U. P. TO RUN TOURIST TRAINS

Coach Counter Cars Will Be Attached to Serve Meals at Low Price.

Special tourist trains will be run from Omaha to the Pacific coast this spring by the Union Pacific, starting on March 11, 12, 13 and April 8, 9 and 11, at 5 p. m., and arriving in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland at the morning of the third day. These trains will be run in addition to the regular complement of tourist cars carried.

A tourist lunch and cafe car, an innovation that will probably be popular on the Union Pacific, as it has been on the Southern Pacific, is to be tried out on these tourist trains. Soups, meats, cereals, pastry and dairy lunch dishes, relishes and vegetables will be served and meals will also be cooked to order at regular lunch counter prices.

New Records for March

Opera lovers are not necessarily people who regularly attend the opera, for while the performances of grand opera are confined to the large centers there are thousands of music lovers all over the land who enjoy grand opera. They rarely have an opportunity to go to a grand opera performance, but have the opera brought to them. They look to the Victor for their productions and are thus enabled to hear the great operatic voices by the same famous artists who render them so brilliantly in opera houses hundreds of miles away.

In the March set of new Victor records the great scene in act four of Aida between Amneris and Radames is given in complete form by Homer and Caruso, the two most famous exponents of these roles, and the rendition of this dramatic scene is so wonderful that it must be heard to be appreciated. These two artists also sing superbly the great Arioso-Mandato duet from act two of Trovatore, and Caruso sings as a solo the favorite "Siciliana" from Cavalleria Rusticana, with harp accompaniment, and his exquisite singing of the delectable passage at the close of the number is worthy of particular mention. Hwey Brancha Bing contributes a rollicking airship song, "Come, Josephine, in My Flying Machine," which she is singing into success; it is one of her best numbers and is rendered with refreshing clearness. "Loving" the principal number from the present New York Hippodrome production, is delightfully sung by the lyric quartet, Harry Macdonough sings the new sacred song, "Reach Me to Frank." Billy Murray has two new hits—a pleasing, lively southern love song, "Dixie Rose," which he sings with a touch of dandy dialect, and a jolly Irish song about that irresistible character, "Gallagher." Another little dandy song, "Rockin' in de Wain," is charmingly rendered by Marguerite Demlay, in a rich mezzo-soprano voice with distinct enunciation. The Trinity choir gives two splendid songs by Mrs. "Paul" Burrows and "Come Ye Disciples," Mr. and Mrs. Wholesome render very effectively the familiar "Oh, That We Two Were Marys." "The Story of the Rose," is beautifully sung by John Barnes Wells; William H. Heltz contributes a lively xylophone number, "U. S. A. Patrol"; and there is a genuine novelty in a piano duet by two famous teachers of Mexico City, supported by vocal work organization, the Police Band of Mexico.

CAPTAIN SMITH WILL GO EAST

"Cashiered" Officer and Family Leave Fort Today.

MAY VISIT WITH HIS BROTHER

Declines to Discuss His Case—Preparations Made for Appeal—His Accuser is Prominent in Society.

Guy H. B. Smith, recently cashiered from his command of Company H, Fourth Infantry, of which he was captain, expects to leave Fort Crook for the east, Wednesday, accompanied by his wife and son. It is declared that Smith intends to appeal from the decision of the court-martial on the ground that due process of law was not exercised. Mr. Smith declines to make any statement as to what will be his future course. It is expected that he will go to Cleveland, O., where he will visit for a time with his brother, Dr. Gene Gealey Smith.

There is no recourse for Smith. The president's approval of the court-martial conviction is final and there are but two ways for him to overcome it. One is by act of congress and the other is by a review of the case by the president and a new court-martial and acquittal.

Smith was tried at Fort Leavenworth last July after an investigation of charges made by Mrs. George L. Harnett, wife of Lieutenant Colonel Harnett, commanding the marine corps barracks at the Philadelphia marine yard. He was found guilty and sentenced to be dismissed from the army. The sentence was approved a few days ago by the president.

