Baltimore Company Backs Up Its Gas Bid

Telegrams to the City Council and Employs Legal Counsel to Look After Interests.

Telegrams from the American Lighting company of Baltimore were received by members of the city council Monday morning, calling attention to the bid of the company for lighting the streets with gas. The telegrams ask favorable consideration from the council and call attention to the fact that the bid is lower than any other bid received. The Baltimore company also compares its bid with that of the Omaha Street Lighting company, which bid on equipment and maintenance and claims its bid is the cheaper.

WOODARD'S PLACE MORE SURE

Is Now Assistant Postmaster Under the Civil Service.

WAS SLATED FOR RETIREMENT

Thomas Had Declined to Certify Mr. Woodard Until Things began to Warm Up at the Post-office.

The only new development at the post-office in connection with the charges pending against Postmaster Thomas was the information said to have come from Washington last Saturday that the designation of Assistant Postmaster Woodard to hold his office under protection of civil service had been approved and that Mr. Woodard is now assistant postmaster in his own right instead of merely subject to the pleasure of Postmaster Thomas. To this extent, at any rate, Mr. Woodard is the gaffer by the rumpus that has been raised. It is no secret that Postmaster Thomas had him slated for retirement and has for some time been looking for an excuse to get rid of Woodard, and put some one else in his place. The order permitting the assistant postmaster to go under civil service became operative last December, but the assistant had to be first certified up by the postmaster. Postmaster Thomas had declined to certify Mr. Woodard for reasons best known to him. Woodard, who has been in the air for three months, last week he dissolved his doubts as to Mr. Woodard's qualifications, proved by service under half a dozen postmasters, and decided that it would be safer for himself to send in the certification, and the approval at Washington came as a matter of course.

Politics Instead of Business.

OMAHA, Neb., March 4, 1911.—To the Editor of The Bee: A good deal is being said about the big political pull of B. F. Thomas, our present postmaster, and about the large amount of influence he has with the department heads in Washington. He is able to obtain large raises for those who are willing to contribute and aid in paying for his political assessments, and then why should he not be willing to aid for more clerks to work the mails. At the present time mail is piling up at the postoffice faster than it can be handled, and the clerks that came in last Wednesday are still laying around on the floor. At the present time the mailing division is under orders to put in one hour overtime every day until further orders, while the city division is putting in from one and one-half hours to two hours a day overtime. It seems to the writer that it is about time that postmasters of the first class should be placed under civil service, so they would be able to devote their time to bettering conditions in the office, instead of seeking political contributions.

Wireless Operator Causes Flurry on Mexico's Frontier

Message Sent at Random in Practice at Fort Omaha Mistaken for Orders at Eagle Pass.

The wireless sounder in the tower of the signal station at Eagle Pass in Mexican border began to sputter and click in the early morning.

Across the frontier at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz and at Fuentel the revolutionists were thus early in the day beginning to revolute. In the mystery of the twilight hours the situation seemed tense to the operator in the tower.

Fervently he read the letters on a message blank and hurried it off by orderly to the commanding officer. The message was evidently in code, at any rate the operator could not understand it. Further it was not signed. More mystery. A war department secret no doubt.

The worthy C. O. tore upon the message and ran his half awakened eye over the hastily written lines.

"Pack my box with five dozen liquor jugs."

The C. O. cogitated. "Must be game cavalry outfit coming," he muttered.

But things were doing in the signal tower again. While the operator was vainly trying to locate the sender of the cryptogramic message another came.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party."

"Now sign," the Eagle Pass Operator flashed back.

"Fort Omaha, Department of Missouri," was the reply.

This message was duly delivered, too. Then the commanding officer tumbled.

"Tell that dub practicing up at Omaha that his last message constitutes pernicious political activity."

Anyway the War department has found out that the wireless will work from Omaha to the border and beside the commanding officer at Eagle Pass was up early for breakfast.

Dick Grotte Miked on His Vacation Trip by a Woman Bowler

Omaha Crack is Taken Into Camp Sunday While at Excelsior Springs.

Dick Grotte, chief clerk in the building inspector's office, base ball fan, bowling enthusiast, returned on the last half of a round trip ticket—otherwise he would not.

Dick can bowl. So can Miss Anna Peterson of Excelsior Springs. When Grotte arrived in Excelsior Springs he was itching for a game. But the natives down there didn't want any matches with him after he had explained that he was a member of the champion team of Omaha and could topple 200 pins a game as easy as some people can drink water.

Dick insisted on a game. Finally the natives told him that rather than see him go away without being accompanied, they would arrange a game with him after while not in Dick's class, was the best Excelsior Springs boasted.

The woman, a Miss Peterson, whose father runs a hotel, was willing. The rivals met at the only bowling alley in the city. To make the game exciting, Dick was asked to wear a woman while he should uphold the town's honor, if he so desired.

Dick was in a speculative mood, and loosened the strings on his bank roll. He never put them back on that bank roll again. For Miss Peterson was high on camp as fast that Dick is still trying to figure how it happened.

They bowled two games. Dick was finishing up the first when the woman's friends had copped the coin and gone with it.

"She only bowled 195 in the first game and 230 in the second," said Dick by way of explanation Monday morning. "But I saved the return half of my transportation."

OMAHA AFTER THE AERO MEET

St. Louis Man to Present Omaha's Claim in New York Tuesday.

LOCAL PLANS ARE ARRANGED

Business Men Agree to Provide Gas, Grounds, Cash Prizes and Other Necessary Requirements for Start of the Race.

