

IN WOMAN'S WORLD

Honest

"Honest as the day is long."

"Honesty is the best policy."

This little story is an illustration of one of the other well known quotation. You can, of course, take your choice and apply whichever one fits into your way of reading life.

Anyhow it happened this way. This young society maiden who is not accustomed to street cars and their ways, because she usually drives her own electric and makes her own transit schedule, entered a pay-as-you-enter car the other day. A number of others entered at the same time and the maiden unaccustomed to the way of street car conductors and "pay-as-you-enter" cars, reached into her purse, nervously drew out a coin and passed it to the waiting fare taker and went into the car.

To her surprise a few minutes later some one touched her on the shoulder and asked: "Did you get on the car at Fifteenth?" She turned to find the questioner was the conductor. She admitted her inability to pay the charge. The conductor then handed her back a handful of nickels, the change she had neglected to wait for, thinking that the 10-cent piece she handed him was a nickel. This maiden subscribed to the truth of the first quotation.

Again. A young society matron, one of the year's brides, sent her silver coin purse to the jeweler's to be mended and received back both the purse, mended, and a shining $10 gold piece which the jeweler had found between the linings. She, too, believes, not in the second, but the first sentiment.

Musical Days

An embarrassment of riches confronted the Omaha music lovers today. The Tuesday Morning Musical club, which is the largest club of this kind in the city, gave an interesting program this morning, and most of the members of the club are also subscribers to the B. H. W. matinee concerts, one of which will be given at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Brandeis, when Miss Gadsby will be the artist.

The program for the Tuesday Morning Musical club, which was given this morning at the home of Mrs. Edward A. Cuddeback and under the direction of the hostess, was:

Sonata Pathétique (Beethoven), Miss Signe Christensen.
"Because" (Guy d'Ardouin), "Dreamy Day" (Robert Ashford), "How Much I Love You" (Frank Le Forge), "Funiculi, Funicula" (Italian Folk Song (L. Denza), Mrs. Hazel Smith Eldridge, Miss Estelle Brown.

"Hungarian Love Song" (Santiray), Adagio (Op. 34) (Ries), Polonaise in D (Wienlawski), Mr. Henry Cox, Mrs. Henry Cox.
"Caprice Espagnol" (Moszkowski), Miss Signe Christensen.
"Hoffnung" (Grieg), "Eln Schwan" (Grieg), Miss Hamling, Miss Estelle Brown.
Quintet in C minor (Op. 79), Allegro energico, Adagio sostenuto, Scherzo (Alla non troppo vivace), Allegro agitato, (Adams), first violin, Mr. Henry Cox; viola, Mr. W. Hetherington; second violin, Miss Grace

Pleasures Past

Mrs. Charles B. Coon entertained informally at bridge Monday at her apartments in the Shriners in honor of Mrs. Headrick, who leaves this week for an extended western trip. Two tables were arranged for the guests, who were:

Mezbanes—Edward Johnson, P. H. Cole, Missel Kees, N. H. Coon, Brookfield, Isaac Douglas, Thomas Brown, I. M. Lindsay.

Miss Della Jacobson was hostess at luncheon Monday in honor of Mrs. J. J. Brown of Hannibal, Mo., formerly Miss Mabel Shriver of Omaha, who is in Omaha as the guest of her mother, Mrs. W. G. Shriver. The guests invited were members of the Bow-knot Bridge Luncheon club. Those present were Misses Inez Bloom, Thekla Isell, Irene Tetard, Mrs. Avery Lancaster.

In honor of Mrs. George Charters of Chicago Miss Josephine Yong entertained at a matinee luncheon today. After luncheon they attended the matinee at the Boyd theater. Those present were Mrs. George Charters of Chicago, Mrs. Noyes of Fort Crook, Mrs. Bubb of Fort Crook, Mrs. George Domes, Miss Alice Switzer, Miss Gwendoline White and Miss Josephine Yong.

The Amateur Musical club was entertained Monday at the home of Miss Alice Kennard. The musical program consisted of Scandinavian and Slav music. Those contributing were Miss Alice Kennard and Miss Ruth Lord, vocal solos; Mrs. George McIntyre and Mrs. S. S. Caldwell, piano duet; Mrs. T. J. Mahoney, violin; Mrs. Harry P. Whitmore, piano selections, and Miss von Mansfeld, cello. The next meeting of the club will be in two weeks, with Mrs. George McIntyre, when the program will be on French composers.

A surprise party was given in honor of Miss Julia McCall at her home Saturday evening. The evening was pleasantly spent in music and games. Those present were:

Misses—Kate Hayes, Florence McHenry, Lilian Carlson, Ruth Nichols, Helen Murphy, Olga Blake, Agnes Kureal, Gladys Limberg, Bessie Quigley, Fannie Collier.
Messrs—Elmer Woodcock, Ernest Kaufman, Milton Hendrick, Frank Simpson, Whitney McCallin, Edward Collier, Kileo Bohasek, Stewart Linberg, Harold Nelson, Marvin Olson, Otto Quigley.

