Wolves Threatening Village of Florence; Farmers Want Aid

Beasts of Prey Prowl Streets—Valuable Live Stock Lost—Big Hunt Organized.

Wolves threaten the village of Florence. So bold have the beasts become that mothers fear to allow their little children on the streets in the early evening hours. Live-stock losses to farmers in the vicinity have been heavy and the poultry yards of the village have been ravished.

The wolves find the rough country north and west of the village and the bottom lands along the river ready cover. Efforts on the part of the farmers to exterminate the wolves have been without apparent result.

The Ponca improvement club at its last meeting passed a resolution offering a reward of 25 cents a head for wolves and 5 cents for cubs.

A wolf drive has been organized for March 12. The drive will embrace all the territory from Kelly's lake to Florence and from the river west to the railroad, with the finish in the Price pasture near the Ponca school house. The place affords an ideal place for the finish as it is in to draw the rim of which will give the hunters an opportunity to shoot. An invitation is extended to everybody over 18 years of age to take part. The only restriction is that rifles are barred.

The big wolf hunt will start moving on the circle at 8 o'clock in the morning and it is figured the drive will end about noon. The farmers are especially anxious to have some of the good shots from Omaha take part in the drive.

Gould Asserted to Have No Desire to Recover Control

Brother Says Minority Stockholders of Missouri Pacific Merely Want Representation in New Board.

NEW YORK, March 11.—In view of the many published statements suggesting that George J. Gould is endeavoring to reacquire from an agreement with Kuhn, Loeb & Rockefeller interests as to the control of the Missouri Pacific, his brother, Frank J. Gould tonight said such reports were unwarranted and that he might unintentionally have been the cause of them.

He pointed out one of the largest individual stockholders of the Missouri Pacific railroad, that he believes, with other stockholders, that independent minority interests should have representation in the new board of directors and adds that H. L. Williams of the firm of Middendorf, Williams & Co., of Baltimore has secured sufficient proxies, independently of him, to be elected a director of the road. But, being convinced that a very considerable number of stockholders are desirous of an independent representation in the directorate, he gave his individual proxy to Middendorf, Williams & Co., and has advised other holders to do the same.

Western Union Uses the Distance 'Phones to Increase Service

Will Call Parties in Towns Where Station is Closed Without Extra Cost.

By a recent order of the Western Union Telegraph company, long distance telephones are to be used in sending and delivering important messages, without extra charge to the sender. It is an added convenience in large and small cities and rural districts. Here is the way it works:

A message comes to the Omaha office at 10 o'clock at night for someone in an inland town, where the telegraph office is closed. Perhaps it is from Denver and tells of the serious illness of a relative. The Omaha office believes it imperative that the person should receive the message the same night, in order to catch a train. The person is at once called up on the long distance telephone and though the cost of the message is more than the original cost of the message no extra charge is made and the telegraph company and the telephone company split the cost of the original message. On the other hand, suppose any one in a city or inland town wants to send a message on a cold winter's or stormy night. All that is necessary is to ring the telephone central and say "telegram." If long distance the message will be sent at the cost of the message from the sender's town and no charge made for the telephone connection.

Has Had Long and Active Career—Succeeded by Lieutenant Colonel McClure.

Colonel E. B. Bolton of the Fourth cavalry, now stationed at Fort Crook, has retired from the service after a long and active career in the army. He will be succeeded by Lieutenant Colonel McClure.

Colonel Bolton has been on leave of absence for some time. He is a native of Mississippi, born on January 27, 1860, and entered West Point from that state in 1871. SON FINDS HIS FATHER AFTER THIRTY-SIX YEARS

Both of Them Have Prospered Since Coming to This Country to Live.

The son who was a toddling, prattling youngster 4 years old when Nels Christian Olsen left his home in Denmark thirty-six years ago and came to America to win fortune and who had not seen him since then, Saturday walked into the Brandt store, where his father is employed and neither son nor father recognized the other. But the son had come to Omaha to find his father and he asked questions and the answers directed him to the right department.

"Can you tell me where I'll find Nels Christian Olsen?" he asked, after looking in vain for some one who looked as he expected his father to look.

"Why, yes," the one accosted replied. "That is my name."

"Is that so? Well, my name is Marius Olsen. You have heard that name?" And there followed a Danish greeting and animated rehearsal of the events of the years.

Marius Olsen, who is now a prosperous American citizen, with a home at Galeburg, Ill., came to this country seven years ago. He knew, he says, that his father was in Omaha and had been planning for some time to "take a trip and see him." He carried out the plan and arrived today, accompanied by his 8-year-old daughter, Alma Rena Olsen.

Since leaving Denmark and his family Nels Christian Olsen has lived in Council Bluffs, in Hamilton county, Nebraska, and in Omaha. He has been married three times and now lives with his third wife and family at Twenty-fourth and Pacific streets.

