

SAN FRANCISCO WINS IN HOUSE

Lower Chamber Decides for Western City Instead of New Orleans, 188 to 159.

VOTE TAKEN BY ROLL CALL

Advocates of Coast City Assured Victory

BIG NAVAL PARADE DEFEATED

Effort to Amend Panama Canal Lost on Point of Order

PEOPLE THROUGH THE GALLERIES

Excitement Runs High During Taking of Ballot and Race is Even During Early Part of Vote.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The house of representatives today by a vote of 188 to 159 decided in favor of San Francisco and against New Orleans as the city in which an exposition to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal in 1915 shall be held. This vote was taken on a roll call to determine whether the San Francisco resolution or the New Orleans bill should have consideration in the house.

The advocates of San Francisco are claiming tonight that their fight is won and that the senate will ratify the action of the house.

San Francisco won by capturing the republican vote in the house. New Orleans' support came from the democrats. Only thirty republicans voted for New Orleans. Thirty-six democrats voted for San Francisco.

The San Francisco resolution does not ask for government aid in any form. It simply authorizes the president of the United States to invite foreign nations to participate in the fair.

Naval Parade Dejected.

An effort to amend the resolution to include provisions for an international naval parade from Hampton Roads through the Panama canal and up the west coast to San Francisco was defeated on a parliamentary point of order.

The New Orleans bill called for an appropriation of $1,000,000 for a government exhibit and the creation of a government commission.

The proceedings in the house marking the culmination of the exposition fight were most unique. The galleries held the greatest throng of the present session and there was no attempt to restrain the applause that came from the spectators as the fight proceeded.

The rival claims of the two cities recently were put up to the rules committee of the house. That committee would not undertake to say which exposition measure should have the right of way, but gave a Solomon-like decision that there should be a call of the house and each member was to rise in his place and vote "San Francisco" or "New Orleans" instead of "aye" or "no" as usual on roll call.

Race is Close.

During the taking of the ballot excitement ran high. The race between the two cities was exactly a tie when eighty-seven votes had been cast on each side. It remained even up to the 100 mark and then San Francisco began to forge to the front.

When the decision in favor of the California city was announced there was a demonstration both on the floor and in the galleries.

Mr. Carey of Wisconsin evoked laughter by remarking, "Milwaukee," when his name was called.

Mr. Moore of Pennsylvania voted for Washington.

LONG AND SHORT HAUL CLAUSE AGAIN SUSPENDED

Commission Issues Order Holding It Up Until Further Inquiry is Made.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—It appeared today through an order issued by the Interstate Commerce commission that the so-called long and short haul provision of the existing law will not become effective until the commission shall have had opportunity to pass on the merits of the applications made by the railroads for relief under the section.

On October 1 last the commission issued an order authorizing until February 17, 1911, such changes in the rates and fares of interstate carriers as ordinarily the carriers might desire to make.

In the order promulgated today it is recognized that there is a necessity for a further suspension of the operations of the long and short haul provision until the commission shall have passed on the applications of the roads for relief.

Compromise Rumor on Senatorship in State of New York

Report Republicans and Insurgent Democrats Will Vote for President Schurman of Cornell.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 31.—An attempt to break the deadlock over the election of a United States senator through a combination of republicans with the democratic opponents of William F. Sheehan was discussed today in the Albany legislature. A new caucus may be held to hold a new caucus. Many remarked this more as an effort to frighten the Sheehan forces than as a proposition that stood any chance of achievement. Discussion of the matter, however, even went so far as to name a candidate for senator on whom the republicans and the insurgent democrats might possibly agree. This was President Jacob G. Schurman, of Cornell.

The twelfth joint ballot left Mr. Sheehan's strength unshaken. John D. Kernan of Utica continued the slight gains he has made almost daily since his name was first proposed. Sheehan received eighty-two votes, twelve short of a majority. Charles F. Murphy's failure to see Governor Dix this morning attracted the Tammany leaders' efforts to enlist the governor's aid for Mr. Sheehan. Mr. Murphy called at the executive chamber while the governor was hurrying to finish up this morning's work before leaving for New York. When the governor saw the newspaper men a few minutes later, he said: "Mr. Murphy is here now, but I have sent word to him that I cannot see him because I am about to catch a train for New York."

