

Dr. E. A. Carr. All of these men protested against the appropriation and all existing Dr. Carr are citizens of Omaha. Most of them were, in fact, representatives of Creighton University. The governor will not make his decision upon this bill possibly until tomorrow.

Look for Phone Jokers—Falls. The idea which became prevalent in Omaha today that there is a menacing "joker" in the telephone merger bill, which would allow the State Railway commission to grant a franchise to an electric light or power company in Omaha without the city's consent, seems to have been a mistake. The only copy of the bill in its final form is the enrolled copy in the possession of the governor and the public has no access to it. It is known, however, that for the consideration of the governor his secretary and others went through the bill section by section today trying to find any such pernicious clauses which might have been introduced into it. They found nothing which has not been evident from the surface. It gives the State Railway commission jurisdiction over the telephone companies, provides for a physical connection between the exchanges of competing companies and allows mergers under the regulation of the commission.

Princess Irene is Safe in the Harbor

North German Lloyd Liner Which Was Fast on Sands Eighty-Three Hours Little Damaged.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Displaying two black balls, the usual "not under control" signal, the steamer Princess Irene today safely passed into the harbor entrance, which it missed last Thursday morning in the fog, burying its nose instead in the Fire Island sandpit, where it was held a prisoner for the better part of four days. Except for a broken rudder post, the Irene was believed to be none the worse for its imprisonment off the Lone Hill lifesaving station, from which it was released yesterday afternoon after its 733 passengers had been taken off and landed safely Saturday morning. Because of the derangement of the steering mechanism, however, the liner was not privileged to come in under its own steam. It was surrounded by a fleet of tugs, which had escorted it from Fire Island waters to an anchorage outside the bar late last night. At 4:45 the Irene started in Sandy Hook in tow of four tugs. At the rock it will be examined by divers and then sent to Newport News for examination in dry dock. The greater part of the cargo is still on board and it will be discharged at Newport News as soon as possible.

Bearing no visible scars except a shattered post, the North German Lloyd liner Princess Irene, slipped away from Fire Island Sunday afternoon as unexpectedly as it had come in the fog of Thursday morning. After eighty-three hours of imprisonment in the sand she cheated the "graveyard of the Atlantic" and was floated with the aid of tugs at 2:05 p. m. At 8:40 o'clock it left in tow for Scotland light to anchor for the night. It has been an iron rule with the North German Lloyd that a captain who loses his ship shall be dismissed from the service. But as the veteran Peterson of the Princess Irene will take his ship back across the Atlantic under her own steam, it is the assumption his personal grief will be his chief punishment.

MAJOR DEVEREAUX IS DEAD

Retired Army Officer is Found Dead in His Home at Fort Thomas, Kentucky.

CINCINNATI, O., April 10.—Major Charles H. Devereaux, U. S. A., retired, was found dead in his home on the Fort Thomas military reservation today. He was a veteran of the civil war and Spanish-American war and won commendation from his superiors because of gallantry at the charge up San Juan hill, Guisno which he was in command of a part of the Ninth Infantry. He was 62 years old. According to the coroner, death was due to natural causes.

SAFE ROBBED AT PORTLAND

Ten Thousand Dollars Taken from Strong Box of Mace's Meat Market. PORTLAND, Ore., April 10.—Sometime before the closing on Sunday night of Mace's market in this city and the opening today the safe was blown open and about $10,000 taken. The robbers removed the safe from the office to the cooling room, wrecked it and escaped without attracting attention.

The Beautiful Hair That Artists Admire

(American Art and Artists) "Many a model's hair is ruined by soap and water. Have you not often seen long and glossy tresses deteriorate from the ideal 'crowning glory' of women to a faded, coarse, matted mass?"

"A portrait painter of renown advises his subjects to use only a dry shampoo before sitting. The best shampoo powder is easily made in the studio or at home. Put a half pound of corn meal in a jar, add four ounces of ammonia and stir well. Sprinkle a tablespoonful over the hair and then brush it out thoroughly. "Corn meal cleanses the scalp and hair roots, removing every particle of dirt, oil and dandruff, and ammonia makes the hair beautifully soft, fine and glossy, with the natural color heightened. It is said there is no better hair grower than ammonia."—Adv.

