

A Notable Dress Sale

Noteworthy—because of unusual pricing upon unusual dresses.

Small women who appreciate exclusiveness of style and rare beauty in dress will herald this once-a-year buying chance with delight.

$25 SILK DRESSES $15

A showing of charming styles, suitable for evening, party or street wear—that are really exceptional $25.00 values—now offered at $15.00. Includes crepe de chine, silk, and crepe dresses, in sizes 32 to 38—a showing and sale that will NOT be repeated.

$19.75 Wool Dresses $12.50

The one-piece Wool Dress is more popular than ever and will continue so. This large showing embraces light and dark colorings, in mohair, batiste, cashmere and worsteds—sizes 32 to 38. Choice of about 30 styles. $12.50

New "Palm Beach" Suits and Coats for spring now on display.

BINSONE & THORNE CO.

1518-1520 FARNAM STREET

Sections will be discussed by Prof. Holden in his lecture at the show Monday. F. J. Kilkick, chairman of the Commercial Club Land Show Entertainment committee, has designated members of the committee to take charge of various functions connected with the Land Show this week. Those assigned to these duties are William Baxter, John Steel, Henry Gering, Gould Dietz, J. Kelly, G. E. Haverstick and Edgar Allen.

Silo Exhibit Arrives.

Prof. A. L. Haacker of Lincoln, who has charge of the silo exhibit, arrived Saturday afternoon. He will lecture each afternoon this week on "Silo and Silo Making." The silo exhibit will be ready for Land Show visitors Monday. This exhibit will contain a miniature silo and samples of ensilage brought fresh from a silo near Omaha.

"By the use of the silo," says Prof. Haacker, "a large part of the corn crop now permitted to go to waste by the destruction of fodder in the fields can be saved. The proper use of a silo can save the farmer in a town country thousands of dollars a year. One cornstalk in every eight is barren, that is it does not produce ears of corn. These barren stalks are utilized by the silo."

Prof. Haacker says that because of the concentrated form of silo food the farmer can accomplish a great saving in storage space of feed. It is, therefore, not necessary to make so great an investment for farm building. Because of the adaptability of silage on dairy farms large pasture acreage is not required.

DREDGING MACHINE OPERATES

Shows the Way the Irrigation Ditches of the West Are Being Dug.

A miniature machine showing the work of an Austin Drainage excavator is a part of the Land Show displays of interest to farmers on irrigated lands. The tiny machine, an exact duplicate in every detail of the big ones used in field work, is to be seen in operation at the Land Show. Tiny shovels throw up little heaps of sand on each side of the machine's ditch.

The machine travels along the bank by its own power. When equipped with rolling platform traction it runs directly on the surface; when mounted on wheels the wheels travel on a special track which is picked up from behind the machine and laid down ahead as wanted. The machine will also travel across country from ditch to ditch by its own power at the rate of a mile a day. As it travels either backward or forward the excavator can be operated to make successive cuts the full depth of the ditch or to travel back and forth along a stretch of say, 100 feet, making a series of continuous shallow cuts until grade is reached.

SAMSON ON THE LAST NIGHT

Ak-Sar-Ben Governors to Have Working Crew Put on Special Show.

The knights of Ak-Sar-Ben will figure in the program of the Land Show on the night of Saturday, January 28. L. W. Buckley of the Land Show committee in charge of special day programs, Saturday held a conference with H. J. Penfold, secretary of the board of governors and members of the board, making arrangements for the Ak-Sar-Ben demonstration. The Ak-Sar-Ben octet is to present a program of music from the favorite songs of the Den last summer. Gus Renze, the mechanical expert and decorator of the Land Show, who also has charge of the Ak-Sar-Ben functions and parades, will arrange a special scenic effect on the stage at the Land Show that night.

YOUNG GIRL LEADS ORCHESTRA

Perched High Above Heads of All, She Attracts World of Attention.

The playing of the South Omaha High School orchestra at the Land Show yesterday afternoon proved the center of attraction. The orchestra was led by Miss Helen Hahn. The slender figure of the little girl perched on a box among the players fifty feet above the main floor of the Auditorium attracted hundreds of Land Show visitors to the gallery. Miss Hahn is 16 years old. She admits it. The young leader has been a student of music for eight years. She has been the student leader of the South Omaha High School orchestra this term.

