

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Both Bears and Bulls Lack Confidence in Wheat Market.

CASH WHEAT STILL DEPRESSED

Our Buyers Are Disappointed that Feeding Operations and Demand Have Not Raised Values of Their Product.

OMAHA. March 26, 1911. There is a lack of confidence both on the bear and bull sides in the market. Traders are not inclined to follow the advances or declines far.

The cash wheat situation is still depressed, but the market is holding. The supply is decreasing faster than it did a year ago, however, receipts being much lighter.

Midwestern crop news is the ruling factor, however, for the time being.

The buyers of corn who were of the opinion that the heavy consumption demand feeding operations would raise values have not been disappointed.

Receipts have been very light but shipments have disappeared, receipts being well supplied.

After too early orange wheat rates have owing to poor cash demand and flour mill sales, were down to $1.00 per bushel. Sampson was the lower on the floor.

Corn weakened under selling pressure of old corn weakened and sold more rapidly than the decline. Cash corn was the lower.

Primary wheat receipts were 26,000 bushels and shipments were 26,000 bushels against receipts of 26,000 bushels and shipments of 27,000 bushels.

Primary corn receipts were 76,000 bushels against receipts last year of 126,000 bushels and shipments of 140,000 bushels.

Shipments were 100,000 bushels of corn, 100,000 bushels of wheat and flour equal to 26,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed 4¢ higher on wheat and 1¢ higher on corn.

Weather in the Grain Belt.

OMAHA, March 26, 1911. Moderate head rains occurred in the Atlantic and southern states within the last twenty-four hours, and light rains were scattered over the extreme upper Mississippi valley. The weather was steadily cloudy weather still prevails from the lower lake region east to the coast and also along the Gulf coast. No precipitation whatever has occurred in the central and throughout the entire west within the last twenty-four hours, and generally clear weather prevails west of the Mississippi river, except that general rise in temperature is apparent in all portions of the country, except in the south Atlantic and gulf states, where a slight but general fall has occurred. With the areas of relatively dry weather continuing in the central valley, and the generally condition of clear weather prevailing over the central and western portions of the country is favorable for continued growth in the grain belt, and with no much change in temperature.
