Local receipts were fairly large and local reaction just about equalized yearstray's decline, bulk of sales averaging ferior higher. Movement was featured by plenty of action until late in the seasion, when inquiry became quiet and prices weakened comewhat. Packers purchased the big end of the supply and put up their larger droves within two hours after the opening. Speculative and shipping orders were few and discriminating. Average cost was slightly under $7.10, as indicated by popular prices for lard, butcher and bacon weights. Choice light animals sold as high as $7.55 and better kinds of butcher grades moved at $7.15 and less. Weighty and rough packing offerings had to soil at $7 and under, the character of individual loads determining the price. Representative sales: No. Av. 8h. Pr. No. Av. 8h. Pr. There was a very fair showing of good to be of steers in the yards, but this tiemand was so thack that the market did nor at any time show any strength of activity, and about the best that could be said of it would be to quote it as slow and weak to loc lower in spots. Some pretty good cattle sold up to $8.15. Cows and helfers opened very weak, buyers at the beginning bidding lower on about everything. In the end by hard work sellers in some cases squeezed out what looked to them as about steady prices, but as noted in the case of beef steers the whole market was weak and in cases as much as loc lower.
