

ARIZONA SHOULD BE ADMITTED

Colonel Roosevelt Discusses Its Constitution in Address.

PEOPLE WITHIN THEIR RIGHTS

Thinks Recall of Judiciary May Be Wrong, but it Should Not Bar the State from Admission to the Union.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 20.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt addressed one of the largest throngs ever assembled in the southwest on the Plaza at today's noon session before the Arizona statehood.

Colonel Roosevelt's Address.

Colonel Roosevelt said in part: "I regret that Arizona was not admitted to statehood by the last congress, and I trust that the next congress will admit it. The objections to admitting it I regard as without warrant of justice."

"I do not agree with the form in which Arizona adopted the recall, especially as regards the judiciary, but while I regret that Arizona should have adopted the recall in this fashion, I do not merely admit but insist that this is a matter purely for Arizona's decision."

"The principles of the initiative and referendum may or may not be adapted to the needs of a given state under given conditions—I believe they are useful in some communities and not in others—but to deny a territory the right of statehood because it has adopted these principles is wrong."

"Rights of States and People. I am a strong nationalist, but I am no less a believer in the rights of the states wherever the rights of the state mean the rights of the people."

"I wish it distinctly understood that while there are many provisions in your proposed constitution with which I most heartily agree, there are some with which I disagree and notably among these is the provision of the recall and policy affecting the judiciary."

"I admit the melancholy fact that there are states where judges have so acted as to make it justifiable for the people to elect judges from the people."

"In any event, a measure fraught with such possibility of mischief as the recall of judges, as you have provided for it, should not be adopted until by actual referendum you are driven to it as a necessary but regrettable method of doing away with some even worse evil."

THOUSAND AT BRYAN DINNER

With the initiative of the people of Arizona, by petition, initiative any law they do want and justify its substitution to the vote of the people and by a majority vote write that statute upon the statute books of Arizona, regardless of the legislature and regardless of any governor who might veto an act of the legislature. He cannot veto an act of the sovereign ruling power—the people of Arizona.

"What stability of government does this assure, when men can prevent the passage of law which they do not like and guarantee themselves by their own act, immunity from a statute to which they are not willing to yield obedience. Is it not obvious that, with the right to pass the laws, they do want and veto the laws they do not want, the people of Arizona have provided for themselves the most stable form of government possible?"

"And with the right of recall, what more is to be desired, when the public functionary who for any reason becomes unworthy, corrupt or inefficient may be recalled? It is not necessary to have proof sufficient to convict him of disloyalty or inefficiency. It is sufficient to provide by the recall for an early ending of his tenure in office."

"Bryan Heads Table"—Kern. Senator Kern, in his speech said in part: "The future of W. J. Bryan is secure. Whether he shall ever again be called upon to lead the democratic hosts is a question of little moment to him, for by reason of his achievements in behalf of the people, he has so endeared himself to the great rank and file of the American democracy that wherever Bryan sets, in the democratic councils of the future—there will be the head of the table. There are other men who may find even higher favor amongst men who work at politics as a trade, and amongst those who sit in seats of the mighty, but Bryan's strength will be in the fact that in millions of American homes, and by millions of the true and earnest men and women by whose endeavors this country has been made great he will always be regarded as champion, and friend—the fearless foe of wrong and oppression everywhere."

"It is of little consequence to the great democratic party of America, that there may be men in Nebraska, who, because of religion and morality, may seek to discredit him. There are nearly six and one-half millions of men who so appreciate his unselfish work of the past fifteen years, that they will see to it that neither jealousy, prejudice, nor petty animosity shall ever a moment prevail against him."

"I have already said that there is no longer need of a discussion of the tariff question. The shroud of mystery with which that question has been enveloped and obscured for a quarter of a century has been removed and it stands out now as a mere question of taxation. When our adversaries in the last campaign conceded that the tariff is a tax burden, which rests upon the consumer, they conceded away the whole cause of protection. For the tariff question, thus stripped of mystery, is only as to whether this government should take the earnings of the people more tax money than it needs for government purposes, when economically administered."

"It is the democratic notion that your city government should take out of your earnings as much tax as the amount of money it needs; that your county government should levy upon you no more county tax than the county needs; and that your state government ought not to compel you to pay more state taxes than the state needs. And on these questions both parties are always agreed. No man has ever dared to advocate the monstrous proposition that either city, county or state should take a dollar more of the earnings of the people than might be found necessary for the economical administration of the respective governments."

