

Edward Burdick Coaches for Basketball Coach; Training Soon Begins for Meet

BURDICK MAY COACH TEAM

Man Five Years in Sports Likely to Instruct Local Quintet.

STAR AS ALL-ROUND ATHLETE

Sturdy Foot Ball Guard as Well as Member of Track Team and Basketball Player—High School Sport Finances.

A rumor was affixed Monday at the Omaha High school that Edward Burdick would coach the basketball team next season. Nothing definite could be gained from any of the members of the basketball team, but all expressed their wish that Burdick could coach the team next year, and also for the remainder of the present season.

Burdick is well known to all high school students, having completed his career at the school last spring. Burdick, since entering the school five years ago, was always interested in all kinds of school sport, and was generally regarded by his classmates as being one of the best all-around athletes who ever graduated from the school. He was a member of the track team for four years and also on the basketball team for that number of years.

In his third year, he proved himself to be a sturdy guard on the foot ball team. In his fourth year Burdick sustained a severe fracture of the knee, caused by playing basketball, and was incapacitated from entering in athletics for the remainder of the season.

Burdick knows every trick in the game and would make an excellent coach. Asked whether or not he would hold down the position of the coach for next year he replied that he was not sure, but sincerely hoped so. Since only a small number of the basketball squad will graduate this year, the team for next year should surpass all the basketball teams that the high school has ever turned out, for many of the under-graduates will probably make the team next year, who are equally as good players as those on the team this season.

Finances of Team.

R. L. Carns, manager and coach of the team, issued a report of the financial standing of the team so far this season.

In the ticket selling contest which has been in progress since the first game on January 14, the sophomores are in the lead up to date. So far this season they have sold more than twice the amount that the freshmen have, and have also surpassed the juniors and seniors. They have sold $13.50 in tickets, not including the last game at Sioux City, on February 25. Second in the contest come the juniors, with $7.75 turned in for the sale of tickets.

Following is the amount of money collected from the sale of tickets and the different games and the amount sold for each game:

Sophomores—Freshmen, $2.50; York, $2.25; South Omaha, $2.10; Lincoln, $2.15; Sioux City, $4.25; total, $13.50.

Juniors—Freshmen, $2.00; York, $1.75; South Omaha, $1.50; Lincoln, $1.50; Sioux City, $2.00; total, $8.75.

Sophomores—Freshmen, $1.00; York, $1.25; Freshmen, $1.25; Lincoln, $1.00; total, $3.50.

Freshmen—Freshmen, $1.00; York, $1.00; South Omaha, $1.00; Lincoln, $1.00; Sioux City, $1.00; total, $5.00.

The basketball team from the four classes are $11.00. This does not include the number of tickets sold by the sophomores for the Sioux City game.

High School Lads to Practice Soon

Squad is Expected to Begin Work Under Coach Carns Next Wednesday.

Practice for the all-Omaha meet and for the Omaha Athletic association meet, which occurs on April 1, will begin at the Omaha High school tomorrow afternoon. About twenty-five lads are contemplating trying out for places in these two meets, but only a squad of about ten will be used for each meet. Only those who are registered in the American Athletic union are allowed to compete in the big meet on April 1. This includes about ten of the best material in the school, who entered in the meet last year.

Robert Wood, Benson Rowley, House, Jenks, Laydige, Ellsworth, Ludwig, Drexel, Millard and Rector will probably represent Omaha, not only in the meet on April 1, but also in the all-Omaha meet which occurs Saturday at the Omaha Young Men's Christian association gymnasium.

Mr. Carns will enter two or more lads for each event in the all-Omaha meet. For the Omaha Athletic association meet on April 1 at the Auditorium probably only a few of the squad will enter the events and those will probably not be the scratch events. For the relay race, which will be arranged for the various high schools entering the meet, the Omaha High school will enter a strong team, composed of Wood, Rowley, House and Millard.

