Farmer Adopts Waif Who Proves to Be Son of a Wealthy Family

A. E. Eichenkamp, a prominent farmer living near Arlington, thought that he was doing a kind and charitable act when at the request of the juvenile authorities he adopted Willie Moore, a forlorn looking waif that straggled into Omaha about a month ago from Chicago. In reality he had under his charge the son of a wealthy and prominent Chicago family, a runaway for whom a large reward was out, and who was not Willie Moore at all.
 The boy first came to Omaha about a month ago, regarding the probation officers with a heartrending tale of misery and giving his name as Willie Moore. He was placed in the Detention home until last week, when he was given over to Mr. Eichenkamp.
 The boy seemingly grew tired of his present Tuesday and told his foster father who he was and of the reward that was offered for his recovery. Mr. Eichenkamp immediately reported the surprising occurrence to the juvenile authorities. They wired the Chicago police and this morning received a telegram from Stephen Wood, chief of detectives, verifying the story and remitting transportation.
 Authorities are now wondering how large the reward is and how much of it will come to "the Omaha end." They refuse to give out the real name of the boy.
 Sealed by Steam or searched by a Fire. Apply Buckler's Arnica Salve. Cures piles, too, and the worst sores. Guaranteed. 25c. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.
CALDWELL COMING TO OMAHA
 Contractor Will Make Personal Investigation of Court House Drafting.
 George W. Caldwell of the firm of Caldwell & Drake, the court house contractors, has been spurred to action by the anonymous letter of threats. Miss Helen Sinclair, the office manager of the firm here, received a telegram from the general office at Columbus, Ind., today stating that he had changed his mind and would be here Friday to look into the dynamiting.

Real Tailors to "cut down" ladies' coats

It's a risky job to cut down a lady's coat—if the tailor who does the cutting is an amateur.
 If you entrust such work to us, it is passed over to a REAL tailor of years upon years of experience.
 Thus, you will have a nobly NEW styled coat, cut of an old one—28 to 28 inches in length—and the job will have cost you $1—never more than $1.25.
 Don't trust EVERYBODY to cut down a coat—phone Tyler 1200 or Auto A-2225. (Express paid one way on shipments of $2.00 or over.)

Look for This Name on Handle
 The Little Polly Broom
 It is the name that tells you how to know a good broom, and a good broom is worth knowing—not only because it saves you money, but because it saves work—and what work is harder than sweeping?
 Easy sweeping and clean floors are the rule where The LITTLE POLLY Broom holds sway. Happy faces prevail where it is used and the aches that follow sweeping day are conspicuous by their absence.
 The Little Polly Broom is a triumph in broom making, because we have gone a step farther than others have thought possible—we make a better broom with finer service in it, and a beautifully finished handle that can't stick. Try The Little Polly and prove it.