Mr. Murphy had nothing to say when asked what he thought of the governor's refusal to see him.

Mr. Bailey Blocks Tariff Board Bill

Texas Senator Objects to Proposition of Mr. Beveridge to Make It Unfinished Business.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The sharp conflict which the measure providing for President Taft's permanent tariff board is destined to arouse in the senate was foreshadowed in the body today in a clash between Mr. Beveridge and Mr. Bailey. The bill creating the board was received when Senator Burton was occupying the floor in a speech on the river and harbors bill.

Mr. Beveridge asked to be permitted to interrupt and suggested that the tariff bill be referred to a committee, but that if he is on the table to be taken up at any time for consideration, the request aroused Mr. Bailey, who shouted: "This is the regular order."

"This is the regular order," retorted the Indiana senator. Mr. Bailey insisted that Mr. Burton was entitled to the floor and Mr. Beveridge that the Ohio senator had yielded to him. "The Ohio senator can yield the floor only with the consent of the senate," Mr. Bailey declared, and won his point.

Mr. Burton then proceeded, no further action being taken on the tariff bill.

He Would Expose Ungrateful Children Before the Public

Sons and daughters who draw comfortable salaries and live in cozy cottages, while the mother or father, who sacrificed everything to their early years, now wander the streets unshod in rage and hate the charities of the city for help.

Mr. Lynch says the law upon this proposition is very plain and that there is no evading it. The new law (even provided that in case of no living sons or daughters that grandsons and daughters may be held responsible for the comfort of aged persons.

Mr. Lynch cited several cases which have come under his own observation. He says he has heard of several more from the Associated Charities.

DOUBLE TRACK TO COAST IS DECIDED

Harriman Committees Vote to Spend Seventy-Five Millions for Improvements.

TWO HUNDRED MILES AT ONCE

Union Pacific to Build Same Amount Each Year.

PORTION ALREADY IN OPERATION

Half of Distance Between Gate City and Ogden.

OMAHA TO SAN FRANCISCO

Oregon Short Line Will Also Be Double-Track to Portland, Wyoming, to Portland, Oregon.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The executive committees of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific lines today voted to complete the double tracking of the lines from the Missouri river to San Francisco. They also voted to double track the Oregon Short Line from the junction with the Union Pacific main line at Granger, Wyo., to Huntington, Oregon, also the line along the Columbia river in Oregon to Portland, a total distance of 1,523 miles. The cost of the double tracking of the lines as determined upon today will aggregate upwards of $75,000,000 which will be distributed over a period of five years.

Statement by President Lovett.

In a statement accompanying the announcement of the double tracking project President Robert S. Lovett commented on the reasons which had impeded the roads to reach their decision.

President Lovett said that by July 4 the lines west of Omaha would have about 600 miles of double tracks.

"The entire country served by the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific systems," Judge Lovett continued, "is developing rapidly indeed. It is only in its infancy—and we are convinced that its growth in population and its agricultural and commercial development must continue; and it is our purpose to provide, if we can, transportation facilities necessary to accommodate the growing business."

"Thus, the outlook in many respects is unsatisfactory. With an increase of water all along the line, with the right to increase our rates suspended by law and further regulation and hostile legislation threatened, and with investors still timid and asking high rates for money required by railroad companies, it may seem a time for curtailment rather than increased expenditure by railroad managers. But we believe these unstable conditions are temporary. The growth and development of the country—at least that portion of it served by our lines—is bound to continue. Nothing can stop it long. We are sure it needs our railroads and all these facilities we are going to provide."

Mr. Lovett also pointed out that the railroad industry is not alone in its difficulties. "We believe that in the long run the people are going to treat railroad investments just as they treat all other investments for the development of that section. They cannot afford anything else. If we wait until all difficulties are out of the way we shall probably find our lines falling behind instead of doing their share in the development of the growing country in which they are situated. We have kept abreast thus far and we intend to continue that policy as long as we can, regardless of temporary disturbances of any kind."

"Plans for the construction of a number of extensions and new lines tributary to the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific in the west and northwest which for some time have been under consideration were also approved today, the expenditures therefor to extend over a period of six years."

