Green Seal of Quality

Particular buyers are seeking chairs that create atmosphere, that kind of chairs which is well designed, solidly constructed and made to combine beauty and comfort. Discerning people demand this kind because these essentials make character in chairs, adding charm and grace to home and causing one to take pride in these adorning possessions. It is a sea of such chairs that we are showing during our annual January sale-chairs for the dining room, chairs for the living room, chairs for the nursery, front room, parlor, hall and office. Looking over these, it is easy to picture the loved motherly form which should be sewing in that low mahogany rocker. It is not hard to call to mind the fair young woman who should be leaning her pretty head against the soft upholstery of that Elizabethan chair. No flight of imagination is needed to see the tired father who should be stretched out in that roomy Morris chair while clouds of smoke lift him across the library table, where sits little Jack getting his lessons. Many such endearing chairs are included in our Green Seal of Quality stock which is being sold at prices running from 25 to 50 per cent below the original
