

Another Hundred Exquisite SMALL WOMEN'S Spring Suits ARRIVED SATURDAY

From New York City by East Express, making the present display the most colossal ever undertaken by us

The ease, charm, the exclusiveness and the unusual values are apparent at a glance. The most critical expert must pronounce this exhibit correct. There is such a wide variation in sizes, such a variety of models, that almost any dress you may have may be happily gratified.

$22.50, $25 to $75
Sizes 32 to 38

The New Pantaloons Suits
Paris' Latest Creation
The New Tube Skirts & Suits
Are here for your approbation.
We welcome your presence Monday.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S LOW STORE
BINSON & THORNE CO.
1618-1500 FARNAM STREET

Announcement!

It gives me pleasure to announce the arrival of my new Spring and Summer Woolsens in exclusive and special styles, which are now ready for your inspection.

My cutter, Mr. Rasgorahak, has just returned from an extended eastern trip and can now deal in the newest styles and cut better fitting garments than ever.

Why be content to take a suit "pulled out of the pile" when individual made-to-order-measure garments can be had at the price I ask. I will be pleased to book your order now.

Tailor Beck

SEVEN TAILORED CLOTHES
OF LIGHT ARMY HEADQUARTERS

Indicating will go in the next few days. (Continued from page 1)

MR. CANNON'S VALUABLE

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

HOW SIFTING SCHEME WORKED

Details of Way in Which Senate Was Neatly Trapped.

DRY MEMBERS AND LITTLE COUP

Democratic Regulars Tumbled at Early Period and It Was All Taken Back—Harris the Great Introductor.

(From a Staff Correspondent)
LINCOLN, March 4.—(Special.) A few days ago, which originated in the shifting of a subcommittee in the senate, was a dry democratic standing on three regular democrats and three dry republicans were to hold the whip hand was almost certain upon the senators from Louisiana. It was a risky proposition, but had no choice but to agree.

All of the stories had come out except the identity of the master mind who planned it, and that soft impeachment law judge, and several upon Ollie himself. Brown of Louisiana and Ollie of Butler.

Republican Caucus.
Thursday night, unbeknown to the rest of the world, the republicans in the senate got together in a regular caucus and discussed the fact that the time was approaching for the appointment of the sitting committee. Brown was chairman of that caucus and when the matter had been fully threshed out and no decision reached Brown was instructed to do nothing about the republican caucus.

Friday morning the republicans who were not in the caucus were surprised to see Ollie in his seat at the convening. It occurred immediately to Anthony Smith and Harris of Ohio that something might be afoot and they hurried over to Brown's office to see if anything had broken loose in an emergency if one arose. They were sure that some would arise.

They found the republican who were not in the caucus were surprised to see Ollie in his seat at the convening. It occurred immediately to Anthony Smith and Harris of Ohio that something might be afoot and they hurried over to Brown's office to see if anything had broken loose in an emergency if one arose. They were sure that some would arise.

They found the republican who were not in the caucus were surprised to see Ollie in his seat at the convening. It occurred immediately to Anthony Smith and Harris of Ohio that something might be afoot and they hurried over to Brown's office to see if anything had broken loose in an emergency if one arose. They were sure that some would arise.

They found the republican who were not in the caucus were surprised to see Ollie in his seat at the convening. It occurred immediately to Anthony Smith and Harris of Ohio that something might be afoot and they hurried over to Brown's office to see if anything had broken loose in an emergency if one arose. They were sure that some would arise.

They found the republican who were not in the caucus were surprised to see Ollie in his seat at the convening. It occurred immediately to Anthony Smith and Harris of Ohio that something might be afoot and they hurried over to Brown's office to see if anything had broken loose in an emergency if one arose. They were sure that some would arise.

CONGRESS FAILS ON BIG MEASURES

(Continued from First Page.)

Mexico and conferring on that territory the last right of statehood.

When President Taft arrived at the capital at 10:30 o'clock the last of the bills rushed through in the closing hours he found staidness holding the senate at a standstill and the tariff board bill, which was the only one of the big measures, was not in order.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma declined to be taken off his feet and insisted upon making a statement while the clerk was taking a vote. The vote was along party lines, the republicans, insurgents and regulars alike, voting for the bill, with but two exceptions, and the democrats generally opposing it.