The trial of Captain Smith began July 28, before a court of high ranking officers. The officers making up the court took not only the usual oath not to make known how the court had voted after the trial, but also to never reveal what were the charges or any of the testimony.

Captain Smith had been under an "officer's arrest" at Fort Crook for more than a month before the trial, dating back to the time of his arrival from the Philippines.

The officers composing the court-martial were of the most distinguished men of the United States army. Captain Fred E. Bocham, sixth cavalry, was the judge advocate. Captain Smith had for his counsel Major E. S. Meyer, a retired officer living in Cleveland, O., and the officers who were witnesses were Colonel Edward E. Bolton, Captain Benjamin T. Simmons, Second Lieutenant C. T. Griffin and Second Lieutenant George W. C. Whiting of the Fourth Infantry, and Lieutenant Colonel John S. Mallory of the Seventh Infantry.

Trio of Youngsters Accused of Robbery

Youths Scarcely Twelve Years Old Held for Looting G. E. Harding's Grocery Store.

Three little lads, none of them more than 12 years old, are being held at the police station accused of breaking and entering. Their names and addresses are: Gilbert Schoenig, 227 South Nineteenth street; Roy Mulligan, 248 South Fifteenth street; and Edward Wheeler, 246 South Fifteenth street.

The boys are said to have entered G. E. Harding's grocery store at 2600 South Thirteenth street on Sunday afternoon. The cash drawer was rifled of $2.70 in change, and six ingrown watches and a quantity of candy and gum were stolen. When arrested Roy Mulligan had two of the watches on his person.

The Wheeler and Schoenig boys were arrested by Detectives Dunn and Fleming yesterday afternoon on the street at Sixteenth and Martha streets. Mulligan was arrested as he was leaving St. Patrick's parochial school at Fourteenth and Casselbar streets.

The boys were placed temporarily in the station's room and will be turned over to the juvenile authorities.

Aged Man Under Care of Police After a Vain Hunt for His Son-in-Law.

Three days wandering in Omaha in the fruitless quest of his relatives has broken the spirit of William Sesman of New London, Ia., who came here to live with his son-in-law. The aged man appealed to the police for shelter Monday night after having spent his last cent in the hopeless search for his relatives' home.

"I will rest awhile and then try to walk to my son's home in northwestern Iowa," the old man said, when the police took care of him. The officers will not let him depart until they have made a search for Otto Prahl, the missing son-in-law.

BANK CLEARINGS DECREASE, FARMERS HOLDING GRAIN

Figures for February Show a Falling Off of Several Millions Below Last Year.

Omaha bank clearings for the month of February 1911, took a decided drop from the total reached in the same month 1910, the clearings for the present year being $2,420,282 and for last year $2,677,138. Various causes are given for the dropping in the bank clearings, chief among which is that the farmers are not selling their grain because of the prevailing low prices.

In former years many of the farmers were compelled to sell early in the year because of shortness of money,

Senior Officers Must Wear Their Caps and Gowns at Meetings

Graduating Class Decides to Issue an Annual and to Give a Class Play.

One of the most enthusiastic senior meetings of the year, was held at the Omaha High school Monday afternoon, which was attended by about 200 seniors. This was the first meeting of the seniors since December, and it was held in order to settle a few points which have been troubling them for some time.

A great innovation in the form of holding a senior meeting was made, when Lee Ellsworth, a prominent member of the class, made a motion to the effect that the president of the class, Yorke Rector, and the secretary, Maribena Moore, should wear caps and gowns, to preserve the dignity of the meetings, while presiding. This motion was carried much to the surprise of a great number of seniors.

The committee in charge of the faculty which will not be held because of faculty opposition, offered a proposition to the class, which was that they should ask the faculty if they might present a senior play outside of the school. If the faculty approves of this play, the committee will arrange immediately for one. Miss Fitch is to direct the acting of the seniors.

The seniors will at least have an annual. This is generally published at the close of every school year, by the registrar staff and gives a write-up of the picture of each student graduating. It also contains the pictures of the cadet companies, together with the literary societies and also all of the school athletics.

