PLANS FOR ENDEAVOR SOCIETY

Atlantic City to Be Host of Gathering Next July.
NEBRASKAN IS ON COMMITTEE
Minneapolis to Get Next General Conference of the Methodists, on Committee Report—Women Have Big Plans.

NEW YORK, March 4.—(Special to The Bee.)—Preliminary plans for the twenty-fifth international convention of the Christian Endeavor society, which will be held at Atlantic City July 6 to 12, have been made. It will be one of the greatest gatherings of Christians of all denominations ever held in this section. Among the speakers will be Judge Ben B. Lindsey, Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks, Rev. Russell H. Conwell, Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, Commander Eva Booth, Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, Principal Booker T. Washington, Rev. G. Fukuda, Japan; Rev. F. J. Horsfield, England; Rev. H. I. Marshall, Burma; Rev. R. S. Gray, New Zealand, and a host of others equally eminent.
There will be representatives from every state in the union, besides many from abroad. Among the men in the different states who will have charge of the transportation and housing of delegates from their states are the following:
Alabama, Mr. H. Galt Braxton, 207 Third avenue, Birmingham; Arizona, Dr. J. C. Norton, Phoenix; California, Mr. Leon V. Shaw, 112 Broadway, Oakland; Colorado, Mr. Herbert R. Chapman, 22 East Columbia avenue, Colorado Springs; Georgia, Mr. Archie B. Warner, 54 Orme street, Atlanta; Iowa, Rev. William Hardcastle, Iowa Falls; Kentucky, Mr. Charles W. Adams, 913 Washington avenue, Newport; Louisiana, Mr. Herman Rock, Lake Charles; Minnesota, Mr. George M. Branch, Capital National bank, St. Paul; Mississippi, Mr. John A. Stinson, Columbia; Nebraska, Rev. J. H. Salisbury, South Auburn; Oregon, Mr. William W. Dugan, Jr., 282 Ross street, Portland; Pennsylvania, Mr. A. W. Bowman, 221 Wallace street, Philadelphia; Tennessee, Mr. A. S. Wilson, Jr., 143 Sugar street, Nashville; Texas, Mr. Leslie Sparrow, 267 Bryan street, Dallas; Utah, Mrs. C. H. Fischer, 869 Twenty-fourth street, Ogden; Washington, Rev. E. A. King, North Yakima.

of Mrs. T. C. Doremus, a New York woman of wealth and social position, a missionary society to help the women of foreign lands. The idea quickly spread, but was killed by the American Board of Foreign Missions because "the women were stepping outside their legitimate province." So it was not until seventeen years later, in Mrs. Doremus' house again, that the Woman's Union Missionary society was organized, to include all denominations. It has 57,433 foreign missionary societies in the United States and Canada and last year raised $328,549 for the cause.
The plan for the jubilee is to hold meetings in thirty of the largest cities in the country, beginning on the Pacific coast and culminating in the national jubilee in this city, which takes place next month. There will be lectures, luncheons, drawing-room meetings, denominational rallies and a closing mass meeting.
It is expected that 2,500 women will attend the luncheon in New York, which is probably the record for a luncheon party. There will be a pageant of missions in the Metropolitan opera house, which will be a picturesque representation of missions, with orchestras and singing.
Purpose of Fund.
The $1,000,000 which are to be raised are to be devoted to the women and children in heathen lands. About $500,000 have been raised, one woman in Baltimore becoming so enthused that she gave a check for $10,000. During the last fifty years the women of the Methodist church have sent over $10,000,000 into the mission field and thousands of women have been sent as nurses, instructors and teachers to the women whom no man could reach.
Among the women who will attend the New York meeting is Mrs. William Butler, the "mother of missions." Mrs. Butler is the pioneer missionary to India. She sailed with her husband in 1836 from Boston to Calcutta and went to India again when she was 85 to celebrate the mission jubilee there. Mrs. Butler is now 90 years old, but recently made an address of forty-five minutes in Boston, and is expected to speak here.
Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery is the moving force of the jubilee meetings, and has traveled from place to place with a force of speakers and missionaries. Much of the success of the jubilee is due to her. Mrs. Montgomery is a graduate of Wellesley college, and a member of the Board of Education in Rochester, where she lives. Mrs. Montgomery is also an ex-president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs and an author on missionary matters.
"I don't want women to be kitchen-minded or parlor-minded," Mrs. Montgomery says, "but world-minded."
Mrs. Champ Clarke, wife of the democratic leader, will be present. She was a delegate to the World Missionary congress at Edinburgh.
Miss Jennie V. Hughes, a missionary from Kim King, will be one of the speakers. Miss Hughes was in Nanchang at the time of the riots in February, 1906.

Jowett Strong Preacher.
Dr. Joan Henry Jowett of Birmingham, England, who has accepted a call to the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, this city, is expected to preach his first sermon there in the latter part of March. His sermons are impassioned appeals and attract men and women of all denominations. Of pulpit oratory he recently said: "We shy at sentiment as we should shy at poison. We are loud in proclaiming the perils of emotional religion and we are busy drawing away the emotion and leaving the religion hard and dry."
But Dr. Jowett, notably, has never fallen into his peril of dryness and his fervent life being awaited with great interest. His recent refusal of "too large a salary" has served to intensify this interest. He is 47 years of age and was educated at Edinburgh university and at Mansfield college, Oxford.
The esteem in which Dr. Jowett is held in Birmingham is indicated by the speech made by Canon Denton Thompson, the leading church of England clergyman in Birmingham, when it became known that Dr. Jowett was to come to America. Canon Thompson said he could only express his sincere sorrow at the impending loss of a near neighbor, a kind friend and a Christian leader. He wished to bear his testimony to the fruitfulness of Dr. Jowett's ministry—both directly and indirectly in the life of the city. They could not then think so much of their difference as their agreements. Indeed, he wished at all times they thought more of their unities and less of their diversities. But, as they knew, Dr. Jowett and he had co-operated on many platforms and on behalf of many agencies which in their judgment were promoting the common good of the city. His departure would create a big gap in the ranks of their religious leaders. America has successfully wooed one of their best and strongest men and it was their hope that New York would find out without delay what a great spiritual gain they had won through Birmingham's irreparable loss.

Irrigated land adjoining Pueblo, Colorado.
10% down---balance in 20 yearly payments

After two years of work, and the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars for the construction of reservoirs and canals, 40,000 acres of irrigated land adjoining the city of Pueblo, Colorado, is now open for settlement.
An overabundance of water, the best of soil, which lays perfectly for irrigation, the finest of climate and railroad facilities, together with the fact that Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Denver and the mining camps in the adjoining hills afford the best of local markets, makes it a rare combination of merit.
The terms are unusual and within the reach of all. Write for descriptive literature, or better still, arrange to accompany us on our next excursion, the first and third Tuesday of each month, and see for yourself.
The Pueblo-Rockyford Land Co., Topeka, Kansas, or Chas. L. Dickey, District Manager, Columbus, Neb.

Soil is a deep black loam with gravelly subsoil, affording good drainage and warmth in which crops mature early.
Bearing orchards all around us worth $1,000 to $3,000 an acre. Ours will be worth as much in a few years. Irrigation system thoroughly well built and belongs to the land owners. Also separate domestic water supply.
Delightful climate, good roads, nearby markets and transcantonal railroads.
