New Sidewalks Must Be Laid in the Down Town District of City

City Engineer Says that Old and Dilapidated Walks Must Be Replaced at Once.

Better sidewalks in the business and downtown districts is the ultimatum of George Craig, city engineer. To gain his ends, Mr. Craig will serve notices on owners of property in the section that they will have to tear up the old sidewalks, which have become useless and substitute new walks.

Mr. Craig is preparing a list of the owners upon whom notice will be served. These notices will be sent out the latter part of the week. Craig says he will personally supervise the work and will not leave it to the sidewalk department, as has been the case in the past.

The district which Craig declares must provide better walks includes Farnham street, Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, and Douglas, Harney, Howard and Dodge streets. The owners will be instructed to lay either concrete or natural stone walks. In the majority of cases, they will put down concrete walks, as they are much cheaper, says Craig.

"For years I have been trying to get good sidewalks in the downtown district," says Craig. "Many of these walks are almost impassable and in many cases dangerous. They are a disgrace to the city and a source of danger to the public. Whenever notices are served, owners will have to comply or tell the court why not."

Plasterers at Court House Resume Work

Brand of Plaster Which is Being Used is Found to Be Satisfactory.

The force of plasterers working on the new court house, who were laid off last Friday noon by Architect Latenser when he found that the brand of plaster specified in the contract was not being used, returned to work Thursday afternoon, the plaster having tested out satisfactorily. It was charged the contractors were attempting to substitute an inferior brand. When the matter came up before the county board it was found that the brand of plaster specified in the contract did not exist. The affair was then turned over to John Latenser, the architect, with instructions to make tests of the plaster the contractors were using.

YEAR IN PRISON FOR IMPERSONATING OFFICER

John D. McCrea, Sentenced by Judge Munger—Three Persons Are Debauched.

Pleading guilty to the charge of impersonating a government officer, John D. McCrea, recently indicted by the federal grand jury, was sentenced to one year and one day in the federal prison at Leavenworth by Judge T. C. Munger in United States district court Wednesday night.

McCrea, while attending a moving picture show in Omaha on the night of November 12, met a girl by the name of Freda Livingston. After some conversation with her he arranged to board and room at her home. He told the girl he was a secret service officer.

On November 1 McCrea moved out to the home of the girl in one of the suburbs. The girl, in company with her brother, Hubert, and mother, had just moved in from the country. After being with the family for some time the supposed secret service officer managed to borrow $100 from the brother and $10 from Freda Livingston. He had been with the family but three weeks, when he left one day, owing the mother $10 for room and board.

The police and secret service officials were notified and McCrea arrested on a strip of land between Omaha and Council Bluffs. He was indicted by the grand jury on three counts.

The government authorities say there are several men in the city at the present time claiming to be secret service officials and the next one to be arrested will be given a limit, twenty years in federal prison.

BLOCK WATCHMEN TO REPORT

Commercial Club Asks They Report to the Police Department.

TO PATROL RESIDENCE DISTRICTS

Donahoe Says He Favors the Plan, Which, He Thinks, Will Help Out in Some Measure—Not in Uniform.

Block watchmen to work under the supervision of the chief of police and to report at regular intervals is a suggestion which has been made by the Commercial club to increase the efficiency of the police force in the residence districts. A committee of five from the club, consisting of Messrs. Eldor Ziegler, G. E. Haverstick, Thomas Fry, Clement Chase and W. F. Baxter, held a conference with Mayor Dahlman, Chief of Police Donahoe and W. F. Wappler and William J. Hunter, members of the police board, Wednesday afternoon.

The Commercial club requested that the chief of police be given supervision of special watchmen in the residence sections of the city. The plan provides for a number of these watchmen being employed by residents and to be paid by them. They are to patrol the streets and are to be sworn in as special policemen, empowered to make arrests.

To get the best work out of these special men, the club wants them to report to the chief of police regularly as evidence that they are on the job.

