American Association—St. Paul at Toledo, Kansas-City at Indianapolis, Minneapolis at Columbus, Milwaukee at Louisville. Martin Reum, manager of the meat department at Hayden Bros., found himself in a peculiar predicament last Saturday because of a mistake of one figure in his advertisement in The Bee. He had advertised pork in other papers at 71/2 cents a pound. The Bee advertisement read 6% cents a pound. That the advertisement in The Bee was generally read was evidenced by the fact that Reum was compelled to sell over 2,000 pounds of pork at the lower figure to patrons, who had read his advertisement in The Bee.

"I hope there is no mistake in the figures en spring lamb for Easter," remarked Reum, as he brought in his advertisement for Friday afternoon. "So many people want spring lamb and the margin is so small it would be quite a calamity."

Samson Bids King's Subjects to the Opening Ball Game

Whereas, It picases our royal heart at all times that these, our beloved subjects within our ancient demeane, should be a happy and contented people, and should have divertisements and pastimes to lighten their every-day task and toil, and whereas it has seemed well that we should lend our royal countenance to the innocent pleasures of our feudal city, so it is our will that our court be alled together at diverse times where our people are assembled for games and

And since there are banded together each succeeding year a companie of gallant champions who bear our standard in honourable contest against our sister cities, and uphold the name of Omaha against all who challenge, it is our wish that as in the olden days the king and his court of nobles and ladyes fair, sate at the trials of skill and brayerie, on the opening day, to hearten the stout jousters and give them courage for their encounters, so should we lend our presence and our plaudits to our chosen champions, April 21.

Thus will we make known that King Ak-Sar-Hen, his gracious queen, his lovelis ladyes, and his gallant knights, stand always for what exalts the glorie of

Given under this our royal hand and seal in this royal city of Omaha this thirteenth day of April, in the year of our Lord, 1911. KING AK-SAR-BEN SIXTEENTH