ENTERTAINS THEATRICAL PEOPLE

Land Show Invites Theatrical Performers to the Show Wednesday.

The performers at the Omaha theaters will be entertained Wednesday by the Land Show management from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. Those who will be the Land Show's guests are: Eva Lang company, Boyd theater; "The Partisan Widows," Gayety theater; "New Century Girls," Krug theater; "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" company, Brandeis theater, and the vaudeville performers at the Orpheum and the American. Tuesday the members of the Cincinnati orchestra will be the guests of the Land Show.

WOULD SPELL THE OLD WAY

System Comes in for Censure from Lawmakers.

DATE ON ZELLER'S MOTION

any Members Absent and Halloting for United States Senator Is Without Interest—Richards Pardon Case.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

THE MOINES, Ia., Jan. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—Phonetic spelling was condemned on the floor of the house today. With impassioned speeches at first inclined to be overflowing with levity, but later reverting into utmost sincerity, several members of the house expressed their approval of simplified spelling as adopted by the state teachers' college in the annual catalogue of the institution.

Representative Zeller's resolution to instruct a committee to ascertain by what authority the simplified spelling is being used at the state teachers' college was discussed for two-thirds of the session. Though no one opposed the purpose of the resolution, an argument arose as to what course should be pursued in making the investigation. The resolution finally was referred to the committee on schools and text books.

No Interest in Halloting.

In the senatorial halloting no change occurred, but twenty members were absent and several of the candidates thereby lost votes. Representative Stips of Page county, who yesterday voted for Colonel Hepburn, today voted for Judge Towner.

Richards Pardon Case.

Governor Carroll was today asked by E. R. Mason and others to grant a personal investigation of the case of W. S. Richards, seeking pardon from a 15-year sentence for robbery. He was a deputy United States marshal at the time of the crime. Chairman Berry is chairman of the pardon board and he assisted in the prosecution of Richards, so the latter's friends ask that the pardon board be ignored.

Traveling Men Meet.

The annual meeting of the Iowa State Traveling Men's association was held today. It showed an increase of membership of over 500 the last year, and the total now over 80,000. J. W. Hill was re-elected president.

Bryan Says Too Hasty Compromise is Unwise

Insists that Only Majority of Those Voting Under Oregon Plan Shall Be Required.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 21.—(Special.)—William Jennings Bryan in the next issue of The Commonwealth will say:

Don't compromise in advance. Don't try to placate opponents of the measure. The bill as the reformers want them; it is time enough to compromise when you find you have to. If you have to, compromise. You will have to compromise still more before you get through. Take the initiative and referendum for instance. Reformers like the Oregon form; the opponents of the initiative and referendum will attack it at various points. There are three things that opponents may be expected to do. They will back the principle—the time is past for that—but they will want to make the percentage for the initiative and referendum. They will want to limit the number of propositions to be submitted at one time, and they will insist that a majority of the votes cast at the election be required for adoption.

The first objection is the least important, for while the percentage required in Oregon is good, it is not a vital matter just what percentage is required. The second objection is more serious, for if a limit is fixed the special interests can rush in and secure unimportant propositions to exclude those that they object to. The third is most serious of all. It gives the opponents of reform the opportunity to defeat the measure by the careless and the indifferent. Why should the opponents of reform be given this great advantage? Why should the people when they try to legislate for themselves be put at a disadvantage? A plurality elects when we select a governor and members of the legislature. Why for us? Why should we not pass a law by direct legislation? If those who vote for the proposition outnumber those who vote against it, the proposition is adopted. Let the submission of the proposition be thoroughly advertised, then let the law be passed. The matter to be determined by those who vote. That is much more reasonable than those who count those who vote as if they voted in the negative. This is the most important point to be guarded. The majority of those voting on the proposition shall be required.

STEINHART AND ZUELOW WIN

for the relief of water users under the North Platte, Neb., and Oregon irrigation project, and after consultation with the secretary of the Interior and reclamation officials, Congressman Kinkaid has concluded to take his chances for securing relief for his constituents under the Curtis bill, which has been introduced by the committee, having been assured by such officials that the act will be construed in a way to permit the secretary of the Interior to make new contracts upon more favorable terms with water users, who on account of crop failures by reason of lack of water and frost, as well as inability to make payments from other causes, are unable to meet their water right payments.