Wells Defeats Welch.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Matt Wells won a twenty-round fight tonight from Fred Welch for the lightweight championship of Great Britain and the Louisiana belt.

Although the men appeared evenly matched and there was little to choose between the two, the fight was awarded to Wells on points.

Deadly Frigate

possesses suffers from lung trouble till they learn Dr. King's New Discovery will help them. 50c and $1.00. For sale by Heaton Drug Co.

COOK'S IMPERIAL
Extra D
The American Champagne
the purity, quality and flavor which has made it the most popular and best-selling champagne in the world.

High School Track Squad Begins Its Spring Training

Is Preparing for the All-Omaha Meet to Be Held Here Saturday Night.

For the all-Omaha meet, which is to be held in Omaha on March 4, the Omaha High school will be represented by a squad of about ten. Regular practice for the track work for this season will begin Monday at the school campus. This will be the first time that the athletes who will enter the meet have had an opportunity to practice outside owing to the cold weather of the last two weeks. Practice at the Young Men's Christian association has been going on for several weeks, however, and several of the short distance runners have been practicing short sprints.

Robert Wood, captain of the Omaha team for this season has been regaining his form and speed before the outside practice starts. House and Jenks, two jacks who will comprise part of the relay team, have also been practicing.

It is the intention of R. L. Carns, athletic coach of the high school, to enter about as many as the local Young Men's Christian association will have, as in this way he can form an estimate of who will be the most favorable candidates for entries in the big Omaha Athletic association meet on April 1. Wood, Rowley, Jenks, Millard and Drexel, all 100-yard runners, will try out for the twenty-yard dash. Of this number, Wood, Millard and Rowley will likely be chosen, as they have the lowest time on the 100-yard dash. For the quarter mile run, Albert Cahm, manager of the "Basket" ball team will enter. Cahm in the class meet of last year, finished in good time and will probably take a place in this event. Wood, House and Millard will perhaps be tried out for the 200-yard dash. Wood has the school record for the 200-yard dash, and has captured several places in various state meets.

College Paper Which Voices Students' Sentiment Has Its Little Say.

"Let Iowa Go," Says the Daily Nebraskan

College Paper Which Voices Students' Sentiment Has Its Little Say.

"Let 'Baby' Iowa go and we will be rid of that nursing job."

In these plain meaning words, breathing the sentiment of the student body, the Daily Nebraskan, official daily publication of Nebraska university, announces its stand in favor of Iowa's withdrawal from the Missouri valley conference.

For the last month similar expressions have been forthcoming from college and city papers in this section of the country, showing clearly the unanimous belief in that the Hawkeyes cannot handle two iron in the same fire without getting burned.

The editorial in the Nebraskan from which the foregoing virulent utterance was extracted follows:

"Iowa students insist that their institution should drop out of the Missouri Valley conference. This should not cause any excitement among the other valley teams. The withdrawal of Iowa should rather be hailed with delight. Although its prowess on the athletic field has never been terrifying in the least, its mightiness in the council chamber has been felt. It was Iowa who insisted on many of the bylaws that have been more detrimental than beneficial. It has made the rules of the Missouri Valley conference conform to those of the Chicago conference in order that it might belong to both. Trying to serve both masters it found itself in a bad plight and now must choose one or the other. Let 'Baby' Iowa go and we will be rid of that nursing job."

National Champions to Meet Omaha Five

Basket Ball Squad From Portage, Wis., to Enter Conflict with Omaha Y. M. C. A. Lads.

Omaha's Young Men's Christian association basketball team is preparing hard this week for the big contest Thursday night with the national basketball champions of Company F, Portage, Wis. The local lads are brushing up on their plays, working out against the regular squad.

Whether or not the Omaha association will send its crack five to Chicago to compete in the national championship tournament later in the year will depend greatly upon the result of the coming game. If the Omaha quintet wins from the champions or even makes a close score the squad may be allowed to go to Chicago.