The national council of the Aero Club of America will meet in New York Tuesday to discuss the details of the next international balloon race. Those interested in having Omaha selected have been doing a great deal of hustling since Saturday, when the news was received.

As President J. J. Derlight of the local club is out of the city many preliminaries necessary to support Omaha's application for the race have not been attended to, as it had not been intimated there was immediate necessity for action. Members of the local club have communicated with A. B. Lambert, president of the St. Louis club, who is a member of the council that will sit on the case. He has agreed to present Omaha's application and supplement it every way he can, as St. Louis is not a candidate this year. Steps have already been taken by the local club to secure affiliation with the national body as one of the steps necessary for proper recognition.

Among the most important things which have not been attended to is the acceptance of the gas for the balloons, though everything points to its acceptance. The gas company has guaranteed 600,000 cubic feet of gas necessary within the four hours which the rules allow. The expense of laying temporary twelve-inch pipes to the ascension grounds has all been figured out and everything determined at this end so far as possible.

Omaha business men, in conjunction with the Aero club, have agreed to furnish the grounds, gas, cash prizes to the amount of $5,000, and look after any other necessary requirements.

ERDMAN DEFENSE AGAIN RELIES ON PHOTOGRAPHS

Shadows on Photos to Tell the Time to Contradict Testimony of Girls.

The first witness for the defense in the case of Frank Erdman, charged with attempting to take the life of Tom Dennison with a dynamite bomb, went on the stand Monday.

As in the first trial the defense is trying to invalidate by means of the calculations of Father Riggs of Creighton university the testimony of the Hageliet girls. They testified that they followed Erdman down the street, that they saw him from the Lutheran church at Twenty-eighth and Parker streets, where they had gone to have their pictures taken with a confirmation class. The girls say that they left the church shortly before 3 o'clock. By aid of the shadows in the photographs Father Riggs figures that the last picture was not taken until 21 minutes after 2. The suitcase was seen on the porch of the Dennison home about 3 o'clock.

Although severely questioned by the county attorney as to the accuracy of his figures and the liability of a mistake, Father Riggs stood firm.

However, there was a conflict of testimony among the witnesses put on by the defense. Ella Grotmark and Clara Schipfereit, who were also in the class, identified the picture said by Father Riggs to be taken at 2:21 as the one that the scientist had figured as taken at 2:37.

Mrs. Margaret Duesch, the proprietor of a rooming house at Eighteenth and Cass streets, where Erdman roomed at the time of the attempted crime, was put on the stand to prove an alibi. She swore that Erdman came to his room at 1:30 o'clock, and to the best of her knowledge did not leave before 4 o'clock. She said that Erdman was home both nights, May 11 and 12, the days that witnesses for the prosecution stated that they saw him in Louisville.

JUROR SUSPENDED BY COURT

Allegations of Misconduct Put Dolan Off Civil Suit Panel.

PUT UP TO THE COUNTY ATTORNEY

Judge Redick and English Hold Conference—Accused Man Says He Knows Nothing—C. R. Courtney Informant.

Allegations of misconduct by W. J. Dolan, juror in a civil suit in district court, caused his suspension from service Monday morning at the opening of court. The matter has been put in the hands of James English, county attorney, for investigation.

Information given to Judge Redick by Charles Courtney, defendant in the suit, caused the suspension of Dolan. The order was made by the judge following a consultation with the attorneys in the case before the opening of court.

The hearing was continued with eleven jurors. At 10 o'clock Judge Redick held a conference with Mr. English, formally dismissing the Dolan affair to him for action. Mr. Courtney declined to divulge the details of the occasion when it is alleged he was approached by Dolan.

"I doubt," remarked Mr. Courtney, "if there is sufficient direct evidence for further action."

Dolan declared that he knew no reason for his suspension. He is a private detective living in Omaha.

Shortly before noon, motion for a directed verdict for the defense was made. The hearing was resumed in the afternoon.

All connected with the affair were pledged to secrecy by Judge Redick. The suit at trial is brought by the Dodge County bank against Charles R. Courtney of Courtney & Co., for the recovery of $5,000. It is a development of the failure of the late Toft Hansen, a restaurateur.

Mr. Courtney signed a Hanson note. Two thousand dollars has been paid on the note.

L. D. Young and Harry F. Brome are lawyers for the bank and the firm of Herring & Woodbridge for Mr. Courtney. The hearing has been on since Friday.

FEWER REGISTRY CLERKS NEEDED UNDER NEW PLAN

Vandervoort is Here from Chicago to Assist in the Rearrangement.

Fewer registry transfer clerks will be needed to handle registered packages in Omaha since the opening of the new Union depot postal station. W. C. Vandervoort, assistant division superintendent of the railway mail service, is here from Chicago to make the necessary changes.

By the rearrangement of the force of transfer clerks none will lose his position, for the men not needed here will be transferred to other places. The registry transfer clerks of the railway mail service employees detailed to do this work. Since the opening of the Union depot postal station the registry packages will not have to be transferred so far, therefore fewer clerks will be needed.

A VERY FINE LOTION FOR THE COMPLEXION

"A new and delightfully pleasing complexion lotion is fast finding favor among women," writes Mrs. Mae Martyn, authority on beauty topics, "and while it is only a simple, inexpensive, spurma solution, it is very fine for a shiny, rough or muddy complexion, and does not rub off or show like powder."

"To make this lotion get 4 ounces spumax at any drug store and dissolve it in 16 pint hot water, adding 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. When applied to the face, neck and arms it gives the skin a healthy, youthful tone and smooth, velvety appearance not possible with powder or rouge. It is the finest skin whitener and complexion beautifier I ever used."—Adv.