WOMAN ASKS DAMAGES FOR ALLEGED MALPRACTICE

Edith McGrail Sues Two Doctors for Failure to Cure Her Cancer.

Suit for $5,000 in personal damages has been filed in district court by Edith McGrail against Drs. Theodore Milen and Brown. The plaintiff alleges maltreatment of a cancer.

The doctors, according to the complaint, on January 11 guaranteed to cure her of a cancer in fourteen days by a well known remedy that they advertised in a daily paper. The consideration, $75, was paid.

During the course of the treatment she discovered that they were not applying the remedy agreed upon and wished to change doctors. They told her, the plaintiff alleges, that she was in such condition that it would be impossible to change and demanded $500 before they would go on with the case. The plaintiff, however, left the doctors go. She alleges that the maltreatment caused her great pain and suffering.

BILKS GROCERS WITH CHECKS

Prosecution of Delivery Wagons at a False Address Sent by Victims.

The ancient but reliable check-change game was worked by an unidentified crook on the grocers of the outlying districts with such success that a procession of ten delivery wagons lined up at 2222 Davenport street, the fictitious address used, Friday afternoon.

Among those on whom the game was worked in A. Peterson, grocer, at 2117 Farnam street. Mr. Peterson cashed a check proffered in payment for a bill of goods to be delivered to the Davenport street address. He has the check and the groceries back, but he has not the change. Meanwhile no one at 2222 Davenport knows who ordered the goods. Delivery wagons from various groceries arrived at the same time on equally futile errands.

ECHOES OF THE ANTE-ROOM

Ancient Relics of Bellevue Are Presented to Masons.

DRAWINGS MADE BY INDIANS

Old Walnut Siding from Trading Post Bears Carved Figures—Notes of Affairs of Other Fraternal Societies.

W. S. Robertson has presented to Nebraska lodge No. 1 of the Masonic order two carved pieces of black walnut siding which he cut from the walls of the old trading post at Bellevue in 1885. The two pieces of wood, now neatly trimmed and polished, are carved with the outlines of deer and antelope. The carving was done by Indians of the Omaha tribe in the days just after the old post building was erected. They are typical Indian drawings as to outline, cut deeply into the wood, with some attempt at shading.

As the old post building was used for the meeting at Bellevue when the first Masonic lodge in Nebraska was organized, Nebraska lodge No. 1 will give the relics a place in its lodge room, to be thus preserved for future generations, with proper inscription.

Paving This Year is to Equal Last

Nearly Fourteen Miles Installed Last Year in All Parts of the City.

Thirteen and seven-tenths miles of street were paved in Omaha last year, according to statistics on file in the city engineer's office. For the work, the sum of $961,264.23 was paid out by the city on contracts. Of the amount, $65,983 was expended for intersections and the balance for street paving. Two contractors, Charles Fanning and Hugh Murphy, did more than 80 per cent of the work. Contracts amounting to $488,661.93 were let to Murphy, while Fanning was awarded contracts amounting to $118,652.96.

Mr. Craig is preparing his annual report, which will include these facts. All told there are 127.7 miles of paving in the city, for which the sum of $7,727,129.48 has been expended.

The paving put down consisted chiefly of asphalt and brick. Fanning did the major portion of the business where brick was used, while Murphy landed his where asphalt was named by the petitioner.

It is estimated that about the same amount of paving will be done this year.

99 out of 100 Automobile buyers if they investigate motor cars will buy a

Their investigation will prove that a motor car, in order to give undivided service, must be manufactured accurate, of the best of material and finest workmanship.

They are not contented with mere talk about a car, but they are educated up to a point of wanting to be SHOWN.

The Cadillac Car has a world wide reputation of being the finest specimen of standardization, interchangeability and perfect alignment.

The Cadillac Company has always practiced the principle that in building motor cars it costs less to do work that is clean, close and accurate than it does to do work that is poor and slovenly, but in order to do work that is clean, close and accurate, you must have the right equipment and the right organization.

The Cadillac practice is held in world wide esteem by engineering experts, and their shop is admired as a model in men, machinery, methods and management.

In proof of this it is only necessary to point to the 40,000 Cadillacs in use all over the world.

Of course we know you are confronted with representatives from MUSH-ROOM sprung up factories, or assembled cars, and their first point is to put a BUG in your ear that they can save you some money. Their story is either to introduce their car, or that they are in other business and only handling the automobile as a side issue. Investigate those conditions and you will always find that the BUG they are putting in your ear is used as a BAIT; and when you look for them again they are either handling some other make or have gone out of business.

All we ask of you is to investigate the Cadillac car, Cadillac factory, Cadillac methods and Cadillac principles.

We are at your service.