The list received from the Portage management has ten names on it, the complete squad. It is probable that the team that won the championship in Chicago will appear here, composed of Helmer, Swenholm, Frank A. Sheppard, Hugh A. Harper, William Hinkle and John C. Schneider. Guy F. Goodell, captain of the Third Infantry, Wisconsin National Guard, is managing the team and Second Lieutenant Ernsperger is acting as an official on the trip.

The other five men of the championship touring squad are Frank B. Ernsperger, Eugene J. Janda, George Erbert, Carl Mueller, Earl Abel.

Committee is Paid Bonus.

HELENSVILLE, Ky., Feb. 27.—Howard Camnitz, pitcher of the Pittsburgh National league announced here today that he had signed a contract to play with Pittsburgh this year. Camnitz said the payment of a bonus had caused a disagreement between him and President Drayfuss of the Pittsburgh club and that this had been settled by his receiving $1,200 above the amount his 1910 contract called for.

Clever Mat Artists Will Meet Saturday

Chicago Athlete and German Giant Booked to Appear in Main Bout at Krug Theater.

Charles "Kid" Cutler of Chicago, light heavyweight, and Frank Erbler, the German giant, meet next Saturday night at the Krug theater. Both men are fast. Cutler, perhaps, a little cleverer than Erbler, but Erbler is said to have more strength.

Both Cutler and Erbler have been thrown by George Backenstmidt and both have thrown the Minneapolis wrestler, Ordean, who is considered nearly the equal of Jesse Westergaard. Ordean right now has contracts to meet Dr. B. F. Heller on March 8 and Frank Gotch on March 11. Sport men here think that Gotch considers Cutler a better man than Heller.

Paul Mortinson, the "Mysterious Conductor," of Chicago and Emil Bruggio, who is rated as the champion of Poland since Zhyvko has come to America, are signed up by Manager Francke for the preliminary bout. They will have a finish bout and it will undoubtedly be good. Mortinson is rated as a speedy man, but little is known about the Pole.

Dixon High Gun at Weekly Shoot

Leads by Good Margin in the Face of a Strong Wind—Townsend Next Best.

Bert Dixon took the honors at the weekly gun shoot of the Omaha Gun club held Sunday. Billy Townsend, back from his Florida vacation, was out on the grounds and treated as an honored guest. The club entertained Mrs. Shattuck, the well known Minneapolis sporting writer. Mrs. Shattuck borrowed a gun and broke twenty-one out of twenty-five shots in the face of a strong north wind.

The club is making great arrangements for its complimentary shoot to Fred Stone, the actor, who is at the Grandias theater next week. Whenever Mr. Stone comes to Omaha the club gives a shoot in his honor and the one this year will probably be held Tuesday. All of the old time shooters of the city who have shot with Stone will be on hand.

The scores made Sunday were as follows: Bert Dixon broke ninety-nine out of 100. W. D. Townsend broke eighty-one out of 100.

J. Flynn broke seventy-six out of 100. Dvorak broke seventy-seven out of 100. Chambers broke seventy-six out of 100. Williams broke sixty-eight out of 100. Lovinger broke forty out of fifty. Aylesworth broke thirty-nine out of fifty. W. Jones broke thirty-nine out of fifty. Kompton broke thirty-nine out of fifty. Henningson broke thirty-six out of fifty. Stahl broke thirty out of fifty.

Mrs. Shattuck broke twenty-one out of twenty-five.

Billy Townsend is highly enthusiastic over the fishing in Florida, having caught a number of big bass there. He also got some good quail hunting while tramping the Florida woods and ate bushels of oranges. Townsend spent two weeks in Florida and one in New York. One of the first things Billy is planning to do now is to close the arrangements with the Columbus club for that match shoot of five men a side.

Fort Crook Soldiers Have Field Meet

Soldiers Contest in Trials of Skill and Strength at Post Gymnasium.