Champ Clark's Speech. Champ Clark of Missouri, speaker-to-be of the national house of representatives, talked before Mr. Bryan, who was last on the program. Mr. Clark delivered an eulogy of the Nebraskaan. He said, in part: "Up to date Bryan's has been a strange fate. To originate and advocate as a pioneer important measures for the amelioration of political and social conditions and the perpetuation of the republic with a force, fervor and eloquence rarely equaled and never excelled; to be denounced bitterly, mercilessly, brutally for so doing; to be thrice defeated for the presidency for their advocacy, and then to see them adopted bodily and enacted into law by his political opponents while he is still in the prime of life. There is no state out of the 'Arabian Nights' more incredible than that, and that will be the most mystifying chapter in the history of the United States."

Republicans have not adopted all measures advocated by democrats in the last twenty years, but they have adopted so many that it is absolutely fair to say that the things which they denounce as anarchy when we first proposed them have now been adopted by them as true political gospel. It is also true that in sixteen years the republicans have enacted into law no great remedial measure which was not first proposed by democrats and, what is more, they could not have passed them through the house of representatives without the aid of democratic votes."

Roosevelt's Creed. "Almost every measure on which the good name of Theodore Roosevelt rests is fettered by democratic and republican alike with his bad fame will be bottomed, his new nationalism and similar doctrines, were originated by republicans. He boldly borrowed, seized, carried away and converted to his own use and to the use of the republican party any democratic proposition which was not too popular to be ignored or shunted out of the way, and then, though he forced them upon the statute books by democratic votes, he claimed not only the lion's share of the glory, but all the glory for himself and the republicans. In all these matters the democrats acted on purely patriotic principles. Knowing full well that he and his would monopolize the honors we supported them because they would benefit the people."

Mr. Clark declared the republicans had appropriated Judge John H. Reagan's plan of railroad regulation and that reciprocity is a late borrowing of Bourbon principles. Referring to the special session of congress, Mr. Clark said: "Nobody commissioned me to make up a program for the house democrats; but knowing them like a book I make bold to say that we will do our full duty to the party and the country by entering at once upon the fulfillment of the promise which we made to carry the election. No doubt the house will pass the Canadian reciprocity bill, either amended or unamended. At the same time we will begin the revision of the tariff downward, which we promised to do and which on the eighth day of the next session will be accomplished by a large majority commissioned us to do. Whether we will first pass the reciprocity bill is simply a matter of procedure to be thrashed out in the democratic caucus. In addition to all this we may take such other measures as may be deemed wise and in general legislation."

President Taft had full warning that if he called an extra session we would do as we pleased for both Mr. Chairman Underwood and myself told him so. There is no sort of difference between a regular and extraordinary session, except as to the time of convening. Certain republican leaders have begged us to call an extra session at once, and that alone by asserting that the president has the right to address congress. Two houses cannot agree on a date for adjournment. They seem to think they have discovered something new in the fact that the president has that power; but they are mistaken. It is so written in the constitution and it is only reasonable to assure that all representatives and senators have read that venerable document. The chance of his address, Mr. Clark devoted to a denial that there is anything but harmony in the democratic ranks."

permitted a day's rest before beginning regimental drill. Major General H. Gozman, chief sanitary officer on General Miller's staff, received orders last night to proceed at once to Japan.

He is one of the three officers appointed to spend three years in the orient for the specific purpose of studying the languages and special diseases. His successor has not been named. Captain A. D. Lathrop of the transport Sumner has returned to Newport News by rail to take command of the transport Meade, which it is said, will be placed in commission and made ready for any further movement of troops.

Insurrections Near Hermosillo. HERMOSILLO, Sonora, Midnight Sunday.—(Via El Paso, March 20.)—Runners have brought in the news that 700 revolutionaries are within twelve miles of the town. The municipal palace is filled with people who have been pouring in for an hour provided with blankets and quilts. Each has been issued a rifle. The town is almost unprotected by soldiers, as 300 men, including 100 Yaquis, marched out Saturday afternoon for Teres, where revolutionaries reported to have taken the Prietas mines.

