of a laundry at the Asylum for the Insane at Hastings was passed in the senate this morning. The bill came from the house with the amendment placed at $15.00. The senate raised the amount to $20.00.
H. R. 465, appropriating $2,000 for a vault for the insurance department of the state auditor's office was taken up. Senator Selbeck had the bill recommitted for amendment, raising the amount to $5,000.
H. R. 306, a drainage bill, was passed.
Senators Burrhead and Bodison joined in a motion that the flag flying from the staff above the senate chamber shall at end of the session be presented to the Grand Army post at St. Paul, Neb., and the flag back of the president's desk shall go to the Grand Army post at Kearney. Two or three of the senators opposed the motion on the ground that it was establishing a precedent that the veterans had plenty of flags and that it was not necessary for the senate to present them with flags to call thoughts of patriotism to the minds of the old soldiers. Many eloquent speeches were made and the motion was finally adopted.

Committee of the Whole.
The senate then went into committee of the whole. The following bills were ordered to third reading:
H. R. 465, appropriating $5,000 for a vault for the insurance department.
H. R. 239, relating to election boards and providing that the separate ballot box must be used for constitutional amendments.
H. R. 184, relating to mortgages, releases and assignments.
H. R. 236, prescribing a method for testing grain.
H. R. 137, relating to assignments.
H. R. 178, a closed primary bill.
H. R. 177, relating to the state veterinarian and the control of infectious diseases.
H. R. 186, by McCarthy, allowing defects in titles to be explained away by affidavit.
H. R. 178, by Bushie, changing government of county high schools.
H. R. 187, by Anderson, compelling railroads to furnish temporary shipping pens.
H. R. 184, by McKiesick, committee county assessor's law.
H. R. 100, by Shoemaker, making carrying concealed weapons a felony.
H. R. 27, by Prince, board of control bill.
H. R. 60, by Cronin, salary increases for county commissioners.
H. R. 34, by Metzger, preventing importation or storage of fish during closed season.
H. R. 223, by Fries, allowing cities to condemn property for a mill dam site.
H. R. 230, by Neir, allowing governor to appoint member to succeed deceased legislator.
H. R. 444, by Stibbins and Poles, prohibiting throwing guns or traps on highways.
H. R. 209, by Gerdies and Poles, requiring state buildings to be erected for appropriated amount.
H. R. 211, by Gandy, requiring registration of stallions.

Indefinitely Postponed.
The following bills were indefinitely postponed:
H. R. 130, in reference to the perfecting of titles to real estate.
H. R. 240, requiring hunters and fishers to take out a license even in their own county and changing age limit in respect to applicants for license.
H. R. 244, exempting state bonds from taxation.

Committee is Overruled.
The senate overruled the report of the committee of the whole indefinitely postponing H. R. 240, in regard to licenses for hunters, and also H. R. 244, exempting state bonds from taxation, and these two bills were ordered to third reading.

OMAHA CHARTER BILL VETOED

House Lacks Eleven Votes of Passing it Over Governor's Objections.

REASONS FOR EXECUTIVE ACT

Says Weight of Sentiment is Strongly Against the Proposed Increase in Burden on the Tax-payers.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., April 7.—(Special Telegram.)—The veto on the Omaha charter bill reached the house of representatives this morning, and for lack of eleven votes, the house failed to pass the bill over the governor's disapproval. The bill was forty-nine to forty-one, and sixty was necessary to pass over a veto.

In setting forth his reasons for denying the city officials his approval, of the bill they drew, he goes over the arguments against heavy taxation which have been presented to him by interested property holders and quotes several letters in support of his position. His final decision is, he says, based upon the belief that the overwhelming sentiment is against the charter. He says in his message:

Message of the Governor.