Omaha Lad Wins Honors at University of Michigan

Honors have been conferred upon Louis P. Haller of Omaha through his election to Phi Beta Kappa at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

The announcement of the election of sixteen undergraduates to the honorary fraternity was made at Ann Arbor Monday. Further recognition for the west was gained in the election of Ralph J. Block of Sioux City.

Mr. Haller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Haller, 2312 Poppleton avenue. He was a student of high standing at the Omaha High school.

The honor conferred upon these two western young men is the more significant in view of the fact that but sixteen of the senior class, numbering 500, were chosen to membership in the organization.

The number of students who attained the honor this year is markedly less than that of last year, when thirty seniors were elected. Lyman L. Bryson, a member of The Bee staff, was of the number chosen last year.

MICHAEL J. LINK FOUND DEAD

Man Who Confessed to Taking Bribe for Lorimer Dies Suddenly.

PERJURY CHARGE WAS DISMISSED

He Obtained Immunity from Prosecution by Appearing as a Witness for State—Death Due to Apoplexy.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—Michael J. Link, former member of the Illinois state legislature, who was indicted by a Chicago grand jury for perjury and turned state's evidence in the investigation of the election of United States Senator William Lorimer, was found dead in a bath tub in his home at Mitchell, Ill., today.

Death, according to the family physician, was caused by apoplexy. He said a blood vessel burst in the brain.

A week ago Link celebrated the twentieth anniversary of his wedding. He told his guests he was subject to heart trouble and knew he was going to die suddenly. He said he had made all arrangements for estate if he should die.

Link was manager of the 3,000-acre farm of John Mitchell of Chicago. The farm is eleven miles from here, in Madison county, Illinois. In the grand jury investigation in Chicago Link testified he knew nothing of bribery in the Illinois legislature. After a confession was made by another member of the legislature and was indicted on the charge of perjury, he admitted he had received $1,000. He obtained immunity by appearing for the state.

After his perjury indictment was withdrawn he issued a statement that he had never accepted a bribe, but that the $1,000 was a gift and that it has no bearing on the legislature and contest.

Link's death occurred on the eve of the Helm committee investigation of the Lorimer election by the Illinois legislature, which is set to open Thursday. A statement was given out Sunday that every member of the former legislature who voted for Lorimer would be subpoenaed.

Link frequently had said to friends that he had told all he knew, and did not want to be questioned again.

He was 52 years old. A widow and two daughters survive him.

Government Will Appeal Cotton Case

Attorney General Takes Exception to Decision that Patton Corner in Cotton Was Not Illegal.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Notice of an appeal by the government in the so-called cotton market conspiracy against James A. Patton and others was served today on counsel for the several defendants by United States District Attorney Wise. The appeal is from the recent decision of Judge Noyes in the United States circuit court sustaining the demurrer of defendants to certain counts in the indictment.

In his decision Judge Noyes held that while "corners" are illegal, the corner described in the indictment was not in violation of the general anti-trust statute.

No Decision in Oil and Tobacco Suits

Finding of Supreme Court in Cases Involving of Big Combines Goes Over for Week.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Another decision day passed without the supreme court of the United States announcing its decision in either the Standard Oil or the tobacco "dissolution" suits. This means that the decisions will not be forthcoming for one more week.

The case involving the constitutionality of the Missouri 1-cent passenger and maximum freight rates were restored by the supreme court of the United States today to its docket for reargument. No announcement was made as to the reasons which led to the restoration.

DEATH RECORD

W. J. Robinson, an employe of the Union Pacific railroad since 1890 and from 1894 until last November the agent of that road in South Omaha, died last Friday in Los Angeles. The body is on its way here now, and the funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the Masonic temple. Mr. Robinson was born in London, Canada, and came west in 1859, beginning his railroad work at Gothenburg, Neb., as a telegraph operator. He served in various capacities at Gothenburg, Valley, Kearney and South Omaha, and finally became agent at the last named city. Last November he left for Los Angeles because his health was bad, and became general freight agent of the Union Pacific there.