Both sides use soft-nosed bullets. Soft-nosed bullets, forbidden by the rules of war, are being used by both sides in the Mexican campaign. Colonel Cuellar, who commanded the Mexican troops at the battle of Casas Grandes, reports officially that nearly all of the wounded men received their injuries from soft-nosed bullets. The report also comes from Agua Prieta that almost every federal soldier wounded there was shot with a soft-nosed bullet.

The Herald correspondent wires today from Hermosillo, Sonora, that he saw the federal march out from there Saturday with their belts full of soft-nosed bullets. He says there were no hospital appliances and no doctors with the federals.

BISHOP OF SONORA TAKES HAND Church Official Calls on Revolutionists to Lay Down Arms. GUAYAMAS, Sonora, March 20.—(Via El Paso.)—Local papers this afternoon publish a proclamation of the bishop of Sonora, calling on the revolutionists to lay down their arms. The letter has created a sensation and may cause some cessation of hostilities. Another bridge burned east of here on the Southern Pacific line to Manzanillo, has tied up the railroad.

MEXICALI, March 20.—Quijada, the rebel jefe (major) of Mexicali, marched out of here today with twelve men to join the rebel army of Generals Leyva and Berthold at Pichachos pass, about forty miles southwest of here. General Stanley, with fifty rebels, today drove across the international line a number of undesirable, against whom American saloon keepers in Mexicali had made complaint of graft. Immediately afterward Stanley, with his detachment, left Mexicali to the east, where it is said Mexican federals may make another attempt to cross.

Five Arrested in Germany as Spies Four Shipyards Employes and One Foreigner Charged With Giving Information About Warships. HAMBURG, March 20.—Five persons, including one foreigner, were under arrest charged with espionage. The foreigner had been under close observation for some time by government detectives while passing back and forth between Hamburg and Bremen, where they were working on a construction. He was suspected of attempting to establish relations with the shipyard employes.

A special detective from Berlin placed the foreigner and the others under arrest. It is asserted that a second foreigner managed to evade the detectives. Four of the prisoners are shipyard employes and are accused of supplying information about the warships. So far as can be ascertained the incriminating evidence found is not of a grave character, but the police are unusually reticent. Conflicting reports are current regarding the nationality of the prisoners. It is alleged in some quarters that the chief spy is an Englishman.

NEGRO EDUCATOR BADLY HURT

Booker T. Washington Unable to Appear Against Assailant. ELEVEN WOUNDS IN HIS SCALP Man Who Attacked Him Says He Mistook Him for Provoker—Victim Says He Was Looking for Address of Friend.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Booker T. Washington was not able to appear in court today because of the injuries he received last night, according to the statement of his attorney, and the hearing of the charge against Albert Ulrich, the carpenter arrested last night on his complaint of felonious assault, was postponed until tomorrow. Ulrich was held in $1,000 bail.

Ulrich, a white man, maintains today that he was acting within his rights when he pursued the negro educator for several blocks before a policeman appeared. Ignoring the negro's identity, he declared that his wife had complained to him of a negro she had met in the hallway of their flat house in West Sixty-third street.

Mr. Washington, who was sent to Flower hospital, where sixteen stitches were taken in his scalp, asserted that his mission to that neighborhood was perfectly legitimate and that he had been misled by the innocent victim of an atrocious assault. Attorney Smith, who represented Mr. Washington, told Magistrate Cornell that his client had eleven wounds and that one of the wounds had caused a serious hemorrhage of the ear.

Mr. Washington's wife then to his apartment at the Hotel Manhattan after having his wounds dressed, told the police that he had received a letter from his secretary saying that D. C. Smith, the auditor of Tuskegee college, of which he is the head, was in New York City and desired to see him.

This letter said Mr. Smith was stopping with a cousin, giving the name and address. Mr. Washington, "On Sunday I attended church services twice and, after speaking at one church in the evening, I recalled the letter concerning Smith and decided to look him up. But I discovered that I had left the letter at the wrong address. I immediately afterward called on Mr. Smith at the address as being in West Sixty-third street. I went there and commenced to look at the name plates on the letter boxes in the halls of the different houses, seeking the name of Mr. Smith's cousin. He was while thus engaged that I was attacked."

Ulrich in an interview with his lawyers and others in court, said: "About 9 o'clock last night my wife went for a walk. We live on the ground floor of the house, No. 113 West Sixty-third street. When she returned she said she had seen a negro in the hall and that he spoke to her. Mr. and Mrs. Ravette and Mrs. Knowles, friends of ours, were in the house at the time. I went out and saw a man in the hall of the vestibule door ahead of me."

