

WARRANT ISSUED FOR MADERO

Provisional President of Mexico Believed in El Paso.

PAPERS ARE FOUND ON CASILLAS

Insurrecto Leader Charged With Planning Armed Military Expedition Against Friendly Nation in Violation of Neutrality Laws.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 12.—The self-styled provisional president of Mexico, Francisco I. Madero, is in El Paso unless he has slipped out in the last twenty-four hours. So confident are the United States officials that the directing head of the Mexican revolution is still here that they had a warrant issued this afternoon for his arrest.

The warrant was issued by United States Commissioner George B. Oliver. The issue of the warrant came as a result of the capture of papers on the person of Martin Casillas, a revolutionary leader, as he was returning to Mexico Sunday from a visit to El Paso.

The papers were in the handwriting of Madero and were signed by him. All were dated February 12 and El Paso. The warrant charges that Madero planned an armed military expedition against a friendly nation and caused arms and ammunition to be shipped into Mexico from the United States in violation of the neutrality and customs laws.

Martin Casillas, Mexican revolutionary leader, was held in the sum of $1,000 by United States Commissioner Oliver today in default of which he is spending his second night in the El Paso jail.

Colonel Roosevelt and William Barnes, Jr., Sit Together and Engage in Amiable Conversation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—For the first time since the fight at the state convention at Saratoga last September, all factions of the republican party in New York state gathered tonight in harmony.

William Barnes, Jr., newly elected chairman of the republican state committee, who led in the fight against Colonel Roosevelt at Saratoga, was seated at the right of the former president and entered into an animated conversation several times during the dinner.

Seth Low, president of the club, presided. He read his list of speakers: Colonel Roosevelt, Rev. Dr. Frank W. Gunsalus, president of the Armour institute at Chicago, who delivered the Lincoln oration; Judge Emory Spear of the United States circuit court of Georgia, and George von L. Meyer, secretary of the state.

Lloyd C. Griscom, Henry L. Silman and Timothy L. Woodruff were among the republican leaders who were present.

General Frederick A. Grant, U. S. A., General Thomas H. Barry, U. S. A. and Admiral E. H. C. Lutz, also were guests.

There are now thirteen wounded insurrectos in the El Paso hospital. Customs collector A. L. Sharp and other El Pasoans have made formal application to the American Red Cross for the appointment of Drs. J. W. Yard, and E. J. Emanuel as Red Cross physicians, with the approval of the United States department, to accompany the insurrecto army and relieve the wounded. If appointed in this manner, they will be given protection from Mexican federal bullets.

Juarez is strongly guarded and the gambling games have not been resumed, but the most exciting thing in the town these days is when the cavalrymen take their horses to water.

MILITARY TRAINS TO BE USED

Four Cars Lined With Steel Will Be Sent to Navarre.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14.—Military trains, modeled after those used by the Russians in the campaign against Japan, are being prepared for use against the rebels in Chihuahua.

The cars are being constructed in factories here. They will be sent to General Navarro for a practical demonstration. These portable forts have the wooden exterior of ordinary cars except that they are painted like sheetmetal and the porch is hard to distinguish.

A telegram from General Luque from Ojinaga said a detachment of his forces had been sent to attack a formidable group of rebels who were again menacing Coyame, fifty miles west, which until recently has been occupied by federal, but now is either undefended or garrisoned by a small force.

General Navarro is reported in dispatches from Chihuahua today to have advanced to Luiceno, a short distance beyond Ahimada.

FIGHT OVER REMOVAL OF COUNTY RECORDS FATAL

Farm Hand Killed and Three County Officials in Jail as Result of Juss.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okl., Feb. 14.—Wynn Staples, a farm hand, is dead, and three county officials are in jail at Mountain Park as the result of the trouble which has arisen over the removal of records of the county from Mountain Park to Snyder.

Staples, who was employed on the farm of C. R. Hill, of the county commissioner, was shot by one of the men who arrested Hill, although his identity is unknown. It is said Staples attempted to prevent Hill's arrest.

Gov. C. H. Keiser, another commissioner, and County Clerk G. H. Britton were arrested later and taken to the Mountain Park jail. Tonight many farmers are gathered at Mountain Park.

Governor C. H. Keiser has ordered Sheriff Daniels of Kiowa county to Mountain Park to prevent trouble.

