The Land Show Idea

It is gratifying to note the spread of interest in the land show idea and to find that New York is to have one of these expositions at Madison Square garden next November. It will apparently be conducted along much the same lines as the shows in Omaha, 41.60 Chicago and Pittsburg that have made such distinctive successes. The same general purpose that actuates the Omaha Land show underlies the enterprise to be held in New York-not onth. Mc to stimulate land speculation, but to attract people to the land. The slogan of the eastern show will be "Back to the Soil." It has for its sponsors such men as James J. Hill, Lew W. Hill, Horace Havemeyer, Gustav Pabst and other railroad and industrial men, and it is interesting to note that some of the photographs being used in the publicity of this show were taken in Omaha during the corn shows given here, in which the Hills manifested such active interest.

It cannot help but be a matter of mail accounts. Under such conditions it is easy to underwhich may or may not be a panacea for stand why the present state of affairs has continued so long and how difficult it will be to remedy. One has only to recur to the many historic campaigns of invasion in Spain and to the time the English had in finally breaking the power of the Boera in South Africa to feel that the situation may be serious enough and that if we have to deal with it, it will be no holiday jaunt -that too, with summer coming on. It is an entirely different thing from invading a country where the government and the ole, as a whole, are involved and constitute the enemy.
