

mentarily expecting the battle to open and time and again, as the rurales scouting in the mountains outside the city fired at the curiously shaped rocks that look so much like men, the cry went up that the attack had commenced.

BUTTON FIGHT IS REOPENED

Union Men Declare They Will Not Return to Work Today.

TROUBLE OCCURS IN AGREEMENT

City Council of Des Moines Adopts Report of Commissioner Roe Exonerating Police Officers—Big Strike Pending.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, April 19.—(Special Telegram.)—There was great disappointment in labor union circles today when news came from Muscatine that the employers of the button workers had repudiated the agreement about reopening the factories.

E. W. VanDyke, state labor commissioner, and others returned at once to Muscatine for the purpose of aiding in a second settlement. It was reported that there was a misunderstanding as to the terms of the settlement, and as a result the union employes refuse to go back to work tomorrow. They claim that the employers planned to take back only a few of the employes and have the work done elsewhere.

Council Exonerates Officers. The city council today adopted a report of Commissioner Roe exonerating the two police officers who have been accused of accepting hush money from persons who operate gambling joints in the city. The report brought on a clash between the members of the council, and the accusation was made that the investigation was a farce. The civil service commission will be asked to make a new investigation.

May Start General Strike. Outside mill works will be forced either to unionize or abandon Des Moines if the carpenters succeed in carrying out the new rule that all mill work put up in Des Moines must bear the union label. The rule is aimed at Davenport, Dubuque and other river towns, with non-union shops and is part of a national attempt at organization by mill workers. Many carpenters think the enforcement of this rule will start a general strike in Des Moines.

Baxter Man Indicted. Leo Krampke of Baxter was today indicted by the Jasper county grand jury for the murder of Mrs. Matilda Hermensmeyer last February.

CANNON ATTACKS RECIPROCITY BILL

(Continued from First Page.)

In the transportation of agricultural products, the report says, cannot receive benefits of protection in home markets and duties on them "have annoyed and burdened the farmers to add to the profits of exacting trusts."

Concerning hoops, bands and ties of iron and steel, barbed wire for fencing, etc., the report says the high duties make the people dependent upon the "great steel industry" which for years has sold products abroad lower than domestic consumers.

Debate on the tariff duties on meats and meat products, "it is asserted," are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that "controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer."

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'"

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter should be maintained for food articles in any country," it is asserted that duties on meats and meat products, "are for the advantage of this combination only—a combination that 'controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.'" middle and western America during the last century. "I am not an old man," he said, amid the laughter of the house, "but I can remember when this country had but 17,000,000 inhabitants. Now it has close to 100,000,000."

Immigration and development had brought rich new lands into cultivation, he said; railroads had by cheap freight rates placed them in touch with the great eastern markets; and the value of New England and New York farm lands had gone steadily down, unable to meet the competition. The opening of new Canadian lands with American markets open to their product would have the same effect on the west he believed.

Mr. Cannon declared that the influence of the cheaper Canadian lands would be felt as keenly in the south as elsewhere, if the tariff restrictions on farm products were removed.

"What is this bill going to do to us?" he asked. "They say there is no danger to our wheat from a market in Canada. The president says it will reduce the cost of living without impairing the farmers' market. The president is a great man; I have great respect for him. I voted for him, and I apprehend I will vote for him again. But I would like to see him demonstrate how it will not impair the farmers' prices and yet will reduce the cost of living."

Dictation or Veto? As to reciprocity, Mr. Cannon said he would act on his own judgment.

"The president's duty is to veto my action, not to dictate it," he declared, and continued:

"The practice has grown through many administrations of the president having 'congress on his hands,' but I propose to walk in the shadow of my own judgment. It is up to us to say whether we shall continue to develop our own country, or to wait, or, without compensation, throw open our markets to all the additional products of a great new country."

Canada, Mr. Cannon said, had always been knocking at the gates of the United States for entry without tax into American markets.

Representative Guder of North Carolina characterized the bill as a republican measure. He attacked his colleague, Mr. Kitchin, for his speech of Saturday, declaring he was marching side by side with the republican leaders and that he had imagined the motives of at least three members of the North Carolina democratic delegation which proposed to vote against the measure.

Disfigured Body of Sailed. MASON CITY, Ia., April 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The body of a man with the head nearly eaten off by rats was found tonight in a box car on the Chicago & Northwestern tracks. December 29, 1910, Christian Larson disappeared from his home in this city and the body is thought to be that of Larson. He had crawled in on the top of a big load of baled hay and had cut his throat with a razor. He had money in the bank and was a mechanic.

DEATH RECORD

John W. Roche. OSWEGO, N. Y., April 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The oldest known survivor of the Seminole war in Florida, died here yesterday. He was born in Ireland in 1821, and had lived in Oswego since 1852. He enlisted at Sackett's Harbor in 1858. With thirty other he escorted President Van Buren from Sackett's Harbor to Niagara Falls. He helped bury 106 white victims of the Dade massacre in 1856, and took part in the capture of Co-A-Coo-See, a famous Indian warrior, in Florida.

Pardon for Charles E. Titus. PIERRE, S. D., April 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Governor Vessey has granted a pardon to Charles E. Titus, sent from Sanborn on a charge of grand larceny. Titus has been out on parole for some time and has now been granted complete clemency. The governor today granted a requisition on the governor of Missouri for H. H. Muggley, wanted at Deadwood on a charge of obtaining money by false pretense.