The county officials are charged with moving the county records from the legal county seat.

WRECK ON GREAT NORTHERN

Number of Persons Reported Seriously Injured in Accident Near Columbia River.

WENATCHEE, Wash., Feb. 14.—Great Northern train No. 4, eastbound, was wrecked this evening fifteen miles east of Wenatchee near the Columbia river.

The wreck is down and no details have been received.

A number of persons are reported seriously injured, but none killed.

Hitchcock Replies to Big Magazines

Postmaster General Says Periodicals Are Realizing Enormous Profits From High-Priced Ads.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Large profits asserted to be inuring to the publishers of magazines and immense losses being sustained by the government in the transportation of magazines as second-class mail matter at existing rates are made the basis of a statement issued tonight by Postmaster General Hitchcock in response to the attack made by the magazine publishers on the proposed increase of the postage rate on the advertising pages of the large magazines, from 1 cent to 4 cents a pound.

Mr. Hitchcock makes it clear that the proposed new rates "do not affect newspapers of any kind nor does it apply to periodicals mailing less than 4,000 pounds of each issue."

In his statement Mr. Hitchcock said in part: "An advertisement signed by thirty-four of the principal magazines and periodicals of the country, it is said in the increased rate will drive a majority of the popular magazines out of existence and with them the enormous amount of first class mail their advertising creates."

"The public should know that this charge is made in the face of the fact that a part, if not all, of the periodicals are realizing tremendous profits from the high priced advertisements contained in their columns, which the government is today carrying at the extraordinary low rate of 1 cent per pound and at a total cost of more than 3 cents a pound.

New York Republicans All Gather in Harmony

In the Stage World

Attractions in Omaha.

"Topsy of the Circus" at the Brandeis. "Cleopatra" at the Boyd. "The Arab" at the Gayety. Burlesque at the Krug.

Mr. Cohan exclaims permits himself to indulge in a bit of decorative egotism in the ornamentation of his new theater in New York. There are painted friezes all over the place illustrating episodes and achievements in the Cohan career and that of his "royal family." The subjects chosen for these pictures are "Give My Regards to Broadway," which is a large panel directly above the stage showing "Little Johnny Jones" watching a homeward-bound steamer leaving Southampton; "The Yankee Prince" at Buckingham palace; "George Washington, Jr." singing "You're a Grand Old Flag"; "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford's" scene with the suspicious director, and "The Man Who Owns Broadway" in a scene from that musical comedy.

Mr. Sam Harris, Mr. Cohan's associate in the enterprise, has no pictorial representation in the theater's scheme of garnishment.

Zelda Sears says her stage manager ends all her tempets in teapots by telling her the "door story," according to the Dramatic Mirror, thus:

"There were two little children who were very poor. They and their mother slept in a small, bare room with two doors. One of these doors led to the yard, the other to the kitchen. One night it was fearfully cold, and though the mother and the children huddled as close together as they could, they shivered and their teeth chattered. They heaped all their clothes on the bed, even the last strip of carpet. And still they shivered. Then the mother got up and took the door to the kitchen off its hinges and laid it on the bed.

"Mamma said one of the children, 'aren't you sorry for the other poor little children who have no door to cover them?'"

Miss Emily Wehlen is mentioned as the London singer of Miss Fritzi Scheff's most successful part, that of the little role of "Mile. Modista," the coming spring; but the announcement is offset, it would appear, by the fact that she is definitely named as one of the attractions coming to the Grand before June. She is the imported star at "Marriage à la Carte," a musical entertainment which is just now being provided with the commodity of "laughs" by Mr. Franklin P. Adams, humorist of the New York Mail, and Mr. Tom Lewis, who was so amusing in two of the tamed Cohan farces. The latter replaces Mr. Harry Gordon.

Mr. Barney Gilmore in "Kelly from the Emerald Isle" will be seen at the Brandeis theater for six performances starting with a bargain matinee on next Saturday afternoon. "Kelly from the Emerald Isle" is written for Mr. Gilmore by Joseph LeBrandi.

Harry Coner, featured comedian of "Marriage à la Carte" at the Casino theater, New York, was severely, if not seriously, injured by an automobile at Eighth avenue and One Hundred and Ninth street. The machine ran over his chest, and two ribs were fractured.

