THE BEE: OMAHA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 14, 1911.

Saturday is Sure to be a Big Day at Our GREAT ONE-HALF OFF SALE Of Suits and Over-Garments

About 400 Raincoats and Top Coats Now Included

Our established policy of opening each season with all new goods, requires us to offer about 400 of the season's most desirable Rain and Top Coats at exactly half the regular selling prices. Every garment precisely the same as next springs's styles. To carry them over would mean profit for us, but loss of prestige. We prefer the prestige. Hence, 400 fellows are going to get highly desirable light weight overgarments at wonderfully low prices. You had better be one of them.

No Clothing Store Ever Before Conducted Such a Sale

A year ago the success of our clean-up sale surprised us. Last July, when the selling was confined to light weight suits, we exceeded our JANUARY record, were wonderfully surprised and thought the limit of possible business had been reached. This sale, so far, is a full third greater than our Januar sale, and the percentage of increase grows each day as the facts get heralded about. The precautions token to relieve the congested conditions of our most spacious store during this sale were useless. The people have learned considerable about sales since this store opened and were more eager than ever to secure such honest clothes at such honest reductions.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Jan. M .-- (Special.) The board of insanity, composed of Alpha Morgan, Dr. Willis Tallbott and District Clerk George Mair, this afternoon passed on the case of Mrs. Nettle Mohatt, who confessed before the coroner's jury to having killed her child last Tuesday night by means of carbolic acid. The board examined the woman closely as to her mental condition, and found her incapable of realizing the enormity of her crime. J. R. Mohatt, the husband, testified that he had accused his wife of infidelity bacause he thought his suspicions well grounded, but had never suggested she kill the infant on this account. He further said she was 15 years old when he married her sight years ago, and had borne him six children.

The board decided Mrs. Mohatt was in saus and committed her to the care of Shertff Kennedy, who will take her to ingieside Saturday morning. The woman ious to go to the asylum.