The first quarterly field meet of the Fourth infantry was held in the post gymnasium at Fort Crook yesterday morning.

The running high kick was won by Chester Martin, Company B, seven feet eleven inches; second Corporal Warren, Company C, seven feet ten inches.

The running high jump had sixteen entries. First place was awarded to Chester Martin, Company B, who jumped five feet; second, Captain Warren, Company C, four feet four inches.

The first prize in this contest was $2 and second $1.

Parallels bars; fourteen contestants. First prize, $2, to First Sergeant, Charles G. Norman, Company G. Second prize, $1, to Corporal Norman, Company G. This event was one of the best of the meet.

Horizontal bars; fifteen contestants. First prize, $2, Corporal Norman of Company G, second prize, $1, awarded to Sergeant Kimball, company quartermaster, sergeant of Company G.

The tug-of-war contest was made up of the best men in the regiment. The first battalion was captained by Sergeant William B. Cady, Company C, and the team from the second battalion by Sergeant George Knight, Company G. The first prize was $2, which was awarded to the second battalion team, and the second prize of $1.50 was given to the losers.

The running contest was hotly contested by the different companies. The contestants wore regulation uniform, O. D. shirt and breeches, leggins, regulation shoes, summer underwear and had a certain number of pounds attached. First prize of $2.50 was awarded to Company A, Fourth Infantry, and second prize of $1.50 to Company D.

A great many visitors from Omaha and vicinity were present. Music was furnished by the Fourth infantry band.

Captain Samuel W. Noyes, Fourth Infantry, was in charge of the meet. Second Lieutenant Raymond D. Smith was assistant to the officer in charge. Clerk of the course, Second Lieutenant Arthur W. Lane.

Judges: Captain Louis M. Nutman, Captain Halstead Dorey, First Lieutenant Reginald H. Kelley.

Michigan Athlete Will Compete Here

Joseph Horner, Holder of Second in Hurdles at Boston, to Enter the Omaha Competition.

Joseph Horner, Jr., of the University of Michigan, who will take part in the meet in Omaha on April 1, won second place in the 40-yard dash and second place in the 40-yard hurdles in the recent meet of the Boston Athletic association, competing against the best athletes in the country.

Following are the world and indoor records for the events of the meet, April 1:

Fifty-yard dash, W. D. Eaton, Boston, 5 1/2 seconds.

Six hundred-yard dash, M. W. Sheppard, New York, one minute and 5 1/2 seconds.

Four hundred and forty-yard dash, H. L. Hillman, Jr., 6 1/2 seconds.

Eight hundred and eighty-yard run, E. F. Parsons, 2 1/2 minutes and 5 1/2 seconds.

One mile, H. L. Truhs, four minutes and 5 1/2 seconds.

Five hundred hurdle, F. Smithson, 6 1/2 seconds.

High jump, H. P. Porter, 6 feet and 3/4 inches.

Twelve pound shot, W. W. Coe, fifty-seven feet and 3/4 inches.

George V. Brown, manager of the Boston Athletic association, says that there is a possibility of W. W. Coe, holder of the indoor records for the twelve and sixteen pound shot, being able to compete at the games of the Omaha Athletic association.

Cleaver Mat Artists Will Meet Saturday

Chicago Athlete and German Giant Booked to Appear in Main Bout at Krug Theater.

Charles "Kid" Cutler of Chicago, light heavyweight, and Frank Erbler, the German giant, meet next Saturday night at the Krug theater. Both men are fast. Cutler, perhaps, a little cleverer than Erbler, but Erbler is said to have more strength.

Both Cutler and Erbler have been thrown by George Backenstmidt and both have thrown the Minneapolis wrestler, Ordean, who is considered nearly the equal of Jesse Westergaard. Ordean right now has contracts to meet Dr. B. F. Heller on March 8 and Frank Gotch on March 11. Sport men here think that Gotch considers Cutler a better man than Heller.

