Total receipts ...... DISPOSITION.

Totals 25 4,858 CATTLE—There were no fresh cattle of any consequence in the yards today, but for the week receipts have been very liberal, showing a considerable gain over last week. ast week.

The market on fat cattle started out at the beginning of the week a little stronger and was quoted better again on Tunsday. During the next two days prices eased off quite rapidly, so that any gain that was made earlier in the week was wiped out, and at the close of the week killing cattle are selling steady, or at least nearly steady, with prices prevailing at the close of last week.

with prices prevailing at the close of last week.

Cows and heifers experienced about the same changes as beef steers. They advanced at the beginning of the week, and although they did not break as early as beef steers they declined fully as much when the market once started down, so that prices at the close on that class of cattle are also no better than at the close of last week.

Distrable kinds of feeders, more especially the so-called "green" cattle that have not been on feed, have been good sellers all week and are practically steady with one week ago. On the other hand the medium kinds and common thin stockers have declined somewhat owing to the lack of a good buying support from the country, and they are safely lowing lower than last week, some sellers in fact would say more than that.

values, has been very uneven from the start. Monday's trace ruled higher. Tuesday's and Wednesday's sessions were slumpy and late business showed some improvement. Sheep have been selling more readily than costfer lamb offerings as a provement. Sheep have been selling more readily that costler lamb offerings as a rule and are closing on a generally steady busic. At present ewes are quotable up to $4.50, wethers up to $4.55, and yearlings as high as $5.25.

Harring an apparent advance in lambs yesterday, caused by very meager receipts, prices in this branch of the trade are pretty close to like lower for the week. Vesterday's sales, however, were easily steady, with lamb sales of the previous Friday, and the general situation remains unchanged. its part in modifying the influence of the subject.

Further evidence of backward trade activity and of diminished railroad earnings had a part in halting speculation. The United States Steel corporation's monthly report of unfilled orders, however, showed that the steady improvement which has been in progress in the steel trade of late had not been interrupted and the increased total of unfinished business at the first of the month made the showing a satisfactory one. But there were few indications of a material improvement elsewhere. The effect of last year's trade reaction, as shown in the annual reports of a number of large corporations, was emphasized by re-Demand for Cattle and Sheep Steady —Hogs Higher.

The official explanation that the railroad rate decision was responsible for the action did not alter the conviction that decreased earnings called for the step.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Nervousness regarding possible alarming discoveries by crop experts, who had been hurried out from here to investigate rumors of Hessian fly in Illinois and Indiana wheatheds turned prices suddenly upward today. Closing figures were firm at a netadvance of %c to %c. Corn finished %c to %g/c higher than last night, oats unchanged to %c off and provisions down The to 2022/%c.

Although Hessian fly developments were no worse than the day previous and there was a general disposition to believe that damage tales were so early in the season as to be unreliable, shorts were uneasy.

damage tales were so early in the season as to be unreliable, shorts were uneasy, and finally ran to cover rather than stand out over Sunday. Definite statements from Chicago crop experts were expected to have considerable effect in the trading Monday morning. The fright took hold in earnest, the market had been weak because of large world's shipments, especially on account of heavy forwardings from Russia. In addition rain fell throughout southern Minnesota and mors was predicted tonight for the upper Mississippi valley. The close was almost the top point of the session. Commission houses were good sellers of small lots of cats. May touched as high and low limits 114c and 20%031, with the close 4c off at 1114c.

There was no special demand for hog products. Accordingly the market dragged lower and in the end was 15c to 207,774c under last night for pork; 11405c to be down for lard, and 5c to 5074c for ribs.

per bbl., $6.75. Honey, new. 34 frames, $3.75. NEW YORK, March 12.—DRY GOODS-There was little change in the character of the demand for cotton goods last week, buyers still pursuing a vory conservative policy of future commitments and producers inclining to a policy of dramatic curtailment. Prices continue case under the influence of the selling of small shot the influence of the selling of small spot-lots.

Of the 12,000 pieces of print cloth parn-goods sold at Fall River, 50,000 were for-spot shipment, the balance futures, and curtailment of production at that center-reached 75,000 pieces. There was a re-duction of the a rard in one line of stanie-print, but other printegs made no change. There have been several small changes in prices in goods, due to conditions sur-rounding individual trades.

The lobbers have been able to bold prices fairly steady, but they have been forced to sell goods in small lots, thus increasing the close of business and com-pelling mills to await a nearer approach of increasing the close of business and com-pelling mills to await a nearer approach of the fall season before getting orders on which they can work. The volume of busi-ness passing on wash fabrics prints, per-cales and singhams for immediate ship-ment is relatively better than the trading on domestics, in white or brown cotions, or in colored cottons.

It is the belief of merchants that the lowest prices of the year in cotton goods will be seen in the next few weeks as they are unable to see that cotton can be much lower, so that mills may benefix from it before a new crop is grown