The Union Pacific now has double track for about half the distance between Omaha and Ogden and is preparing already to build about 200 additional miles of second track this year.

Double track is now in operation from Omaha to North Platte, from Archer to Lennie, from Lookout to Dana, from Rawlins to Wadsworth, from Point of Rocks to Green River, from Green River to Granger and about five miles this side of Ogden.

It is proposed to build second track this year from North Platte to Julesburg and from Dana to Rawlins. It is the policy of the Union Pacific to build about 200 miles of double track each year.

REDUCTION IN BERTH RATES

Cut in Charges for Uppers in Sleeping Cars Begins at Mid-Night.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Reductions in the price of sleeping car berths became effective at midnight. Tariffs have been fixed by the Interstate Commerce commission by the Pullman company, by which the rates throughout the country on upper berths have been reduced approximately 20 per cent.

In a general way the reductions do not affect the prices of lower berths, although in certain sections the cost of these have been reduced in accordance with the views of the commission as to particular cases.

For instance: The rates on lower berths from St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., to Seattle and other points in Washington have been reduced slightly, and the Pullman company has made reductions on long journeys in the west and northwest.

ROBIN CHARGES CORRUPTION

Former Banker Says He Paid Bribe to Banking Department.

EXHIBITS CHECK TO COURT

He Says He Represents Payment to Chief Examiner Hutchins for Passing the Riverside Bank.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Joseph G. Robin, the indicted banker, whose financial operations led to the closing of his chain of "making institutions," was today placed on trial before a jury in proceedings to determine his sanity.

Robinson looked the stand and swore, among other things that he had given bribes to effect the passing of certain securities, covering loans held in 1910 by the Riverside branch of the Northern bank. Robin was chairman of the board of directors of this institution.

Dr. Louise G. Rabinovitch, the banker's sister, who is under an indictment charging her with perjury in connection with the case, was an interested spectator. Robin spoke almost inaudibly at times.

Robin said he understood that the proceedings today were to determine his present mental condition. He had hardly gotten the words out of his mouth when he was surprised everybody, even to his own counsel, by suddenly exhibiting a check for $4,000, which he said furnished proof that he had paid a bribe to effect the passing of certain securities covering loans held in 1907 by the Riverside branch of his Northern bank.

"I bought the Riverside bank," Robin testified. "The banking department that had been allowing the bank to go along this way suddenly jumped on me. In connection with this I'll give you an illustration of how the banking department is working."

Alleged Talk with Hutchins. "How about this Fidelity Development company?" M. W. Hutchins, the chief examiner of banks asked me. I said I bought it for $5, but it was not worth a d—

"Why do you say that?" I asked. "Because I bought 41 shares and I have not been able to get a bid on it."

"How much did you pay for it?" I asked.

"Three thousand dollars," he answered. "I paid him $4,000 by check and Hutchins passed our bank. This is the way the banking department does business. They don't allow themselves to be put on record. They usually require cash. This is the only proof, I guess, in the city."

Melburn W. Hutchins, chief examiner of the state banking department, when informed this afternoon about the testimony of Robin, said he did not care to discuss any statement that might be made on the stand concerning him.

"My friends know that such statement is absurd," he said.

Archbishop Ryan Better.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—Archbishop Ryan had a restful night and this morning shows a slight improvement. His heart is weak, however, and he is still in a serious condition.

Kenyon Within Ten Votes of Election in Iowa Contest

Temporary Withdrawal of Funk from Race for Dolliver Succession is Cause.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 31.—Today's vote on senator in the Iowa legislature resulted as follows:

Kenyon 59; Young 36; Harst 1; Porter 1; (om.) 3; absent 3; necessary to elect, 74.

Judge W. S. Kenyon came within ten votes of being elected United States senator to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Dolliver, when the Iowa legislature took its twelfth joint ballot today.

This was made possible by the temporary withdrawal of A. B. Funk with the request that his supporters vote for Judge Kenyon. Senator Young's supporters are intact and in addition two Funk men, Allen of Jefferson and Representative Harvey of Osceola, voted to Young instead of Kenyon. The democrats voted solidly for Claude R. Porter as on prior joint ballots.