Senator Dingley of Connecticut and Haysburn of Idaho were the republicans who recorded themselves against the bill. Four democrats voted for it, as follows: Carter, Arkansas; Newlands, Nevada; Owen, Oklahoma; and Thornton, Louisiana, and Chamberlain of Oregon.

As soon as the vote was announced, Senator Bailey arose and stated that he had not voted, because he did not believe the vote had been properly ordered. He said he would have voted "no."

Senator Stone of Missouri moved to reconsider the vote. Senator Beveridge moved to lay this on the table. The latter motion was carried, 34 to 22.

The bill as passed by the senate carried 57 yeas and 22 nays. It was agreed to vote on the tariff board bill at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

At that hour the vice president directed the clerk to call the roll. Several democratic senators were on their feet clamoring for recognition at the time and there was much confusion. The vice president declined to recognize, asserting that debate was not in order.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma declined to be taken off his feet and insisted upon making a statement while the clerk was taking a vote. The vote was along party lines, the republicans, insurgents and regulars alike, voting for the bill, with but two exceptions, and the democrats generally opposing it.

Senator Dingley of Connecticut and Haysburn of Idaho were the republicans who recorded themselves against the bill. Four democrats voted for it, as follows: Carter, Arkansas; Newlands, Nevada; Owen, Oklahoma; and Thornton, Louisiana, and Chamberlain of Oregon.

As soon as the vote was announced, Senator Bailey arose and stated that he had not voted, because he did not believe the vote had been properly ordered. He said he would have voted "no."

Senator Stone of Missouri moved to reconsider the vote. Senator Beveridge moved to lay this on the table. The latter motion was carried, 34 to 22.

The bill as passed by the senate carried 57 yeas and 22 nays. It was agreed to vote on the tariff board bill at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

CONGRESS FAILS ON BIG MEASURES

(Continued from First Page.)

Mexico and conferring on that territory the last right of statehood.

When President Taft arrived at the capital at 10:30 o'clock the last of the bills rushed through in the closing hours he found staidness holding the senate at a standstill and the tariff board bill, which was the only one of the big measures, was not in order.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma declined to be taken off his feet and insisted upon making a statement while the clerk was taking a vote. The vote was along party lines, the republicans, insurgents and regulars alike, voting for the bill, with but two exceptions, and the democrats generally opposing it.

Senator Dingley of Connecticut and Haysburn of Idaho were the republicans who recorded themselves against the bill. Four democrats voted for it, as follows: Carter, Arkansas; Newlands, Nevada; Owen, Oklahoma; and Thornton, Louisiana, and Chamberlain of Oregon.

As soon as the vote was announced, Senator Bailey arose and stated that he had not voted, because he did not believe the vote had been properly ordered. He said he would have voted "no."

Senator Stone of Missouri moved to reconsider the vote. Senator Beveridge moved to lay this on the table. The latter motion was carried, 34 to 22.

The bill as passed by the senate carried 57 yeas and 22 nays. It was agreed to vote on the tariff board bill at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

brief rest before taking up the tasks of the new session, while others argued it would be the better part of wisdom for the president to consult primarily the wishes of the democrats and to defer to their desire for time in which to outline their organization in the new house.

The president himself is anxious for a little rest, April 4, therefore, seemed suited to all purposes.

FINAL HOURS IN THE SENATE

New Constitution Rejected and Pen- sion Bill Rejected.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—A blockade of the big appropriation bills, threatened by Senator Owen of Oklahoma, gave way at 11:25 a. m., when he agreed to yield the floor if the senate would agree to vote on a proposition to couple Arizona with New Mexico in a resolution finally admitting them to the union as states.

This coupling was agreed to, but the resolution as amended was defeated, yeas, 20, nays, 6.

The parliamentary situation was much tangled. It developed, however, that in voting to defeat the coupling of Arizona with New Mexico the senate had defeated the ratification of the New Mexico constitution as well.

The clock was set back at 11:30 to 11:25. The conference report on the sundry civil bill was agreed to.

By a vote of 44 to 16 the senate took up the Fullway pension bill, which would increase the pension rolls about $2,000,000 a year. It has already passed the house.

Senator Lodge demanded the reading of the report on the Fullway pension bill and it becoming evident to Mr. Scott that the purpose was to filibuster the bill to death, he withdrew it.

Senate today passed the permanent tariff board bill by a vote of 25 to 23. The end of the long fight for this board strongly recommended by President Taft came at 3:30 o'clock this morning.

