RUMORS OF POST CHANGES

Signal Corps Men Think They Will Be Transferred to Leavenworth.

FOURTH INFANTRY TO COME HERE Remainder of Troop Now at Fort Logan H. Root May Be Transferred to Fort Omaha to Replace

Signal Corps.

Persistent rumors, seemingly well founded, have it that the signal corps will he removed from Fort Omaha to Fort Leavenworth and that the Third battailon of the Fourth infantry, now stationed at Fort Logan H. Roots, Ark., will be transferred to Fort Omaha. It was learned that these rumors were founded on letters received at Fort Omaha from other members of the signal corps, but none of the officers at the fort or at the headquarters of the Department of the Missouri would go on record confirming the current belief. The occasion for such a change as is being talked among army officers is traced directly to the fact that the signal corps desires the transfer because at Fort Omaha the men say they do not have sufficient time to devote to experiments, as it takes all of their time to perform post They would go to a larger post. where there are plenty of troops to run the post, giving them full opportunity to conduct experiments. For Benefit of Service. 'In view of those facts, it seems to me that it would be a good thing for the service to make this change," said an army officer at general headquarters. "Besides it would revive the old-time glory of the It is true that under the present conditions the Signal corps does not have time to conduct experiments on account of post duty, but I cannot may whether there is anything in the rumors or not." Fort Omaha was formerly known as Omaha Barrucka and in days gone by was a very important station. It was abandoned in the early alneties and was not occupied until six or seven years ago, when the Signal corps took up quarters

Such rumors as the one now current have been previously circulated, but army officers seem to think there is more reason than ever to believe that the change will be made. They base their belief on letters that have been received from other Signal corps officers, but they do not say what

Run of Shale Struck in Digging a Sewer

Contractor is Making Slow Progress on Burt Street Construction-Citizens Complain.

Ground conditions that have never been encountered in sewer construction in Omaha have been tound by the contractors who have taken the extension of the Burt stiect sewer from Twenty-second street, according to City Engineer Craig. A run of shale has been struck, which makes it impossible for the contractors to make more than five feet a day despite the special machinery which was brought to Omaha for the job.

As a result, Contractor Jensen, who has the job, will luse big money on the contract. He has been working three shifts eight hours a day, yet he has not made the headway that was anticipated.

It was the presence of this machinery at Twenty-second and Burt streets, which caused the appearance of Donald B. Allan a p. operty owner, before the committee Monday afternoon. Allan wanted the mamc! went to the front for Allan, he and the engineering department became invelved in a lengthy squabble.

Councilman Hummel took the engineering department to task for the conditions of the streets around Twenty-second and

OLD SIGNS TELL OF HISTORY

Traversed the Great Amerlean Desert. An interesting collection of old signs was received at the Union Pacific headquarters Tuesday morning. The signs are dated tack as far as 1880, and advertise the great Union Pucific line of the west of those days. They were found in the cellar of the city ticket office and egency of the line. in Bowlon, Mains.

The signs have not been in use since 1894 as the newspapers which were were stored away at that time.

nent advertising of the railroad lands in the "Great North Platte valley" is found. The signs advertise that practically whole almost nothing. The painting and decorating letter work is of the finest. At the bottom the names of S. H. H. Clark, general manager; Thomas L. Kimball, assistant general manager; David Morris, general passenger agent, are found.

worry not the man who relies upon central station electric service for his POWER. The fear of waste and extravangance in the engine room disappear when the ELECTRIC DRIVE is installed. Expensive boilers and engines do not have to be maintained, repaired and replaced. Electric motors do away with line shafting and losses in power transmission. In every form of power application the electric drive enables saving. ELECTRIC ENERGY MEANS POWER ONLY WHEN YOU WANT IT, AND THEN ALL THE POWER YOU WANT. Every year shows further improvements, economies and developments in electric power machinery. We employ competent engineers who will invstigate your power needs upon request.