McClure, a special agent of the Atchafalaya, Topoka & Santa Fe railroad at Belen, N. M. Justice of the Peace Hemley of Fort Hancock went also when Howe made his escape with his sons.

Supreme Court to Define Short, but Forcible, Phrase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—What is the meaning of the phrase, "go to —?" The supreme court of the United States may be called on to hand down an opinion touching on the intricacies of that short but forcible phrase.

The point was raised in its contempt case brought against Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; John Mitchell, vice president, and Frank Morrison, secretary, one of the bits of evidence produced to show, if possible, that Mr. Gompers had violated the injunction against boycotting the Bucks Stove and Range company was an alleged written statement made by him dealing with injunctions and boycotts and concluding, it is said, with the phrase, "go to —"

"I asked Mr. Gompers what he meant by that," Mr. Davenport, one of the counsel, told the supreme court, when the case was being argued. "He said he did not mean what I thought he meant. He said he had been reading ancient literature and he had often run across the phrase, 'go to —' but I might have told him that I had never seen anywhere in Shakespeare or the Bible the word spelled with a dash."

The court laughed and Mr. Davenport passed on to another point.

BARTOS RESOLUTION IS PASSED

Senate Calls Upon Governor Aldrich to Turn Over What Evidence He Has to Warrant Message About Election Frauds.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 31.—(Special.)—A strenuous debate in which sectional lines seemed to be the basis of the two factions in the house this morning, resulted finally in allowing the people of southwestern Nebraska a chance to demonstrate to the house their need for an agricultural school.

The committee on finance, ways and means which was visited last night by several hundred boosters from the southwest decided in spite of the boosters to report Bartos' bill for the $100,000 appropriation for indefinite postponement.

The establishment of a school at that point was a principle in the democratic platform during the last campaign, but this fact was soon lost sight of in the logrolling scramble for and against the appropriation. Republicans from the southwest supported it. Democrats from other sections were opposed.

Other sections of Nebraska called the attention of the house to the fact that, although it had been a principle of the democratic platform, the people of that section of the state had returned almost all republicans to the legislature who showed no particular strong sentiment among the voters for the school.

W. A. France of Hall was a strong supporter of the school and introduced a motion not to concur in the report of the committee, which was passed by 50 to 38. In refusing to concur in the committee report, the house merely allowed the bill to go on general file whence it will be taken up again and may have a second reading and fight on its ultimate disposition. Its fate is uncertain, but there seems to be strong doubts as to its chances of passage through both houses.

Victory for Insurrectos

Mexican Troops Cooped Up in Ojinaga and Cochillo Parrado.

HUNDRED MEN ARE KILLED

Detachment of Colonel Dorante, Which Was Trying to Escape from Coyame, Cut to Pieces in Defile.

PRESIDO, Tex., Jan. 31.—Outgeneraled and defeated with a loss of more than one hundred soldiers killed, the federal forces of General Luque are divided and cooped up in the towns of Ojinaga and Cuchillo Parrado.

General Luque, with less than one hundred men, occupies Ojinaga, and Colonel Dorante, with about two hundred cavalry, is at Cuchillo Parrado.

The insurrectos occupy every road leading into both towns and will not permit provisions nor forage to be carried in. Last night the campfires of the insurrectos were visible from Presido and the rebels could be seen patrolling the roads within five miles of Ojinaga. Following the rebel ambush, into which he was driven at Coyame and T. Oregua, quickly destroyed Dorante's purpose. The result was that the leader of the federal soldiers was flanked, and when his file attempted to pass through a canyon at Boquillita, a murderous fire met them. The command rushed from the canyon and a detachment of insurrectos charged them. A fierce fight ensued. Slowly the federal were forced back in the direction of Cuchillo Parrado. The insurrectos are hurrying reinforcements to Sanchez.

The insurrectos declare that Dorante never will be permitted to return to town but will be cut to pieces in the foot hills. A correspondent interviewed Jose De La Cruz Sanchez, the insurrecto leader, last night.

"We could take Ojinaga at any time," he said. "The wives and families of many of our men are shut up in the town. They probably will be killed by the soldiers if we make an attack."