Paul Mortinson, the "Mysterious Conductor," of Chicago and Emil Bruggio, who is rated as the champion of Poland since Zhyvko has come to America, are signed up by Manager Francke for the preliminary bout. They will have a finish bout and it will undoubtedly be good. Mortinson is rated as a speedy man, but little is known about the Pole.

Burman Wins in All Four Events at Mardi Gras Carnival Races

Stables Takes Header Through Fence in Motorcycle Race and Escapes Uninjured.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27.—Burman, in his Buick torpedo, won all four events in which he was entered today and his daring driving was the feature of Mardi Gras speed carnival races.

In the second event, a motor-cycle race, Robert Stubbs broke a pedal and took a header while going at a 60-mile an hour rate. He slid through a fence and escaped practically uninjured, while his machine was wrecked.

In the ninth event two drivers, blinded by smoke and dust, all but ran down Starter Fred J. Wagner. Summary:

Event 1—Five miles for cars of class "A" with piston displacement of 41-50 cubic inches. Won by E. Kullik, (Ford). Time, 5:08.25. Bevan, (Warren-Detroit), second.

Event 2—Five miles, free-for-all motor-cycle race. Won by G. Chappelle, (Hercules). Time, 4:55.10. E. Wickwire, (Indian), second.

Event 3—Five miles, for cars of class "B" with 21-30 piston displacement. Won by Kullik, (Ford). Time, 5:15.10. W. Donnelly, second.

Event 4—Ten miles for cars of class "C" with piston displacement under 41 cubic inches. Won by Burman, (Buick). Time, 10:15.10. Aitken, (Nations), second.

Event 5—Five-mile race between Pennebacker, (Mildred) and Stahler, (Stearns), won by Pennebacker in 5:24.5.

Event 6—Ten miles, free-for-all motor-cycle race. Won by Chappelle, (Merckel). Wickwire, (Indian), second.

Event 7—Five miles, free-for-all cars. Won by Burman, (Buick). Time, 4:59.08. Caleb Braze, (Flat Cyclone), second.

Event 8—Five miles, trophy event, open to all. Won by Burman, (Buick). Time, 5:14.43. Only one car finished, an accident putting Radcliffe, (Ford), out of the race.

Event 9—Nine miles, handicap, free-for-all. Won by Burman, scratch, (Buick). Time, 9:08.10. Burman, (Buick), second.

Event 10—One hour race for class "E" cars, not exceeding 60 cubic inches. Won by Burman, (Buick), 27 minutes and 10 seconds. Burman lost almost a minute on the get-away, but made the first twenty miles in 6:23.11. But three cars finished.

SEARCH FOR MISSING GEMS

Police of New York Watching for Jewelry Stolen on Ocean Liner.

PEARLS TAKEN FROM STATEROOM

Mrs. Drummond Robbed of Over Hundred Thousand Dollars Worth of Jewels as Steamer Nears New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Federal authorities and local police alike actively interested themselves today in the search for jewelry stolen from a stateroom drawer in the stateroom at Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr., of Chicago, on the liner America some time during Saturday night.

Mrs. Drummond estimates the money value of the pilfered stones at $120,000, but considers them worth far in excess of that sum to her personally, because of the unique character of the missing articles, which include three strings of white pearls, 283 in number, earrings of black pearls, surrounded by more than eighty diamonds; black pearl and white pearl rings and a shield-shaped brooch of black and pink pearls surrounded by diamonds with a large spherical black pearl pendant.

Mr. and Mrs. Drummond had intended to proceed today to Chicago, but instead, Mrs. Drummond said, the loss of the jewels had changed their plans and they expected to remain here for several days to aid in the search for the gems.

Search to Be Extended.

