GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Increase in Primary Stocks Forces Wheat Even Lower.

CORN IS ACCEPTED READILY No Further Decline Expected Without Sharp and Prolonged Conflict-No Changes from Liverpool Cables.

OMAHA, Jan. 20. 1911.

Liverpool cables came uncomaged and early news on the wheat situation was featureless. Sentiment rather favored a reaction owing to the fact that there has been a steady decline of 6 cents from the recent high points, but increases in primary stocks and no improvement in the cash situation forced the market lower.

The weakness in corn is due a great deal to the decline in wheat. At the same time offerings are being readily taken and a stubborn fight is looked for before any material decline is accomplished. OMAHA, Jan. 20, 1911.

decline is accomplished.

The wheat market opened dull and slightly lower with no news feature. Liberal receipts and an increase in the world's visible supply started longs to liquidating and values decline further from the early break. The market was weak and unin-teresting throughout the session. Cash val-weight is still the main factor in determining, values.

Today's advance, while small, is more or less significant at this period of the year, a lime when packers are bending in provision circles is generally bearish, but this sentiment is more than offset by limited receipts of hogs at all markets. A fact receipts of hogs at all markets. A fact still remains that the country at large is not very heavily stocked with antilarge is not very heavily stocked with ani-mals ready for market.
