At the Theaters

Attractions in Omaha. "My Friend from Dixie" at the Brandeis.

"My Friend from Dixie" at the Brandeis. That peculiar quality of resonance which is found so exclusively in the voices of the children of Ham is much in evidence in the colored troupe that opened a three-day engagement last night at the Brandeis of the musical comedy, "My Friend from Dixie."

Tubful, ragtime songs, sung by a large chorus of dusky damsels, who manage to draw a good deal of harmony out of them, and some very clever soft-shoe dancing of the buck and wing style, constitute the real merit of the production.

"Truth About the Pole" at the Krug. Dr. Frederick Cook, the first to announce the discovery of the North Pole, is to be seen in pantomime at the Krug theater.

"Mandy Lee" at the Orpheum. The company supporting the principals has been carefully selected and the comedy is very well staged, so that it affords one of the best entertainments of the character ever presented.