The scheme was discussed fully by the club members and the police officials. Chief Donahoe stated that it would be easy to handle these men, as all that would be necessary would be to provide them with keys for patrol boxes. They can report in at regular intervals to the night captains.

The police officials told the committee that they would do what they could to further the scheme.

"Such a plan would help the police to some extent," said the chief. "Of course special watchmen will not prove as good officers as regular men for this reason, they will not be uniformed. The uniform itself has as much effect as does the presence of the policeman. Plain clothes men are efficient only as detectives. As patrolmen they have proven themselves a failure. However, in the absence of funds to increase the police force as it should be, the suggestion of the Commercial club is good and timely."

Police Investigate Fire, Two Arrested

Officials See Suspicious Circumstances About Blaze at Resort on Tenth Street.

Acting on the report of the fire officials, the police arrested two women, Belle Wilson and Grace Miller, in connection with the fire at the rooms of Mrs. W. E. Garrity, 121 North Tenth street. In the rooms of the place Fire Chief Salter found three different rooms in which there were evidences of attempted arson. The blaze in one room broke out in a coal bin. A heap of burning paper was found in another room. Window curtains in a third room were found ablaze.

At the time of the fire the women were said to be absent and the only occupant of the building was Oland Blue, 2018 Ninth avenue, Council Bluffs. He was unconscious.

The Garrity woman could not be located this morning. Detectives Mitchell and Sullivan have been detailed on the case. The building, which is owned by the Home Real Estate company, was damaged to the extent of $1,000. The saloon of Frank Davis on the first floor was damaged to the amount of $400, while the furniture and fixtures in the restaurant of Dennis Karmey, 123 North Tenth street, were almost a total loss. It was said that the furniture and fixtures in the rooms of Mrs. Garrity were valued at $1,800 and will be a total loss.

FINDS THOMPSON NOT TO BLAME FOR SHORT WEIGHT

R. A. Thompson, grocer at Sixteenth and Leavenworth streets, at whose place John Grant Pegg, inspector of weights and measures, confiscated short-weight flour Wednesday, gained vindication from personal responsibility Thursday by official inspection of a car of flour.

Accompanied by Pegg and a number of other witnesses Mr. Thompson opened a car standing on the track and weighed out fifteen sacks. The flour as received from the mills was found to vary from several pounds under weight to several pounds over weight. The flour was shipped from Lincoln.

The case will probably be settled by the inspector without the filing of a complaint.

ALL HUNTERS MUST HAVE FISH AND GAME LICENSE

New Law Goes Into Effect April 1 and Affects All Who Hunt and Fish.

The county clerk's office has been inundated during the last two or three weeks with a flood of letters asking about the new fish and game license law, which provides for a universal license to be good in any county.

The point made by most of the questioners was whether or not it required a license to fish in their own county. Frank Dewey, deputy clerk, received a letter

Thursday from the chief game warden which made it clear that every one, no matter whether he is a resident or not, must have a license. The law goes into effect July 1.

DANNY DREAMER IS OUT. BUT HE FINDS HIS PUPPY

Youth Brings in Wrong Pap and Collects Reward — Pickering Finds Real Dog.

An old, yet new, con game was worked upon unsuspecting Blaine A. Durbin of the Omaha base ball club in regard to his lost dog. The dog has been found. Otis Pickering arose like a proper hero and recovered "Fred." But the con game stands. Danny advertised a reward to anyone returning the dog. Soon a youth with a cherubic face pranced into the Smokehouse, leading a pointer pup, white general lites locked to be those of the missing dog. A dollar was paid over to the lad by George Yeoman, Dave Bourke's assistant. Two minutes later in puffs the Dreamer, "Where's Fred?" as they supposed, only to see that look of supreme disgust arise upon Danny's features.

"That ain't 'Fred,'" he informs them and stalks out, thinking he was the butt of a joke. Subsequently Pick appears with the missing dog, which he had found somewhere, but the dollar and the lad are still absent.