Ice Cream Companies Indicted. CHICAGO, April 19.—Three Chicago ice cream companies were indicted by the United States grand jury today, charged with shipping impure cream. Those indicted were the Thompson-Heid Ice Cream company, McBride Bros. & Knobels and Rowe & Addie E. Woodhull as the Woodhull Ice Cream company. The government chemist reported 200,000,000 bacteria to approximately one-eighth of a cubic inch of the cream.

Kaiser Guest of A. V. Armour. CORPUS, Island of Corfu, Mediterranean. April 19.—Emperor William was the guest at luncheon today at Allan V. Armour on board the latter's yacht Utowana, of the New York yacht club.

Novel Device for Pouring Concrete Floors in Omaha

A novel scheme of laying concrete and in putting in all cement work is being employed on the new Union Pacific headquarters building. In the court area of the building the contractors, James Stewart & Co., have erected a wooden tower 225 feet in height.

THIS METAL BED— FINE, SOFT MATRESS AND STEEL SPRINGS

THIS MARVELOUS LOW PRICE ON 3 PIECES SHOWS OUR ABILITY TO GIVE VALUES.

Secure Our Credit Card

OMAHA FURNITURE COMPANY 1209-1211-1213 Farnam Street. Please send me a Credit Card made out in my name.

Samson, Elks, Ad Men and Others Ready for Opening

Parade to the Grounds on the Opening Day to Be a Most Classy Affair.

McFarland Finds Tommy Murphy Easy in New York Fight

NEW YORK, April 19.—Pinky McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, won all the way in his ten-round fight with Tommy Murphy of Brooklyn at the Fairmont Athletic club last night. The Chicago boy outboxed and outfought Murphy.

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT TOOTH POWDER cleanses, preserves and beautifies the teeth; prevents tooth decay and imparts purity and fragrance to the breath.

COAT AND PANTS TO ORDER $20.00

Forcefulness of character. It can be expressed in fabrics—in one's garments. The man of impressive character can obtain garments expressive of character.

But—they must be tailored for him individually. And their fashioning must be the work of art tailors with ideals—the kind of men who wouldn't help to make a made-for-anybody, made-hundred-at-a-time ready-made suit, not if they were starving.

For ten years we've been making the garments that grace most of Omaha's forceful men. Why not let us make yours this season?

MAC CARTHY-WILSON TAILORING CO., 804-306 SOUTH 16TH STREET. Near Fairmount.

Corsets The New Artist's Mode

The new style gowns demand well-fitting corsets. The adjustment of the proper model to the individual body is the greatest discovery of the age. It is a certain relief for wearing cellulose, lined, elastic feet. Always use it to break in new shoes. Try it today. Sold everywhere. In case, don't accept any substitute. Per Fibre trial package, address Allen S. Olmsted, La. Bldg., N. Y.

Mrs. L. C. STOCKWELL, Brandeis Theater Bldg., 208 So. 17th.

SHAKE INTO YOUR SHOES

Allen S. Olmsted, the scientific shoemaker, it relieves painful, smarting, tender, nervous feet, and leaves patients starting under previous feet. It instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It is the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel like slippers. It is a certain relief for wearing cellulose, lined, elastic feet. Always use it to break in new shoes. Try it today. Sold everywhere. In case, don't accept any substitute. Per Fibre trial package, address Allen S. Olmsted, La. Bldg., N. Y.

CALL OF WESTERN ROMANCE

Sunset Side of the Missouri is a Profitable Field for the Fictionalist.

About one book of every six, in the spring announcement of the publishers of fiction, appears to be a novel of western life.

It is easy to see why the prairie has proved more attractive to readers in its unimproved form than in its present stage of development, and why the cowboy makes more appeal to the writer than the uronomic rancher of today. So, though the character of the west has changed, and will continue to change, as material progress is made, the character of western fiction bids fair to go on unchanged for centuries to come.

THE NEBRASKA WESLEYAN GLEE CLUB AT THE Y. W. C. A. AUDITORIUM Thursday, April 20th, 8 p. m.

Farm Mortgages Bearing Interest at 5 1/2 per cent on lands within 20 to 50 miles of Omaha.

NO TAXATION W. B. MEIKLE Range Building.

Correct Jewels

The woman who wears jewelry and yet has a modest, enchanting appearance is the kind that causes her husband or friend to be proud. There is the gaudy in jewels as well as in dress.

Albert Edholm Jeweler

WE GIVE VITALIZED AIR

We apply our local application to your gums and extrude your teeth without pain. We make plates that fit and guarantee them. We make plates that look natural and feel comfortable, and we make gold teeth or gold crowns that you can't wear holes in.

We insert a porcelain crown on a root that looks like your own teeth. We fill teeth with any kind of filling you want and they last you a lifetime. We make bridge work that is perfect and you can't tell it from your own teeth.

We replace missing teeth without plates or bridges work. We do all kinds of restorative work. We have only one price for the same grade of work to everybody.

ALVEOLAR DENTISTS

AMUSEMENTS

BRANDEIS THEATER

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

BRANDEIS THEATER

BOYD THEATER

MAC CARTHY-WILSON TAILORING CO.

Corsets

Mrs. L. C. STOCKWELL

SHAKE INTO YOUR SHOES

CALL OF WESTERN ROMANCE

THE NEBRASKA WESLEYAN GLEE CLUB

Farm Mortgages

Correct Jewels

WE GIVE VITALIZED AIR

AMUSEMENTS

BRANDEIS THEATER

BOYD THEATER