The secretary of the Interior opposed the bill introduced by Congressman Kinkaid, recommended by the North Platte Water Users' association, providing for graduated water right payments, and even if the bill had met with no such obstacle as it has had, it is probable that it is improbable an opportunity would have been afforded to have passed it at this session.

Population of Pierre.

The census bureau today announced the population of Pierre, S. D., to be 3,556, compared with 2,806 in 1900 and 3,250 in 1900. The population of Cheyenne, Wyo., was also announced as being 11,520, as against 14,087 in 1900 and 11,500 in 1900.

Carter Addresses Senate.

In the senate today a speech was made by Mr. Carter of Montana assailing the resolution calling for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. Another forensic effort was that of Mr. Cummins of Iowa, who continued a speech begun yesterday in opposition to the ocean mail bounty bill. Mr. Beveridge of Indiana made an unsuccessful attempt to fix a date for a vote on the Lorimer case.

In the house the day was devoted to continued consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill.

Tomorrow the house will be in session for exercises in memory of the late representatives Joel Cook and W. W. Foulkrod of Pennsylvania.

Senator Ekins of West Virginia, the newest recruit in the senate, presided today for the first time. He occupied the chair for a few minutes upon being called by the vice president.

Conference on Tariff Board.

The republican members of the house committee on ways and means held another conference today on the question of legislation to provide for a permanent tariff body. A final agreement was reported on a bill to be presented to the minority members at a meeting of the full committee Tuesday.

This bill embodies features of both the Lowell bill, providing for a tariff board without imperial powers, and the Longworth bill, which creates a tariff commission with power to require the production of books and papers and summon witnesses.

The new measure will provide for the continuance of the work of the existing board, giving it a permanent status, with probably some augmentation of functions drafted from the Longworth bill. The president has been urging legislation along this line.

The republican members who participated in the conference decided not to make the bill public at this time.

Cummins Resumes Speech.

"It is not fair to the people of the United States to ask their government to make a donation in the nature of a ship subsidy to persons unknown and for enterprises unknown, except upon the fullest information," declared Senator Cummins in the senate today, when he resumed a speech begun yesterday in opposition to the Gallinger shipping bill. Senator Cummins had questioned Senator Gallinger as to the difference in cost between sailing an American ship with American sailors and the operation of foreign ships.

Senator Gallinger said he believed Mr. Cummins was one of those who thought the cost of production at home and abroad could be figured out mathematically.

"I am not one of those," added the New Hampshire senator.

Mr. Cummins then said he believed the subsidy bill which is designated to encourage the establishment of lines between the United States and South America, is based upon an unsound principle applied in an unsound and unprofitable way.

CASH IN DEMAND

OVER THE STATE

Wayne, Volpp of Dodge, Tibbets of Adams, Banning of Cass, Wilcox of Butte, McGrew of Franklin, Bartling of Otter, and Varner of Johnson. The absence of these men from the senate chamber will probably interfere greatly with the execution of legislative work.

Publicity Bill Is In.

The senate men and ad men's bill for a publicity bureau for the state was introduced by house roll No. 153 by McKelvie of Lancaster. This law if passed will create a bureau of agricultural statistics, publicity and immigration, and appropriate $25,000 for establishing it. This bill was advocated by the commercial clubs and clubs of Lincoln and Omaha, and was recently boosted by the convention of real estate men in the state organization held in Lincoln.

Colton and Baker of York, insisting that Nebraska City has no special right to an appropriation for a state armory unless the claims of other cities are considered, introduced house roll No. 191 as an appropriation of $20,000 for an armory at York. The Nebraska City bill was a measure originating with Senator Bartling of Nebraska City, introduced into the house by Anness of Otter and providing for a memorial armory on the old Fort Kearney site.

Expression to Ride Free.

The State Railway commission law will be amended by house roll No. 198, if that bill passes to allow railroads to carry free agents and attorneys of express companies and to transport free their personal property. Members of the State Railway commission were consulted in regard to the amendment before it was drawn and were of the opinion, generally speaking, that there could be no objection to the extending of the pass privilege to the express companies. The transportation of goods is a feature which is expected to aid companies in keeping their stations well managed and to help them in avoiding the difficulties of discontent among their men who do not like to shift from one station to another when it costs them heavily to move their household goods.

Sale of Public Lands.

