Highest Tribunal.

If the motion for a new trial does not prevail the Erdman case probably will be carried to the supreme court. A resolution to that effect was adopted by the Omaha "hurch federation at its regular quarterly meeting held at the Westminster Presbyterian church the fore part of this week. some thought that it would interfere As. with the motion for a new trial now before the court the matter was not made public at the time of the meeting. The resolution reads: "Resolved, That in the interest of fairness the case of Frank Erdman ought to be carried to the highest appeal provided by law." Judge Estelle Saturday placed the time for the hearing of the argument on the motion of a new trial as Saturday, March 25. Erdman was taken to the court house. When Attorney Yeiser explained that he had been trying to hurry up matters so that they would cease nagging him at the county jail about his past, Erdman flared up and indignantly denied having given out a confession.

SENIORS SELECTING A PLAY

Miss Fitch, Who Was Selected to Direct, Names Two from Which to Choose.

At a special meeting of the Senior council of the senior class of the Omaha High school, two plays for the senior play, which will be held some time in May, were considered. These plays are, "Captain Jenks of the Horse Marines" and "Bauchaire," a French play. Miss Fitch was chosen by the seniors earlier in the year to take charge of the rehearsing of the play, and was also advised to suggest two plays from which the seniors might choose. Several college plays were at first proposed by the seniors, and also one of Shakespeare's plays, but these were not what the majority of the seniors wanted. A meeting of the senior class will be held Monday, after school, when it is expected that the sentors will decide on either of the two plays proposed by Miss Fitch.

Either of these provides for over 100 in the caste, and the majority of the seniors wishing to take part in the play will have a chance to do so. Try-outs for the leading roles will be held soon after the seniors decide which they will have.

My bankers will tell you that I am amply ABLE to take the financial risk of storing furs belonging to others, they'll tell you that I could be COMPELLED to "make good" if ever your furs were to burn or be lost or damaged, while in my possession, even if I were NOT inclined to do the fair thing.

That's ONE sort of protection-but here's another. Every place of FUR stored with me is insured by a strong local concern H. E. Palmer Son & Co., who have offices in the Brandels Building.

Bring your furs here now-or soon-and they will be placed in charge of a PRACTICAL furrier, who oversees my storage dep'tthey will be watched over by a special watchman, who watches over my storage dep't-and when you require the furs in the fall they will be in the pink of condition-clean-soft-silky-lustrous -with the natural oll retained in the skins.