Cornelius McAuliffe, CHICAGO, April 10.—Cornelius McAuliffe, until recently managing editor of the Chicago Record-Herald, died here early today of diabetes. He had been in charge of the editorial department of the Record-Herald since the consolidation of the Times-Herald and the Record. He returned only recently from California, where he had gone in quest of health.

Ambrose Hinshaw, BEAVER CITY, Neb., April 10.—(Special Telegram.)—The funeral of Ambrose Hinshaw was held at Hinderly today. Mr. Hinshaw was an old soldier and a pioneer of the Beaver valley. He died at the soldiers' home at Leavenworth, Kan., as a result of a cancer.

Dr. John W. Phillips, BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 10.—Dr. John W. Phillips, one of the best known Baptist divines in New York and an Egyptian archaeologist of world-wide reputation, has accepted a call to become pastor of the First Baptist church of Mottin, Ala.

YOUNG TALKS OF DES MOINES

Iowa Senator Tells How Well His Home City is Governed.

OLD MACHINES TOO CUMBERSOME

He Says that Expenses Have Not Been Reduced, But that City is Getting Wore for the Money.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Senator Lafayette Young of Iowa today told the Senate all about the success of the commission plan of government as employed for the last three years in his home city of Des Moines and advised other municipalities to adopt it in the interest of efficiency. "We have not reduced expenses," said he, "but we have secured more for our money."

Asserting that there is entirely too much machinery in the old type of city government, he was more emphatic than the service demands. At Des Moines the old law of Des Moines had adopted the plan of placing its affairs in the hands of five commissioners with generally gratifying results. The commissioners are all elected at the same time and to them is entrusted the duty of selecting all other city officials. Each member of the commission represents the people of a ward. The work is divided up by themselves and not by law as the commissioners agree on their divisions at the beginning of the judicial year. One commissioner has charge of the public safety, including the fire and police departments. Another has charge of streets and public buildings. Another has charge of parks. Another has charge of public accounts. The mayor complains that he has not enough to do. The commissioners are paid by the year and are expected to give all their time to the work.

Cuts Out All Boards. "We have cut out all boards and commissions," Mr. Young went on, "we never complain to paying inspectors, we complain to the commissioner having charge of the work. We never go to his subordinate. We go to his boss. No commissioner is entirely independent of his department. The law does not give him a department. His associate commissioner could change him from one department to another. Our city charter has the recall. I endorsed the recall feature as applied to municipal government; I do not endorse it in a wider field. We have the initiative and referendum. I think these provisions might be beneficial in cities, but wholly impracticable in states."

This system Mr. Young characterized as the application of business common sense to municipal affairs, and said: "Governing municipalities is a business proposition and in no sense political. Cut out the city hall. Cut out the city council. Ninety per cent of all municipal functions are executive and not legislative; yet every municipal government has been organized on the supposition that at least one-half of the municipal functions were legislative."

Mr. Young expressed the opinion that every state and every community should have well restricted primary election laws. Story About Getters. One of Mr. Young's principal objections to the present method of conducting the business affairs of the cities was based on graft and he told a story illustrative of the operation of graft. The scene was laid in Arkansas. An employe of a grain elevator discovered a knot hole in the lower part of a bin. He stopped up the hole with a cob and when night came he began to steal the grain, which filled the bin, which he then reloaded through the knot hole. He then restored the cob. Every night, of his life for twenty-five years he stole a wagon load of grain from his employer and Mr. Young said that when he died, he undertook to give that knot hole to his heirs in his will as part of his estate. "This," he said, "illustrates the acceptance of the situation and the legitimacy of graft."

COMMITTEE PLACES DECIDED

General Joseph S. Smith, Maine, and Lieutenant Oscar M. Gottschalk, Ohio. In view of the fact that the military affairs committee as at present constituted is democratic, it is pretty safe to guess that no republican will be appointed to the Palmer vacancy.

Senator Brown today recommended the appointment of Dr. E. R. Stewart of Blair as a member of the board of examining surgeons at that place, vice Dr. Hiram Noble, deceased.

He recommended the reappointment of Roy E. Thomas as postmaster at Osmond and Will E. Needham at Bloomfield.

Representative Sloan has accepted an invitation to address the Nebraska State association at its meeting April 13 given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Woodruff and Miss Woodruff, formerly of Sutton, who will leave Washington to make their permanent home in the Hood river valley. Mr. Woodruff has for a number of years been connected with the Treasury department.