SECRET OF CHARMING ROSY COMPLEXIONS "Making complexions beautiful is not nearly so difficult a matter as most women suppose," says Mrs. Mae Martyn in the New York American. "Using the right beauty preparation is the main thing. 'Any woman who wishes to appear really charming and beautiful must taboo the powder box. Powder is bad, very bad for the skin. It clogs the pores, roughens the skin and encourages sallowness. To get rid of that shiny, greasy, rough, unattractive look, apply to the face, neck and arms, rubbing gently until dry, an inexpensive lotion made by dissolving four ounces of sorbum in one-half pint hot water, adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This lotion is the best skin whitener and beautifier I have ever seen. It does not rub off as easy as powder, doesn't show, but produces the natural, clear, clean, wholesome look.'—Adv.

BOY BANDITS FOUND GUILTY

After Being Out Only Few Minutes Jury Returns Verdict.

GIVEN TWO TO THIRTEEN YEARS

George Nagel, Third of the Trio, Will Be Given Separate Trial for Shooting Reuben Elton in a Holdup.

"Guilty of assault with intent to rob," was the verdict returned by the jury late yesterday afternoon in the case of Joseph Trimble and Russell Hermann, two of the trio of boy bandits on trial for the shooting of Reuben Elton in his drug store last January. George Nagel, the third of the group, in accordance with his request, is to be given a separate trial. The penalty in the case is from two to thirteen years in the penitentiary. The jury was out only a few minutes.

The trial was short, occupying only one day. Louis Platt, deputy county attorney, called only two witnesses besides the police officers. Elton, the victim of the hold-up, positively identified the boys as his assailants in the drug store. H. L. Kruger, a street car conductor, also identified the boys, saying that they boarded his car near the scene of the crime a few minutes afterward. At the time of his arrest next day a revolver was found upon Trimble's person with two empty cartridges in it.

Defense Asks Clemency. The defense called no witnesses, although they argued for an hour, urging the youth of the boys and assailing the reliability of the testimony offered by the police, whom they said, were anxious to make any arrest as a showing in response to the public indignation over the large number of holdups occurring at that time. Attorney Platt warmly denied the charge and paid a tribute to the efficiency of the Omaha force. G. E. Bertrand and M. C. Fraser were the attorneys for the defense.

The crime of which the boys were found guilty was committed January 11. Elton was shot twice by two unmasked persons who tried to hold him up in his store at Twenty-fourth and Bristol streets. The police are positive that the three boys are the ones responsible for a large number of the holdups which were so numerous last winter. Trimble was out on parole at the time of the crime, having been bound over on a charge of similar nature last fall.

HAIR INSURANCE INSURANCE AGAINST PREMATURELY GRAY HAIR. In these up-to-date days, it is possible to purchase insurance on anything. Insurance is, practically, taking a chance, with the chances figured largely in favor of those issuing the insurance—not those who buy it. Hair insurance is different, in that the one buying the insurance obtains full value at the outset, with correspondingly increased values for the greater amount bought; while the sellers of this insurance are likely to lose unless the purchasers obtain full value at once.

This applies to Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, for if it does not increase what is claimed for it, the sales would naturally drop off; whereas if it gives satisfaction the increased sales give it the only chance to be successful. However, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy does "make good," as evidenced by its daily increasing sales. Druggists say that this preparation gives the best satisfaction of any hair remedy ever sold. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It removes dandruff, strengthens the hair, gives new life to dry or parched hair, and gradually restores gray hair to natural color. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle and is recommended and sold by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., and Owl Drug Co.

Cost of Human Life In Mining Coal Eleven Hundred and Twenty-Five Lives Lost in Mines of Pennsylvania Last Year. HARRISBURG, Pa., March 20.—It cost the lives of 1,125 men to mine 231,060,070 tons of coal in Pennsylvania last year, according to the annual report of the chief of the state department of mines, just issued. The report gives the following statistics: Bituminous coal produced, 148,696,778 tons; persons employed, 187,711; killed, 527. Anthracite coal produced, 82,363,294 tons; persons employed, 167,827; killed, 198. The loss of life in the bituminous district for every 1,000,000 tons produced was 3.54 and in the anthracite districts 1.15.