Mrs. Eva Kennard Wallace was hostess at a delightful bridge afternoon, today, at her home, 1824 Dodge street. Mrs. Wallace will give the second of the series tomorrow afternoon. The guests present today were:

Misses—Ella Mae Brown, Edith Thomas, Hortense Clarke, Beulah Sharpe.

Woman's Work

Activities of Various Organized Bodies Along the Lines of Undertaking of Concern to Women.

Mrs. Frances Heald, president of the Nebraska Woman's Christian Temperance union, spoke to the social science department of the legislation which her organization is fostering. In this connection she spoke of the power which would result from concerted effort of the four great organizations, largely controlled by women, which have representation in the state.

"The church I name first, as it is the greatest and best," she explained. "It is certainly controlled to a great extent by women. The Women's Christian Temperance union I name second, because we claim to be the mother of all other women's organizations. Then the Women's clubs and the Women's Suffrage association. I might almost include the schools."

The schools were later included in the discussion because Mrs. Heald explained that there is a law on the statutes making it compulsory that the physical effect of alcohol and narcotics be taught in the schools. The department gave practical expression to its interest in the educational committee of the Women's club was asked to investigate to see if this is being complied with and the subject taught.

Mrs. Esther Johnson, clerk of the juvenile court, spoke to the department on the per cent of cases in the court which could be said to be due, directly or indirectly, to the use of alcohol. The proportion was large, being roughly estimated at about 50 per cent.

The Social Settlement has invited the Social Science department of the Women's club to hold the meeting of February 20 at the settlement. The department has accepted and the members of the department and their friends—the invitations includes them—will meet and journey together to hold their next session at the Settlement hall, Fourteenth and William streets, followed by tea at the Settlement house, 1428 Thirtieth street. Jane Addams' book will be reviewed by Mrs. William Alderson at this meeting. Mrs. Elizabeth Shannon of the Settlement board will tell of the Omaha settlement work, as will Miss Clara Schaeffer, head resident.

More and more children stop being children at the age of fourteen every year in New York City, according to statistics given by Mrs. Frederick Nathan, president of the Consumers' League of the City of New York, at the league's annual meeting, recently held.

"In 1910," she said, "35,551 employment certificates were issued to children of fourteen, 6,000 more than were issued the preceding year." Then Mrs. Nathan turned to figures about food.

"Think of it!" she exclaimed, "22,560,200 pounds of food were destroyed last year as unfit for use in New York City alone. All that food spoiled through mismanagement, and people going hungry all around us!"

The club women of Kansas City propose to take actual part in grappling with one of the city's problems. If the plans of the Council of Women's Clubs of Kansas City are carried out a planned warning young girls of small towns to shun the cities will soon be placed in every railway station in this state. A placard will also be placed in the Union station here telling country girls where to seek aid.

The girl intending to go to Kansas City is told to notify the Women's club two weeks previously, so that work may be obtained and also two days before she starts, so a place for her to live may be found and a matron be sent to the station to meet her.

Omaha Women's Christian Temperance union will hold its regular business meeting in the assembly room of the Young Women's Christian association Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A short memorial service for Frances Willard will follow.

To Keep the Hair Healthy and Growing

(Marion Harlow in Women's Sphere.)

A perfect and most inexpensive dry shampoo mixture is made simply by mixing a half pound of corn meal with four ounces of amoniac. Put in a fruit jar and stir and shake until thoroughly mixed. Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture over the hair, then brush out thoroughly and your scalp will be clean and your hair light and fluffy.

"It takes out every particle of oil, dust and dandruff, brings out the natural color of the hair—and if anything will make hair grow amoniac will."

"Too much soap and water cause the hair to become faded, dull and brittle. Dry shampooing makes it long, thick and glossy. Then, too, hours of time are saved and there is no danger of catching cold after a dry shampoo."—Adv.

As if in answer to Henry Arthur Jones' prayer that literature be given a show at the theater, we note the approach from different directions of William Gillette playing "Sherlock Holmes" and Kyrie Bellew devoting his attention to "Raffles." What more can literature possibly ask of drama?

No other prima donna of the present generation is quite like Mme. Johanna Gadsby, who will be heard at the Brandeis theater this afternoon at 4 o'clock. In conversation Mme. Gadsby is as versatile as in song. Light, without being grotesque or foolish; serious, without being dull, exalting a charm of manner that no words can convey. Second balcony seats will be placed on sale this morning at 9 o'clock.

The New York Herald chronicles under large headlines the fact that tears were in the eyes of Miss Elsie Janis during the performance of "The Slim Princess" the other night, because she had received from Oklahoma City a telegram announcing the death of Fritz, the black and tan partner of her vaudeville debut ten years ago. Fritz engaged in hostilities with a mongrel cur of Oklahoma City and, according to the Herald, was badly chewed up.

It is regarded as a significant matter by some observers of the theatrical welfare, that Mr. Savage and Mr. Brady, important elements in the Shubert affiliation, have "booked" attractions in the theaters controlled by Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger. "Madame X" of the Brandeis is an example.