The police have complete descriptions of the various pieces and pawn shops will be watched. Besides this, it is planned to extend the search to all parts of the country if trace of the gems is not found here. Search of the steamer failed to reveal a clue to the jewels or the identity of the person who took them. If the gems were carried off the ship, the method is as much of a mystery as the robbery itself and must be detected by a most expert smuggler. It is possible the valuables are concealed in some part of the big vessel and with this possibility in view it will be searched from stem to stern today.

Mrs. Drummond was returning to this country after an absence of nearly three years. She passed the jewels Sunday morning.

Expectations that the supplementary search of the liner would reveal some trace of the jewels were not realized. Detectives subjected the members of the crew to renewed interrogation, but no information of value was obtained.

Jewels Stolen in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Diamonds and jewelry valued at $100,000 formed the booty of burglars who entered the home of Mrs. J. A. Fullenwider, 441 East Forty-second street, last night.

William Neal Smith is Freed by Judge

President of Land Company, Charged by Prof. Ayers with Fraud, is Found Not Guilty.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—William Neal Smith, president of a company dealing in lands in Mexico, arrested by federal authorities charged with using the mails to defraud, was cleared by Judge Sanborn in the United States court today.

Smith was arrested at the instance of George D. Ayers, formerly professor of law in the University of Nebraska, who wrote to Washington complaining that he had lost $15,000 through an investment he had made in Smith's property. Others told of purchasing land from Smith and the property was in a mountain region and not worth what they had paid for it.

The jury, after being out twenty-five hours, was unable to agree and Judge Sanborn ordered the court clerk to enter a verdict of not guilty.

Athletes Prepare for Two Big Meets

Considerable Interest Being Worked Up in the Local Track Athletics.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE THE ONE SAFE BLOOD REMEDY

Preparations for the two indoor track meets to be held at the Young Men's Christian association early in March are being made by J. F. Matson, physical director of the Young Men's Christian association.

The first one is the All-Omaha meet to take place Saturday and the second will be the annual state Young Men's Christian association meet to be held March 11.

Entries for the local "Y" and Council clubs and South Omaha associations, and from the high schools of the three cities, Bellevue college, University of Omaha, and possibly soldier teams from Fort Crook and Fort Omaha will also be entered.

The state association meet will have teams from all the numerous Young Men's Christian associations in the state. Following is the list of officials: Referee, starter and judge of apparatus, Association building, Chicago.

H. P. Kallenberg, referee, starter and judge of apparatus, Association building, Chicago.

H. P. Kallenberg, referee, starter and judge of apparatus, Association building, Chicago.

A. L. Goldsmith, judge, Young Men's Christian association, South Omaha.

Ben Cherrington, timer, Omaha.

R. L. Carns, timer, high school, Omaha.

G. L. Rathburn, timer, Fremont.

G. L. Rathburn, timer, Beatrice.

Chicago Meet June 10.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago today announced that the first annual Marston interscholastic track meet in which the high school preparatory schools of the middle west will be invited to compete, will be held June 10 in Chicago.

World's Swimming Record.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Feb. 27.—The Australian swimmer, Longworth today captured the world's record in one minute and five seconds. This is a new world's record.

Stork Celebrated Book Beer.

In bottles ready for you. The only genuine book beer in the west. It's delicious. Phone your order now to Charles Stork, West 12th and 15th.

Second Erdman Trial is Now Under Way

Yeiser is Retained by Outside Parties to Assist in the Defense.

The second trial of the Frank Erdman case opened Monday before Judge Ewald in criminal court. Erdman is charged with attempted murder by means of dynamite.

The surprise of the morning was that John O. Yeiser, who defended Erdman during the first trial was present in his accustomed place, while C. E. Foster, appointed to defend Erdman sat at his side. It was given out that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to assist in the case. Yeiser admitted he did not know he would be in the case until last Saturday, but would not say whom the people were who had retained him. Erdman had refused to go to trial if Yeiser defended him that some one, who was not revealed, had raised money for Erdman's defense and had retained Yeiser to