Edgar Selwyn, author of "The Country Boy" and co-author with William Miller of "All Be Hanged If I Do," will return to the stage next season as an actor. To this end he has written a comedy named "The Arab," in which he will play the title role. As indicated by the title the principal character is that of a son of the desert. The three acts are laid in Syria. The first performance of this play will be given by a stock company in Los Angeles next May.

The Oncomers is the name of a new society recently formed in London with the object of exploiting, by means of periodical matinees to be given at West End theaters, plays and plays who have not yet gained attention of the West End managers and audiences. Experienced artists have enrolled themselves as members, and the patronage of such eminent players as Mr. H. R. Irving, Mr. Lewis Waller, Mr. Charles Hawtrey, Mr. F. R. Benson, Mr. Gerald du Maurier and Miss Deema Moore has been obtained.

The B. H. W. concert series announce Miss Mary Munchhoff for a song recital on Tuesday afternoon February 21 at 8 p. m.

George W. Wilson, the character artist, will shortly produce in vaudeville Horace Hazeltine's dramatization of his own latest sensational mystery story, "In the Noon of the Moon," which appeared recently in one of the adventure magazines.

"Preserving Mr. Pannure," Sir Arthur Pinero's latest play, which has just been produced in London, is an emphatic success, and notable in that it marks the return of this distinguished playwright to the field of farcical comedy in which he was so successful earlier in his career.

After every seat had been sold for the three contemplated performances of "The Kindest Man" in Richmond, Va., the mayor of that city prohibited playright to Starr's appearance on the grounds of indecency, and the mayor was mighty near right at that.

Charlotte, N. C., and Chicago, Ill., are, of course, not to be compared as theatrical centers. Yet, in comparison, Chicago may be made that Miss Viola Allen in "The White Sister" drew $2,300 for one performance in the North Carolina city, while Mr. Albert Chevalier during his entire last week in Chicago attracted the insignificant sum of $1,700—and there were nine performances.

Producing managers are to have a meeting in New York this week to discuss the elimination of the state of Oklahoma from the theatrical scheme. This calamity is threatened on account of the action of the state railway commission in comparison transportation rates. It cost $2,300 more to carry "Ben Hur" 600 miles in Oklahoma a short time ago than it did in the adjoining states, and that precipitated the trouble.

Mayor Gaylor sat in a stage box at the first New York performance of "The Boss," but, according to the Evening World, he betrayed no sign that he had over a hazy acquaintance with such type as Michael Ragan.

Mr. Wilton Lackaye is to go into the variety theaters, where many performers receive very large salaries, although not fitted with the intellect to appreciate this actor at his egotistical best. Another masculine star who is to contribute to the mixed entertainments is Mr. Dustin Farnum, so that it may be inferred that he will not be called upon to regard "These Are My People" in a new manifestation. He is to get $3,000 a week in a short play. Information is not given as to Mr. Lackaye's salary in his new employment.

WHO PAYS THE COAL BILLS?

Question Between City Council and the Police Board.

REPAIRS AT CITY JAIL ORDERED

Plumbing Inspector Instructed to Have Estimate Ready by Tonight That Immediate Action May Be Taken on Matter.

Attorney Thomas of the McCoun Coal company wants the city council to pay for coal furnished the city jail. His demand raised an interesting point, which City Attorney Rine was called upon to untangle.

The city council advertised for bids for furnishing coal for the city jail, city hall and public library. The McCoun Coal company was awarded the contract, but the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners entered into a contract with another company to furnish the coal. The McCoun company delivered coal, nevertheless, and the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners refused to settle, claiming that it had the right to buy its own coal and make its own contracts.

This controversy raised the point as to whether the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners could enter into such a contract. Attorney Rine gave it as his opinion that the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners could enter into a contract only after it had been ordered by the city council. And if the council ordered a contract, which was afterwards made by the police board, the latter would have to pay it out of its own funds. Otherwise, the council would have to foot the bill.

A motion also was presented for the passage of the ordinance regulating the storage of all petroleum products, but the ordinance regulating the construction of fire-proof buildings was held up for a week.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

W. W. Stabaugh is President; Well Known Workers in Association Speak.

The annual convention of the Douglas County Sunday School association was conducted Sunday at a banquet in the safe of the Young Women's Christian association building. Thirty-six officers and workers for the association were present.

