing and a score or more of young women were dispensing punch and cake. These young women were: Helen House, Helen Ayre, Eva Placock, Gertrude DeWitt, Hattie Mackay, Alice Schintaffer, Amelia Wood, Ethel Burt, Eva Moran, Fay Osterhaus of David City; Elsie Nepper, Lucille Downing, and the Misses Lapp, Miller, Hunter, Luckey, Janouch, Rowland, Kunkle of Lincoln; Mrs. L. B. Fuller, wife of the governor's secretary, had charge of the serving.
 There was very little formality evident at the reception, but the new state officers and the members of the legislature and their families showed a real desire to get acquainted with each other. The orchestra was playing until nearly 11 o'clock and the crowd was coming and going until that hour.

BANDITS ROB HOTEL SAFE

Two Men Force Clerk and Porter into Basement and Secure Five Thousand.

EL PASO, Jan. 6.—Two masked bandits entered the office of the Angus hotel today and robbed the safe of about $5,000 in cash and jewelry. The clerk and porter were forced into the basement at the point of revolvers. Thirteen safety deposit boxes were extracted and carried away.
 Late this afternoon the boxes were found in the basement of the Angelus theater adjoining the hotel. All had been broken.
 The bandits forced the night clerk to deliver the key to the inner door of the safe before driving him into the basement. One man then stood guard in the basement while the other opened and looted the safe. The combination was not set.
 About twenty-five boxes containing several thousand dollars in cash and diamonds were left untouched. The hotel cash box yielded $900. One box left behind is said to have contained $6,000 in gold. Up to a late hour tonight no arrests had been made.

PLYMOUTH ROCKS CHAMPIONED

National Association Selects Topeka in Preference to Chicago for Next Meeting.
 TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 6.—The National Barred Plymouth Rock club in session here today, selected Topeka in preference to Chicago as the location of its 1911 western show.
 A committee was named to select judges for the Barred Rock classes in the New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Topeka poultry shows for 1911. A national propaganda to restore the breed of fowl to popular favor was decided upon. S. T. Dwyer of St. Joseph, Mo., was elected national president; M. W. Baldwin, Sioux City, Ia., vice president, and A. G. Smith, Waltham, Mass., secretary-treasurer.

MAINE SENATE PASSES BILL REPEALING THE LIQUOR LAW

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 6.—Fred W. Plaisted of this city took the oath of office in the hall of representatives today and is now governor of the state of Maine, the first democrat to hold the office in thirty years, or since the completion of the term of his father, the late General Harris M. Plaisted.
 In his inaugural address Governor Plaisted said:—
 "We are bound to enact a direct primary law. Nominations for governor and representatives to congress may well be made by direct primary."
 "We shall without doubt join other states in asking for an amendment to the national constitution permitting the election

PECULIAR SUIT BEGUN BY MASSENA WOMAN

Action for Heavy Damages Instituted by Mrs. Gaskill Against Wealthy Farmer.

ATLANTIC, Ia., Jan. 6.—(Special Telegram.)—A sensational suit for "damages" was filed here this afternoon by Alice Gaskill of Massena against Matthew Taylor, a farmer of the same neighborhood. Mrs. Gaskill makes a statutory allegation occurring when she was a young girl of 16 by Taylor twenty years ago. She is now the widow of Charles Gaskill and the mother of four children.
 Mrs. Gaskill charges that two of her children are the offspring of Taylor and that Taylor was instrumental in persuading her to have her husband sent to an insane asylum, where he died. She states in her petition that last summer she arranged to marry Taylor as soon as the husband was out of the way. He did die and the marriage was set for November 25 last fall and she procured her wedding clothes, but the farmer failed to meet the engagement. Later she says he told her he had changed his mind and would not marry her.
 Mrs. Gaskill asks an injunction against Taylor, restraining him from disposing of any of his property. He is the owner of 220 acres of fine land and of personal property amounting in all to $20,000.
