The theatergoers of this city are awake to the fact that the musical comedy, "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge," which comes to the Dehany theater on Sunday matines and night is a production of extraordinary magnitude and high standard, is evidenced by an unusual number of requests that seats be laid aside prior to the opening of the regular advance sale. The sale opens this morning and the first in line will have the first choice of seats. Owing to the unusual interest manifested in the sngagement, and probable heavy demand for seats, it has been decided not to sell more than ten seats to any individual, thus protecting regular theatergoers against paying advance prices. "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge" comes here direct from extended engagements in New York City and Chicago, with practically the original and Chicago, with practically the original cast, and promises to be the distinct nov-elty of the season.

The Board of County Supervisors yesterday opened the bids submitted by local physicians for the privilege of doing the pauper work for the next year. Either seen competition among the physicians themselves or discovery of the fact that there is but little professional work to do for the public charges has resulted in beating down the price asked for the work until the minimum of $125 was reached by the low bid filed yesterday. As high as $800 has been paid to recent years and previously as much as $800 has been paid to physicians for the work awarded by the board after examination of competitive price has never exceeded that figure. As high as brought at least a proportionate if not greater increase of indigent patients. The lew hid yesterday was filed by Dr. Merie Warner, whose office is as $900 fronds.

GOOD READING

In what other magazine will you find so much good reading and real entertainment for the entire family as there is in the April Century?

Where will you find three such unusual stories as Eden Philipott's "The Two Farmers," J. W. Muller's "The Man Who Saw It," and Ellis Parker Butler's "The Last Conversion of Sally-in-the-Hollow?"

Where will you find three such papers for the progressive, broad-minded American business man as The Industrial Progress of Italy," by the Mayor of Rome, "Porto Rico in Transition." by Albert Bishon Mason and "Scientific Management," by Will Irwin? Where two such dramatic articles as Walter P.

Eaton upon Mrs. Fiske and her influence upon the American stage, and William Winter's paper on how Macbeth has been acted since the time of Shakspere? Where such articles for the home circle as "The Decay of Manners," by Thomas Nelson Page, and Suburban Gardening," by Frances Duncan?

This doesn't mention the two great serials, "Martin Luther" and Robert Hichens" The Dweller on the Threshold," which you have been reading if you have been getting the Century regularly.