Yorke Rector and Maribena Moore will be seen at the next senior meeting, wearing caps and gowns.

Charity Officer is Running Down Graft

Miss Jontz Conducting Investigation of Records of Aid Given by the County.

An investigation of methods employed by charity grafters is being conducted by Miss Ida V. Jontz of the Associated Charities of Omaha at the instance of the county board of commissioners.

As soon as the investigation is completed, Miss Jontz will make public the names of people who have been working the charities and paying for homes on the installment plan while receiving aid from the county store.

Miss Jontz states that two methods have been worked up and she has been resolved into a highly perfected system, the number and the payment for home scheme which are the most flagrant of all schemes used to defraud.

As soon as all the pass cards are completed, which made these schemes possible, Miss Jontz will compile her figures on the number of deceptions.

TO TEST ALL THE SEED CORN

Such is the Advice of the Omaha Commercial Club.

BIG RESULTS FROM LAST YEAR

United Effort Being Made to Again Increase the Yield This Year—Cards Are Being Sent Out to Farmers.

"Test your seed corn." is the large type warning on a large placard, with the seven corn combinations and a show fall in how to test it, that is being sent broadcast over the state by the Commercial club of Omaha. By the end of this week more than 10,000 of these placards will be tacked in elevators, creameries, hung up in banks and distributed by the railroads. It is hoped to have several of the warnings in all prominent places in every county, so that every farmer in the state may hear of it.

Testing seed corn in Nebraska last year increased the yield of the state 10,000,000 bushels.

This meant a saving to the state of $4,000,000. It is hoped that by getting more farmers to regard this all important detail of agriculture that the saving to the state this year may be increased to $10,000,000.

Experts declare that much of the corn that is planted does not grade over 75 to 80 per cent. They say it should not be planted unless grading at least 80 to 85 per cent.

Among the seven corn combinations are the following:

Thou shalt test every ear of thy seed corn between February 20 and March 20 of this year and every year thereafter and discard all ears which show weak sprouts, dead or moldy kernels.

Thou shalt grade thy seed corn and test thy planter to secure uniform and accurate dropping.

Thou shalt improve thy corn by planting thy choicest seed on one side of thy corn field.

Thou shalt harvest and properly hang up in a dry place all thy seed corn during the last ten days of September.

Thou shalt not import seed corn from a distance.

Thou shalt not follow oats or other small grains with corn.

Thou shalt not continue to farm without a rotation of crops.

Thou shalt not follow oats or other small grains with corn.

Thou shalt not continue to farm without a rotation of crops.

Big Water Bond Issue About to Be Proposed by Board

Omaha People Will Be Asked to Vote Another Mortgage for Not Less Than $7,500,000.

Another big water bond issue is coming. That is what the Water board members are incubating in the secret sessions they have been holding the last few days. They will probably ask the people to vote at a special election on a proposition for an issue of water bonds even larger in amount than last time when they secured authority to sell $2,000,000 of bonds.

The coming bond issue is likely to be for $7,500,000 if not more.

The plan is to get the money in this way even at the highest rate of interest to pay the compulsory purchase judgment which the water company has secured, and the hydrant rental judgments and bills, and also several hundred thousand dollars called for immediately for betterments and extensions.

Water board members have been sounding out this plan with leading business men confidentially explaining that unless they get hold of the water works at once the fear public sentiment will force abolition of their board and thus cut off the salaries they have been drawing for eight years.

Appeal Proceedings to Be Cheaper Now

Lawyers Appealing Cases Can Have Records Printed Wherever They Please.

The copy of a recent act which is of interest to every lawyer practicing in the United States courts because it is designed to diminish the expense of proceedings on appeal, and writs of error or of certiorari, has just been received by the federal court clerks in Omaha.

Heretofore on appeals the clerk of the circuit court of appeals has required applicants to pay about $1 a page for records of cases coming from lower courts. Under the new law applicants may have these records or briefs printed wherever they please, which means that the cost of printing will be considerably less than the fee price exacted by clerks of the higher court.