House roll No. 200 by Nordgren and Taylor of Hitchcock is a bill authorizing the sale of public lands. The lands are at present out under leases at very cheap rates. Some of them are becoming valuable for agricultural purposes and there are plenty of purchasers in the market. The bill is the contention of the friends of the bill that the state would make more from the sale price and taxes on its assessed value if the lands were sold than it can now by leasing them on long-time low-rate leases.

HOUSE MEMBERS TO VISIT OMAHA

Members Accept Invitation to Attend Land Products Show.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—Mr. R. H. Bassett of Buffalo, a bill for an act to appropriate money belonging to the State Normal school library fund for the purchase of books and library supplies at the Kearney Normal, was reported by the committee on finance ways and means with the recommendation that it pass in the house this morning.

Following these reports Bassett of Buffalo moved that the time and meeting place of all standing orders be postponed to the announcement on the chief clerk's bulletin board provided for at Friday's session. The motion carried. Bassett of Lincoln moved that the invitation extended to the members of the house to attend the Land Show be accepted and to accept the invitation of the Omaha Commercial club to be their guests at luncheon on the day of the visit, Tuesday, January 24. The motion carried and by mutual understanding it was determined to hold no session Tuesday on account of the Omaha trip.

The committee on commerce and enrolled bills reported that house rolls 28 and 29 had been examined and compared and were found to be correctly engrossed.

The house resolved itself into the committee of the whole upon motion of Gerdes of Richardson. Mr. Gerdes, however, requested that his colleague, Kinkaid, be called to the chair, and the house consenting, this was done.

House roll No. 52, by McKelvie of Gage, regarding the purchase of statutes for the use of the state, was upon motion, recommended to be returned to the house with progress reported and leave asked to again sit on the measure.

House roll No. 5 by Neil of Hamilton, amending the present statute in regard to the pay of the officials of cities and villages, raising the compensation of street overseer from $2 to $3 per day and raising the salary of councilmen from $50 to $100 per year, was upon motion recommended to the house for passage.

Following the dissolving of the committee of the whole and report to the house, Gerdes of Richardson moved that the house adjourn until Monday at 2 o'clock. The motion prevailed and the house adjourned at 11:04.

SCHENK DEFENSE IS SHORT

Woman's Attorneys Expect to Complete Testimony Today.

WILL NOT PLEAD INSANITY

Expert Says Schenk Was Victim of Chronic Lead Poisoning—Attempt to Show Conspiracy Against the Defendant.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 21.—No indication was given this morning as to the names of the witnesses that would be called in the Schenk case today, court having adjourned more than an hour earlier last night than had been planned. The developments of each day henceforth can hardly be anticipated.

It was stated by the defense at noon it would probably rest its case at 6 o'clock today and that it would not report to the insanity plea.

Just before court opened Prosecutor J. B. Handan said in his opinion Mrs. Schenk would not be placed on the stand by the defense. He supported it by adding that the night of her arrest she promised to tell him all about the case, but had failed to do so.

Reported Confession Denied.

When questioned concerning the alleged assertion of Prosecutor Handan that Mrs. Schenk had made a confession to him, Attorney O'Brien denied it, saying she had never made a confession and always maintained her innocence.

Dr. S. L. Jepson, who examined Schenk in company with Dr. Hupp, the prosecution's star witness, was then called to the stand. The witness told of having visited Schenk in the hospital and making various tests.

"From what you learned," asked J. J. F. O'Brien, "plus what Dr. Hupp told you, didn't you come to the conclusion that he was suffering from gastric troubles and not arsenical poisoning?"

"No, I could not say that. He had evidently some arsenic."

Chronic Lead Poisoning.

On cross-examination he said Schenk was undoubtedly a big, healthy man before his alleged poisoning, and had lost much weight since. He admitted all symptoms which he found indicated that Schenk was suffering from chronic lead poisoning and also arsenical poisoning.

Mrs. Jane Hedges, on direct examination said:

Albert Schenk told me that John had bought his wife a $600 automobile and that he said 'I hope she breaks her neck the first time she goes out in it. I will leave no stone unturned to get rid of that woman and another out of the family.'"

On cross-examination Mr. Handan sought to establish the fact that the witness was an enemy of Albert Schenk, who headed a syndicate for the purchase of a large tract of land and that suit had been brought against her.

She would not admit this, however, and declared that she was on friendly terms with Albert.

The defense rested at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.
