

GUERRILLA CHIEF IS DEAD

Stanley Williams, Dies as Result of Injury by Federal Shell.

ELDER MADERO TO GO TO CAMP

Private Case Sent by Limantour to Convey the Leader's Father—Start Delayed by Comedy of Errors.

MEXICALI, Mex., April 10.—Stanley Williams, the guerrilla leader, who was wounded yesterday in the spectacular assault when his little force of eighty men engaged the entire Eleventh battalion of the Mexican army, died yesterday in the improvised hospital established by the United States troops at Calexico.

Together with the other dead brought from the battlefield five miles away, the fallen chieftain was buried tonight in the little graveyard at Mexicali, just behind the breastworks.

Williams' death was caused by a missile that plowed through the head at the base of the skull, tearing away the rear portion of the brain.

While not as sanguinary as the rebels themselves, at first believed, the defeat of Williams nevertheless proved a perfect rout of the attacking force. Fifty men who participated in the daring sortie have returned to Mexicali. Eleven others have deserted and are now in the jail established by the American troops at Calexico.

The remaining thirty-four of the band are believed to be dead, as the federalists took no prisoners.

Federalists Fail to Pursue. That any escaped alive is due only to the failure of the federalists to press their advantage and pursue the routed insurgents, as they fled in wild disorder from the field.

Colonel Miguel Mayot, the federal commander, said today at the little ranch that his loss was twelve dead and four hundred wounded.

Although Francisco Salinas, the rebel commander here, declared that Williams was the only dead and Timoteo Aguilar the only wounded among the insurgents, the solemn procession to the graveyard at nightfall disproved this.

The insurgents visited the battlefield today and looked the dead into two wagons. The federalists did not molest them and refrained even from visiting that portion of the field where the rebel commander had posted his men.

The rebels abandoned two wagons loaded with supplies when they broke into flight. These wagons were also standing on the field when the Americans under a Red Cross flag yielded the field. The victors cut the traces from the still harnessed mules in order that they might be given food and drink.

"We thought the wagons had been left for a purpose," said Colonel Mayot, "and for that reason we did not touch them. After the American demonstrators under a Red Cross flag approached the wagons, the Mexican commander sent a detail under protection of machine guns to bring the wagons into camp."

The supplies were evidently a welcome addition to the commissary department of the federalists, and were received with hand-clapping on the part of women camp followers.

Car Sent for Elder Madero. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 10.—A telegram was received here tonight by Francisco Madero, sr., saying a private car had been sent from the city of Mexico by Minister Limantour to carry Madero to Chihuahua to confer with his son regarding peace negotiations.

What may have been nothing more than a comedy of errors prevented a start from SA Paso by automobile to the rebel camp. Elder Madero received three telegrams from Minister Limantour, the first of which was ordered to deliver the passports to any one who should call with Limantour's card. This card was given to Senator Madero in New York by the finance minister upon his return from Paris.

Minister Limantour did not receive the passports from Senator Madero and said so repeatedly over the telephone. Last night the Madero party, thinking something wrong, decided to return here, where they arrived tonight. Meanwhile Minister Limantour was notified of the situation, and he sent a messenger to carry the passports, but he had been to the post and General Navarro, who also is at Juarez. The letter had said nothing to Colonel Tamborel and was waiting patiently for the messenger with the Limantour card.

Don Francisco asserted if the assurances were satisfactory he and his party will proceed at once to Chihuahua. He declined to view recent developments in the City of Mexico, and the warlike preparations of his son in any other than an optimistic light.

NOBODY CLAIMS THE RIFLES. United States Authorities Ready to Make Arrests.

LAREDO, Tex., April 10.—A shipment of two boxes, reported to contain rifles and ammunition, arrived here last night. The United States authorities had advance information of its arrival and maintained a strict surveillance over the shipment until an attempt was made to deliver to the consignee, a local pawn broker.

Evidently having fear of involving himself in difficulties through violation of the United States neutrality laws, the pawn broker disclaimed any knowledge of the shipment, notwithstanding charges were brought and refused to accept it. The shipment was returned to the railway depot where it remained unclaimed, but under close watch.

It is learned on reliable authorities that the shipment of guns, said to number twenty-five, is but a part of a consignment, more being destined to follow. It is reported in local railway circles, though without confirmation, that the total shipment numbers 1,000 rifles and that the boxes containing the guns are marked "A and M, Kentucky."

The authorities are watching developments closely and in the event the consignment is claimed, it is understood several arrests will follow.

RABBI WISE TALKS TO JEWS. Head of New York Synagogue Says Situation of Israel Was Never Worse Than Today.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The Rev. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue, speaking at Carnegie hall today, said: "The situation of Israel is never worse than it is today. Half of the world's Jewish dwells in a land of persecution and as far as the Jew of continental Europe is concerned there is the impotence of the Jew, or worse still, the indifference of the world."