At that hour the vice president directed the clerk to call the roll. Several democratic senators were on their feet clamoring for recognition at the time and there was much confusion. The vice president declined to recognize, asserting that debate was not in order.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma declined to be taken off his feet and insisted upon making a statement while the clerk was taking a vote. The vote was along party lines, the republicans, insurgents and regulars alike, voting for the bill, with but two exceptions, and the democrats generally opposing it.

Senator Dingley of Connecticut and Haysburn of Idaho were the republicans who recorded themselves against the bill. Four democrats voted for it, as follows: Carter, Arkansas; Newlands, Nevada; Owen, Oklahoma; and Thornton, Louisiana, and Chamberlain of Oregon.

As soon as the vote was announced, Senator Bailey arose and stated that he had not voted, because he did not believe the vote had been properly ordered. He said he would have voted "no."

Senator Stone of Missouri moved to reconsider the vote. Senator Beveridge moved to lay this on the table. The latter motion was carried, 34 to 22.

The bill as passed by the senate carried 57 yeas and 22 nays. It was agreed to vote on the tariff board bill at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

At that hour the vice president directed the clerk to call the roll. Several democratic senators were on their feet clamoring for recognition at the time and there was much confusion. The vice president declined to recognize, asserting that debate was not in order.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma declined to be taken off his feet and insisted upon making a statement while the clerk was taking a vote. The vote was along party lines, the republicans, insurgents and regulars alike, voting for the bill, with but two exceptions, and the democrats generally opposing it.

Senator Dingley of Connecticut and Haysburn of Idaho were the republicans who recorded themselves against the bill. Four democrats voted for it, as follows: Carter, Arkansas; Newlands, Nevada; Owen, Oklahoma; and Thornton, Louisiana, and Chamberlain of Oregon.

As soon as the vote was announced, Senator Bailey arose and stated that he had not voted, because he did not believe the vote had been properly ordered. He said he would have voted "no."

Ferruccio Busoni

the greatest living pianist has again selected the Chickering piano.

While it is true that it requires a master to bring forth such harmony as the audiences of Busoni listened to last season, it is also true that with no less instrument than the magnificent CHICKERING PIANO could he have expressed his marvelous genius.

Besides the Chickering we are Western representatives for

| | |
|-------------------|-----------------|
| PACKARD | IVERS & POND |
| STERLING | KURTZMAN |
| RENNETT | AUTOPIANO |
| HUNTINGTON | KURTZMAN PLAYER |
| MENDELSSOHN | PACKARD PLAYER |
| KOHLER & CAMPBELL | KRELL AUTOGRAND |

EST. 1878 THE BENNETT CO. PIANO DEPT.

Mesh Bags of Daintiness, Dignity and All protrude their exquisite qualities upon the visitor at Edholm's store. The season's most fashionable odd-bit bag, give that first impression of luxurious style, unquestionable quality and gracious beauty. Unique in design they modestly lend a charm to their wearer.

Among our stock are those attractive solid gold American patterns, and those quaint, imported masterpieces, graced with charming American tops, which we are selling at irrefragable prices. The slender, firm links of all our hard soldered, duplicating the bags which fashionable women are carrying on Fifth Avenue and Broadway this spring.

These charming little articles are as moderately priced as any of the same quality in the country. With them goes the unequivocal Edholm guarantee.

DON'T MERELY BUY—INVEST

Albert Edholm

Jeweler
Sixteenth and Barney

LEGAL NOTICES

New York, February 26, 1911.
S. J. CALLED
Secretary

Spring Suits to Order

MacCarthy-Wilson Tailoring Co.
216-218 South 16th St.
New York

THE WEATHER

The National Forecast.
The National Forecast.

DAUQUEL IN ANOTHER QUEL

French Letter in Challenge by New at Manager of Theater in Chicago.

EARL OF CREME STRICKEN

Unconventional Transfer in House of Lords.

THE WEATHER

The National Forecast.

Our Spring Line

of goods for men is here. The most complete assortment of fabrics we have shown during our six years of business in Omaha.

No better materials are sold anywhere for less than thirty-five dollars.

We have planned for thousands—why not you?

We handle the Two Lines:

$15 Made to Measure $18

Derby Woolen Mills

F. A. TORRIS, Mgr. 183 South Filson St.