

BOYS ARE MURDER SUSPECTS

Police Hold Two Messengers and Seek Third for Cohn Killing.

TANGIBLE EVIDENCE IS LACKING

Lines Fail to Connect Those in Jail with Share in Crime—How— and Clark Given Thirty Days.

Back over the same trail as that pursued in the investigation of Twigg, Deland and Steinger, the police are working in their endeavors to connect three messenger boys with the murder of Herman Cohn. So far efforts of the police to connect Ted Sharkey and Albert Shaffer of Council Bluffs, now in custody with the crime, have failed of success.

Will Hampton, messenger boy, reported at the police station Thursday morning, but was not held.

No one has yet identified the revolver dropped by the assassin of Cohn, according to Captain Savage. Shaffer pawned a revolver, but it was a .38-caliber Colt's, while the one that killed Cohn is a "bull-dog" type, but of different caliber from that with which the murder was committed.

Detectives were out all Thursday morning locating the mess who were victims of messenger boy attacks during March. Shaffer went to work for the messenger company on March 11 and his hours were from 12 o'clock noon until midnight. His time slips reveal no greater absence from the office than would be naturally consumed by his runs.

A previous suspect, Howard Clark, arrested in company with Tom Carr, 2023 Farnam street, was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail as a suspicious character.

Dean Hinger of South Omaha, victim of a holdup, called at the police station, but was unable to identify the boys in jail as having had a part in it.

Other holdup victims are to be put face to face with the boy suspects with the purpose of gaining, if possible, evidence tending to show that the two were connected with robberies in Omaha. The same men who sought to identify other suspects are robbers will be called.

Richardson Wants Drinking Cups and Not Automobiles

Chairman of Supplies Committee Wants to Know—Drinking Cup Proposition Turned Down.

Just why the Board of Education has funds to buy automobiles for the use of the committee on public grounds and cannot find sufficient funds for the purchase of drinking fountains and cups for the public schools is a situation that James Richardson, a member of the board, wants explained.

As chairman of the committee on supplies, Richardson recommended the installation of septic drinking fountains in the schools. The estimate of the cost was about $1,500. Richardson's recommendation was turned down, he says, on the grounds that funds were not available for the purchase. Richardson has been up in arms ever since.

Ak-Sar-Ben Fetes Are Better Than Europe

Charles Beaton Finds Meal Prices Just as High in the Old World.

Charles D. Beaton, one of the several Ak-Sar-Ben governors, who has been spending the winter in other climes, returned to Omaha Wednesday. Mr. Beaton has been to Europe on an eleven weeks' trip, visiting England, and practically all of the countries of Europe except Russia.

On his visit there the Ak-Sar-Ben booster attended many of the carnivals and fairs given by the Europeans and not one of them in his estimation came up to the Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben nor any of the other great carnivals held by American cities.

"The carnivals in Germany, Italy, France, and all the countries consist of the men and women throwing confetti and paper streamers. There are no shows, and their street parades are very flimsy affairs, and always carried on in the daytime. The main carnivals in Nice, and other Italian cities, are in no way practical here, as American women would be very much insulted at the roughness of the proceedings and the actions of the revelers," said Mr. Beaton.

Among the cities Mr. Beaton visited was Lisbon, Portugal. The capital of the deposed Manuel is a beautiful city, he declares. The Portuguese citizens are divided even yet in their allegiance to Manuel and to the republican government established. Several of the prominent citizens admitted to him and to other Americans visiting there that it was not to Manuel that they objected, but to his advisers, and the queen.

"And speaking about living being cheaper in Europe than America is a joke," remarked the returned traveler. "Not a first-class hotel there but charges identical rates as the hotels here. Theater prices are almost beyond belief, and the performances almost without exception, poor. We were even disappointed in the grand opera given at Paris.

"But in progress of all kinds the nations of the old country are not one bit behind the United States. I was surprised in many cities at the manner in which things were carried out. They beat our cities in some ways."

He Loved and Lost and Went to Jail

Swain from Pierce, Neb., Has a Day Filled with Adventures Which Ends Badly.

He came, he saw, he loved. He paid. She went. He's jailed.

Love, money and luck admixed with the fickleness of the object of his adoration took Henry Vanderoh, farmer, from Pierce, Neb., through a dizzy whirl of experience Thursday morning—and left him in the hands of the police.

Vanderoh came to Omaha Wednesday night. He met Josta Smith. He liked her, told her so, and proposed.

"Pay my debts and I'll go back to the farm with you," said Josta, in her own practical little way.

Vanderoh visited Allen & Dudley, commission dealers, South Omaha, and cashed a check for $150.

He paid $80 worth of Josta's debts. "Then he called for Josta. "She went away with another fellow this morning," he was informed at the door. "I understand they are to be married."

At the police station Vanderoh told his story. Accompanied by an officer he started after Josta.

"What did you say your name was?" asked the officer, half a block from the station.

"Vanderoh," "Come back to the station." The check which Vanderoh cashed in South Omaha has been returned as bogus. He is held pending investigation. Vanderoh is fairly well-to-do and is expected to make good the check.

Auto Hose Wagon to Be Tested Saturday

Eighty-Horse Power Combination Truck Bought by the City Has Arrived.

The motor driven combination chemical and hose wagon, recently purchased by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, for the use of the fire department, will be given its first public trial Saturday morning.

The vehicle has arrived and is quartered at the engine house at Eighteenth and Harney streets. A demonstrator from the manufacturers will arrive in Omaha Friday morning, according to Chief Galtier, and as soon as details can be completed, the wagon will be given a public trial.

The trial will consist of a run through the streets of Omaha, which will include those thoroughfares which are of steep incline. The new wagon, which is driven by an eighty horse power motor, is capable of developing a speed of forty miles an hour. It carries about 2,000 feet of regulation hose, nearly twice as much as the present wagons. The tank has a capacity of forty gallons. The wagon cost $5,450.

HEAD WAS SCALY HAIR ALL CAME OUT

And Baby's Face Broke Out in Red Bumps, Spread on Hands and Arms. Got Worse All the Time.

Mother Says, "I Don't Think Anything Else Would Have Cured Him Except Cuticura."

"When my first baby was six months old he broke out on his head with little bumps. They would dry up and leave a scale. Then it would break out again and it spread all over his head. All the hair came out and his face broke out all over in red bumps and it kept spreading until it was on his hands and arms. I bought several boxes of ointment, gave him blood medicine, and had two doctors to treat him, but I got worse all the time. He had it about six months when a friend told me about Cuticura. I sent and got a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a case of Cuticura Soap and a box Cuticura Ointment. In three days after using them he began to improve. He began to take long naps and to stop scratching his head. After taking two bottles of Resolvent, two boxes of Ointment and three cakes of Soap he was sound and well, and never had any breaking out of any kind. His hair came out in little curls all over his head. I don't think anything else would have cured him except Cuticura."

I have bought Cuticura Ointment and Soap several times since to use for cuts and sores and have never known them to fail to cure what I put them on. Cuticura Soap is the best that I have ever used for toilet purposes. (Signed) Mrs. F. E. Harmon, R. F. D. 2, Aloha, Tenn. Sept. 10, 1910. Sold everywhere. Potter Drug & Chem.