MR. AND MRS. VICTOR WILES

ROMANCE ENDS IN MARRIAGE

An act of gallantry at the Union station in Omaha won Victor Wiles of Omaha a wife. The little romance began with the proffer some time ago of his services in aiding pretty Miss Eleanor Turner of Pacific Junction, Ia., with a heavy grip, and Saturday the two young people were married by Rev. M. P. McElure of the First Presbyterian church, Council Bluffs.

Miss Turner was starting from the Union station on her way over to the Burlington, when Victor Wiles, head of the information bureau at Union station, came up and offered his aid over with her suit case. Arriving at the Burlington station they boarded the train, and suddenly the cars started, carrying the polite young man along. It was Plattsburgh before it was possible for Wiles to disembark, and by that time a friendship had been formed. Wiles would have walked back to Omaha but for the fact that Miss Turner loan him money for a return ticket, as he found himself on the train without his purse.

6,000 WOMEN WITHOUT HOMES

Notorious District of Tokio Destroyed by Flames.

PALATIAL STRUCTURES BURNED

District Under Special Municipal Surveillance, Japanese Method of Solving Social Evil—Iron Bars Guard Structures.

TOKIO, April 10.—It is roughly estimated that $3,000,000 will cover the property loss caused by the fire which yesterday wiped out the Yoshiwara, that district of the capital where social license is permitted, under municipal surveillance.

According to today's official reports, no fatalities have been discovered. The evening papers, however, state that four or five persons were burned to death or killed while attempting to escape from their homes.

Eight persons were severely injured, while about 100 others received slight hurts.

The total insurance carried by the houses and shop owners in the neighborhood of $25,000.

The origin of the blaze is not known, but once started, the flames swept rapidly through the thousands of flimsy structures, destroying as well the many magnificent buildings and government hospitals belonging to the quarter.

About 5,000 houses and shops were burned, the fire extending over an area of approximately four square miles. Six thousand women residents of the Yoshiwara were made homeless.

Five hundred troops are guarding the northern territory. When the wind died down on the clear night, the entire northern skies of Tokio were ablaze from the glowing embers. It is impossible at present to estimate the total loss.

The world-famed Yoshiwara lies about one mile to the north of Asakusa park. The district presented a spectacle probably unparalleled in any other country, but reproduced on a smaller scale in the provincial Japanese cities, with its gorgeous structures, guarded by iron bars, directly on the street line and its thousands of gaily bedecked residents.

This whole quarter is under special municipal surveillance, with the result that at all times perfect order prevailed, enabling strangers to observe while walking through the streets the manner in which the Japanese have solved in their own manner one of the vexing questions of all the ages.

The district in the south was occupied largely by small and flimsy dwelling places and many tea houses.

In recent years several serious fires have occurred in Japan. In August, 1907, a conflagration at Hakodate destroyed 1,300 houses with an estimated loss of $1,000,000.

In March of the following year fire at Noda, near Tokyo, destroyed 400 houses, the damage being $2,000,000 and a few days later 1,000 houses were burned at Niigata.

In August, 1909, a conflagration reduced to ashes a large part of Osaka. The official report placed the number of dwellings destroyed at more than 11,000. These included business blocks and twenty temples.

ROBBER REFUSES SLOW WATCH

Fastidious Bandit Replaces Timepiece in Youth's Pocket, but Keeps Money.

A very fastidious and exacting robber held up and robbed Bernard Smyth, the 18-year-old son of C. J. Smyth, the attorney, at Thirty-eighth and Dodge streets at 11:45 o'clock last night. Because the youth's watch was fifteen minutes slow the robber, after having taken $1.75 from a trousers pocket, replaced the timepiece in the small watch pocket with a supercilious sneer. Young Smyth was on his way home, 710 North Thirty-eighth street. He reported the robbery to the police immediately and detectives were detailed on the case.

This Prescription Knocks Rheumatism

The only logical treatment for rheumatism is through the blood. A prescription, which has recently proved wonderfully effective in hospital work, is the following: Any drugstore has the ingredients or will quickly get them for you. Any one can mix them. "One ounce compound syrup of Sarsaparilla; one ounce Tonic compound; half pint first class whiskey." These to be mixed and used in tablespoon doses before each meal and at bedtime. This cured thousands here last winter. It relieves immediately.

Not only will it eradicate rheumatism quickly but it is a splendid system builder and soon restores appetite and vitality. Many persons troubled with rheumatism would not be without a bottle of this mixture on hand at all times.—Adv.