Miss Margaret Slattery, formerly an international superintendent, was the principal speaker at the closing meeting. She talked on the work of the Sunday school, its growth both in America and in foreign countries, and its influence.

Other talks were given by Miss Margaret Brown, superintendent of the elementary department of the Nebraska State Sunday School association, and by the Rev. Charles H. Lewis, secretary of the Nebraska State association.

The election of officers of the Douglas County association followed the banquet. The following officers were elected: President, Judge W. W. Stabaugh; secretary, Charles S. Brantton; treasurer, L. W. Edwards, and these superintendents: Elementary department, Mrs. C. H. Hinkley; home department, Mrs. C. E. Evans of Valley; pastors' department, Rev. M. O. McLoughlin; adult department, E. F. Dennison; teachers' training department, Rev. J. M. Kersey; intermediate department, George E. Windable; missionary department, J. L. Duff.

The association opened its annual convention Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. President George G. Wallace presided at the meeting which a few introductory remarks and prayer.

The program for the day consisted of a number of addresses by the prominent Sunday school workers of the county. Miss Carrie Brown talked on the question of the elementary work and Miss Margaret Slattery covered the intermediate class work.

Rev. M. O. McLoughlin took up the point of the boy and the Sunday school. President Wallace spoke at the evening meeting, his subject being "The Sunday School and the Men and the Religion Forward Movement."

The Douglas county annual Sunday school convention for Benson and vicinity was held Sunday afternoon and evening at the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. M. Lewis of Lincoln and Miss Margaret Brown of Grand Island.

The officers for the district association were elected as follows: President, A. G. Roth, Baptist church; vice president, B. F. Kistler, Lutheran church; secretary, E. A. Searson, Methodist; visitation superintendent, Miss Campbell, Presbyterian; pastors' visitation, Rev. J. C. Wilson; elementary superintendent, Mrs. Edward McGee, Irvington; teachers' training, Jacob Gehrig, Lutheran; intermediate department, Mrs. O. M. Humphrey, Irvington; adult department, Mr. E. E. Murdoch, Methodist; missionary department, Rev. G. A. Campbell.

Women Prepare to Hold Office

Gathering Held at Pierre to Form Party Whose Aim is to Seek Office.

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 14.—(Special Telegram)—A gathering of women of the state was held at the capitol today having for its purpose the organization of a party for women, which will seek to secure of field places which are accorded to them under the constitution without waiting for the right of suffrage for women.

They appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. May Billingshirst, Mrs. Janet Colt, Mrs. Florence Jeffries, Mrs. Cassie Hoyt, Mrs. Jone Russell and Mrs. Lizzie D. Laughlin to meet within a few days at the capitol to select a name for the party and to formulate a platform.

The women announce their intention of taking an active part in future campaigns in the state and to assert their rights in this way even if not allowed to vote. They made a request upon Governor Vessey that he name a woman as one of the members of the state board of charities and corrections, such place not requiring an elector under the provision of the constitution.

Song and good fellowship, as is the fashion of the Elks, was the order of the evening. At frequent intervals during the festival the great structure fairly shook to the volume of sound that poured from the throats of the multitude in song.

Myrtle Maize at Door. Upon entering the hall everyone was forced to pass through a myrtle maze that brought the unsuspecting up against a mirror, when after many turnings they were able to find their way inside.

The building was decorated with flags and the pennants of the lodge, while bunting was artistically looped from the galleries.

Every available bit of space on the main floor was filled with tables, both large and small, and the stage at the end was made to hold part of the overflow. A part of the crowd, all of which could not find places on the first floor, occupied seats in the gallery.

During the program a Dutch lunch was served, a small army of waiters distributing especially prepared individual boxes of sandwiches from huge hampers supported high overhead.

The entertainment committee, which had kept a steadfast secrecy as to the nature of the evening's program, held to their attitude of mystery, and there were no printed programs. That they redeemed their promise of some surprises and something good, was evident from the salvos of applause that greeted nearly every number on the long bill.

L. J. Dunn, a local member, was the speaker of the evening. In a brief, but eloquent speech of but a few minutes duration he made the following remarks:

"The Douglas county annual Sunday school convention for Benson and vicinity was held Sunday afternoon and evening at the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. M. Lewis of Lincoln and Miss Margaret Brown of Grand Island.