"To the Honorable, the House of Representatives in and for the State of Nebraska: In considering house bill No. 61, which is amendatory of the charter in and for the city of Omaha, I am influenced by withholding my signature and approval of said measure because of the overwhelming evidence that has come to me through the citizens and taxpayers of said city. A public hearing was had in the executive office as to the necessity of having said amendments added to said charter. Both sides were heard in full and complete arguments. The merits of the proposed amendments were very ably presented by the city attorney and others in behalf of the present administration of the city of Omaha. As a rule, a legislature and an executive is influenced and absolutely does, in the main, what the legislative delegation from a city desires. In the way of a charter or charter amendments, but it is true in this case that overwhelming weight of sentiment seems to be against the charter amendments proposed.

Would Money Be Wisely Spent?

"The propositions to be considered, it seems to me in this matter, are these: Does the city need the increased money that these amendments provide for? If granted, will the money be properly expended? Has the money already in the hands of the present officials, who will be called upon to spend a large portion of the amount herein provided for, been judiciously and in a business like way spent in the past? If it has not, is it a good business proposition to entrust several hundred thousands of dollars more to the same officials, who have practically made a failure in administering the business interests of Omaha in the past. What are the burdens that the city is already called upon to shoulder and are not these burdens already sufficient proportions to call a halt. In arriving at these conclusions, I have had the benefit of a public hearing and have the personal letters of the owners of houses and of the business men of the city of Omaha to guide me in the conclusions that I have arrived at.

Taxes Increased Hundred Per Cent.

But before doing so, I call your attention to the following facts: First, that in the last four years the population of Omaha has increased less than 10 per cent. The salable value of its property has not undergone any material change, while the tax has increased 100 per cent, and this does not take into consideration the following astounding figures:

First there is a judgment against the city of Omaha, which is unpaid, $400,000. In past due hydraulic work, the city of Omaha is called upon to pay for the city water works in the form of a judgment that is now against it, that appropriation, $250,000. These enormous amounts must be raised in the next few years by the property owners of said city. Then is it wise to embark on an expedition of a general salary raising which those charter amendments provide for and an all-around increase of taxes, which amounts to about $500,000.

Now as to the necessity of this increased taxation, I am satisfied from the evidence that Omaha does really need the amount of money provided for in these charter amendments, but I am satisfied that the city would not get the full benefit of this large sum.

City May Make Own Charter.

"In view of the fact that a commission form of government is about to be provided for and a constitutional amendment enacted which will enable Omaha to make its own charter and absolutely have its own kind of government, it seems to me that it would be better to wait and let the people of that city decide for themselves whether there should be administered a new system of government rather than for this legislature to impose a new burden upon it, which, on the face of things, seems to be against the best interests of the city. I am firmly convinced that with a proper and efficient administration of the revenues provided for in the old charter, Omaha can get along in good shape until other provisions by a constitutional amendment and commission form of government have been adopted.

Police Management Criticized.

"It is said that there should be a much larger police force. I grant it, but I also say that there should be a better management of the present police force. I am informed that the police force of Omaha consists of ninety men, working in three shifts of eight hours each, and that there are only twenty policemen patrolling the large territory during the entire night. There is no necessity of such a situation. Why could it not be arranged so that seventy policemen could be on duty from 7 o'clock in the evening until 2 o'clock in the morning and let the force of twenty be on during the forenoon or a certain portion of the day when a man can take care of himself fairly well.

It is not desirable in this kind of paper, nor have I the time to prepare an elaborate statement of the situation that the evidence discloses to me in this matter, but suffice it to say that the objection to this measure at this time, as hereinbefore set forth, are amply sustained by a large majority of the property interests of said city, upon which would fall the burden of all of this increased taxation and for these reasons, I veto house bill No. 61."

BOGUS COINS IN KANSAS CITY

Plot to Flood City with Counterfeit—Eagles and Double Eagles—Unearthed.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—What secret service men believe was an extended plan to flood the middle west with counterfeit gold coin has been discovered in Kansas City, Mo. It is an elaborate scheme, says Acting Chief Moran of the secret service bureau, that fifty-nine eagles and thirty-two double eagles, probably gross metal plated with gold, were found on the two men.