Polygamy Resolution Introduced. Representative Lobeck today introduced in the house of representatives the joint resolutions adopted by the house and senate of Nebraska favoring an amendment to the constitution prohibiting polygamy.

Representative Lobeck has received letters from Captain H. F. Elanasser and Colonel W. Edward Baehr of Omaha, urging the action at this session on so-called National guard "pay bill."

Senator Gamble today introduced the following bill: To purchase a site for a public building at Milbank, 10,000; to purchase sites and erection of buildings at Madison, 25,000; at Canton, and Vermillion, 100,000 each; a bill authorizing the secretary of the interior to appraise and classify lands in Indian reservations that have heretofore been opened to settlement and not yet appraised. There is considerable land of this character in Standing Rock and Cheyenne reservations in South Dakota, and small parcels in reservations in Montana.

Senator Crawford today introduced the following bill: To establish a fish hatchery station in the eastern portion of South Dakota, $5,000; to erect a new federal building at Hatfield, $5,000; to purchase a site and erect a public building at Chamberlain and Rapid City, $50,000 each.

Senator Warren today introduced bills providing for the purchase of a site and the erection of public buildings at Sundance and Newcastle, Wyoming. These cities under the Warren bills are to receive $50,000 each.

Senator Warren also introduced a bill granting to Wyoming two million acres of public lands to be sold by the state to aid in the maintenance of a system of good roads.

G. E. Kissel, Sugar Trust Broker, is Dead

Financier Under Indictment in Connection with Philadelphia Merger Passes Away.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Gustav E. Kissel, long prominent as a Wall street broker and for many years intimately identified with important financial interests, died early today at his home after an illness exceeding more than a month.

Gustav E. Kissel came into the spot light of publicity through the acquisition by the American Sugar Refining company and the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company of Philadelphia. Mr. Kissel, with the president and six directors of the American Sugar Refining company, known as the Sugar trust, were indicted by the federal grand jury in New York on July 12, 1909, on a charge of conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Adolph Segal, who a short time before had sold a sugar refinery at Camden, N. J., to the Sugar trust, had just completed a $200,000 refinery at Philadelphia, and announced that he would fight the American company. Segal, who had become involved in real estate transactions, was in need of money and had applied to various banks for assistance, offering as collateral stock in the new refinery.

The government alleged that the Sugar trust employed Kissel, as a broker, to offer financial relief to Segal. Kissel, according to the indictment, offered to lend Segal $120,000 on the security of 20,000 shares of the 50,000 shares of his new refinery. Segal accepted the loan. The government alleged that Kissel "deceived Segal as to the source of the money."

Soon after the loan was made, Kissel, according to the indictment, turned over the majority stock, which constituted a voting trust, to the American Sugar Refining company, a new board of directors was put in and it was voted to operate the Segal refinery.

The result was that Segal's income was cut off, he could not meet the interest on his loan and a crash came. Efforts were made to quash the indictments, but last December the supreme court of the United States held that the indictments were valid, and District Attorney Wise said he would proceed to trial at the earliest possible time.

Nashville to Meet in Sioux Falls. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., April 10.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Postmasters' League of South Dakota preliminary arrangements were made for the annual convention of the league, which will be held at Sioux Falls on June 13 and 14. The attendance is expected to be quite large, and the business men of Sioux Falls will make suitable arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting postmasters during the time they are the guests of the city.

"I Suffered Intense Pains in My Left Side."

Do you realize it is better to be safe than sorry, that it is the best policy to lock the stable door before the horse is stolen?

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy cured Mrs. C. C. Gokey, of a stubborn case of heart disease, such as thousands are now suffering with. Read what she says:

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was impossible for me to do thirty minutes work in a whole day. I suffered intense pains in my left side, and under the left shoulder blade, I could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath that I thought I should never be able to take a full breath again. The least exertion would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half-bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep well, had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured. MRS. C. C. GOKEY, Northfield, Vt.

If you have any of the symptoms Mrs. Gokey mentions, it is your duty to protect yourself.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is what you need. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your money is returned. Ask your druggist. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.