Lord Beaconsfield's gaining the Suez canal for Great Britain is footnoted as part of the romance devised by Mr. Louis Napoleon Parker in his new comedy, "Dissolud," the approaching play in the Grand Opera house. The Montreal and Detroit newspapers have been warm in praise of the new enterprise, which would seem to have been written in the manner of the modern comedy of intrigue. Mr. George Arliss will have among the members of his company Misses Margaret Dale, Elsie Leslie, Marguerite St. John and Lella Hepton, and Messrs. Courtenay Foote, David Torrence and Alexander Calvert. Mr. Foote may be identified as the graceful actor who took the late Frank Worthing's character last spring in the Chicago performance of "Is Marriage a Failure," and Mr. Torrence as the tallest of Maggie Shand's three two-titled brothers in "What Every Woman Knows."

A New York city newspaper prints a report that the Messrs. Shubert have arranged to give up the active management and "booking" of some of the theaters in cities where the theater going population is too meager to support more than one playhouse of the first class, that is where 25 or more is charged for the best seats. Arrangements have already been made in some of the smaller cities where the Shubert "syndicate" rivalry has been marked by two playhouses to send the attractions of both factories to a single theater, using the other for the inevitable "vaudeville and moving pictures."

Sir Charles Wyndham has bought the English rights of Mr. H. S. Sheldon's comedy, "The Havoc," now being played in New York by Henry Miller and his company. Sir Charles expects to produce the play at the Criterion theater in London in the coronation season, acting the role of Richard Craig himself.

William H. Crane began his career on the stage as an apprentice in an opera company—the Holman company. Curiously enough, Arthur Holman, the son of the man who gave Mr. Crane his first opportunity, is now a protégé of the comedian and is appearing with him in "U. S. Minister Bedloe."

Miss Nethercole has abandoned Maeterlinck's "Mary Magdalene" now that large cities and small have proved alike unresponsive to it. Her next venture is to take one of Bernstein's earlier and more sentimental plays, "Le Bercail." Viola Allen made an unsuccessful experiment with it in Chicago several seasons ago.

Kyrie Bellew was born on a ship just outside Calcutta, and spent his youth in British territory. When asked to designate the flag to which he acknowledged allegiance since he had spent most of his life in the United States, Mr. Bellew replied with a whimsical smile, "I'm an Irishman."

With a new version of "The Gay Modiste," that most frivolous satire, Billy W. Watson and the "Girls From Happyland" will make matters lively at the Gayety this week. He is well supported in these three hours of fun show, his roster including quite a number of old favorites, among whom are Joe Buckley, George Garden, Florence Belmont, Nellie Watson, Ed Rogers, Margie Austin, Ida Bayton, the three Hannons, Freeman Bros. and others.

Elizabeth Cully and Ben Heliclaire of the Musical Cullys and the Heliclaire Brothers are spending part of their honeymoon at the Orpheum this week. These newlyweds were made at the Little Church Around the Corner, New York, last August. The very next day the Sir Cullys were sent out over the Orpheum circuit in one divo and the Heliclaire Brothers in another direction. Just about six weeks ago in Los Angeles the young people were reunited and since that time these two acts have been booked together. This is the first western tour of the Cully family, although they have been in vaudeville twelve years, during which time they have played the eastern states and Europe. They are Scotch and Irish parents, born in England and raised and educated in the United States.

Practical Invention. Miss Sophie Heilbrun has invented a machine which will open 60 letters a minute. She is at the head of a mail order concern, and, realizing the time it requires to open letters, she tried to find something that would hasten the process. Her invention is the result.

Ten Months Given Clyde M. Cambridge

Young Postal Clerk Caught Rifling Pockets of Fellow Employees Sentenced to Jail.

Clyde M. Cambridge, the railway mail clerk who was caught last December in the act of rifling the pockets of his fellow employees in the dormitory of the postoffice building, was yesterday sentenced to serve ten months' imprisonment in the Adams county jail at Hastings.

Cambridge was taken before Judge Munger in United States district court yesterday afternoon and promptly pleaded guilty. Also without any hesitation the judge pronounced the sentence and the young man was taken on the first train to Hastings.

Cambridge was a railway mail clerk and his relatives live at Kansas City, Kan.

EASY CHANGE When Coffee Is Doing Harm.

A lady writes from the land of cotton of the results of a four years' use of the food beverage—hot Postum.

"Ever since I can remember we had used coffee three times a day. It had a more or less injurious effect upon us all, and I myself suffered almost death from indigestion and nervousness caused by it.

"I know it was that because when I would leave it off for a few days I would feel better. But it was hard to give it up, even though I realized how harmful it was to me.

"At last I found a perfectly easy way to make the change. Four years ago I abandoned the coffee habit and began to drink Postum, and I also influenced the rest of the family to do the same. Even the children are allowed to drink it freely as they do water. And it has done us all great good.

"I no longer suffer from indigestion, and my nerves are in admirable tone since I began to use Postum. We never use the old coffee any more.

"We appreciate Postum as a delightful and healthful beverage, which not only invigorates, but supplies the best of nourishment as well." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
