NAVY'S FINE YOUNG MEN.

Today it is not a matter of finding men who are willing to enlist in the U. S. Navy. It is a matter of selecting from among the applicants only those who will match up in every way with the high class men now in the service.

The United States Navy's standard of requirements has been raised only gradually, but the increase in the number of applicants during the last few years has enabled the Department to set this standard now at the highest point in the history of the Navy.

This increase is due to the fact that young men are now understanding better what the Navy does for a man—the remarkable training it gives, its unusual opportunities for a successful career with offer.

The Navy Recruiting Officer at P. O. Bldg., Omaha, Neb., will tell all about the enlistment, training, wages, opportunities, privileges and recreations of man-o-warsmen. Call on him, or write for full information, Box 209, Bureau of Navigation, Washington, D. C.*
