

TWO ADDRESSES BY KENYON

Now Senator Will Speak at Coe and Grinnell Commencements.

NINTH DISTRICT TO AVOID FIGHT

Republican Leaders Are Seeking to Avoid Possible Deadlock in Contest for Seat Vacated by Judge Smith.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, April 23.—(Special.)—Senator W. S. Kenyon has accepted two invitations to make speeches in Iowa, and will return from Washington for that purpose in June. He will deliver a commencement address at Coe college at Cedar Rapids on June 12 and a similar address at Grinnell college on June 14. It is stated that he has had several hundred invitations to speak in Iowa since his election as senator. He anticipates that congress will have adjourned by the time he will want to return for these addresses.

The press of the state has given Senator Kenyon a most hearty approval in advance and it is doubtful if anyone was ever elevated to public office in the state with the good will and good wishes of such a large number of the people. From no quarter has there come any criticism of him or any disposition to make it difficult for him to fulfill the promises of his candidacy. His credentials as a senator were forwarded to him a few days ago and it is probable he will take his seat in the senate Monday.

It is not anticipated that there will be very much activity in relation to the senatorial campaign in next year, for some time yet. At present it seems almost certain that Senator Kenyon will have a clear field for re-nomination at the primary in June 1912, as many of those who were opposed to his selection have indicated they will be for him then.

Ninth District to Avoid a Fight

All the information from the Ninth congressional district is to the effect that the republicans of the district are determined upon avoidance of a fight for the republican nomination for congress. The indications are that Judge W. R. Green of Audubon, who has not been at all conspicuous in recent politics of the state, will be nominated for the republican candidate, though Willis Stern of Logan and E. R. White of Harlan are said to be in the race. The democrats will probably nominate W. R. Cleveland of Harlan, who has twice been the race before, and has shown himself a good vote getter, but the republicans believe that if they can secure a nomination without a fight they can win easily. This will be the only political contest of the year in Iowa.

Iowa Nurses Are Organized

The Red Cross nurses organization in Iowa is now practically completed and should unite soon with other nurses to do to the Mexican borders several scores of nimble young women in white cap and apron would be ready to leave for the front. Nearly every district in the state now has one or more Red Cross nurses ready for duty. Miss Estella Campbell, state chairman of the work, does not anticipate the need of Iowa nurses in the present trouble with Mexico, however.

To Prevent Drownings

Drownings in the Des Moines river will be prevented this summer as far as possible by a special patrol of police, who will watch the stream and man city life saving boats when accidents are reported. Secretary of the police department, Charles Middle, who is organizing the river patrol, stated today that it would be commanded by Sergeant of Police Joe Newell. The other officers who will compose the squad are: Officers Cross, Kimes, Ed Ward, Buhler, Gerdes and Dookstader.

Mormon Choir Asks Date

Negotiations are under way to bring the famous Mormon choir of Salt Lake City to Des Moines some time this spring. The choir contains 80 voices and will visit Omaha, Denver, New York and other cities. They have written Manager John Evans of the coliseum asking for a Des Moines date.

Getting Ready for Licenses

W. B. Barney, state dairy commissioner, is engaged in preparing blanks for the applications of milk dealers and creamery managers for the state licenses under the new law. He will send out these blanks very soon and it is expected his office will be flooded with applications for the licenses, as every dealer in the state must take out a license and all testers of milk at the creameries must have a special license. The work of handling this state license business will be one of the most important parts of the dairy commissioner's office.

Wall Clerk Also Dies

Frank Rogers, the former mail clerk, who was arrested yesterday because of the mysterious death of his wife, died last night suddenly. He had fainted when he was being taken from jail and it was found he was on the point of collapse. He rallied for a time, then sank and soon died from the shock and a complication of diseases. It appears now that both Rogers and his wife had been ill for some time, but the coroner is satisfied that the death of the woman was from natural causes.

Curran is a Candidate

J. V. Curran of Ottumwa, who last year was a candidate for state treasurer on the democratic state ticket, is a candidate for the position of head board of the Woodmen of America, before the Buffalo convention to be held in June. He is very popular among the members of Iowa and will have the backing of Iowa people.

Insurance Bill a Mistake

It has been discovered that in addition to other errors in the insurance bill which Governor Carroll has as yet refused to sign, there is one section which amends a law that has been repealed for six years. The bill was drawn as an amendment to another bill and then substituted for the original bill so that it doesn't fit on as it was intended it should. The bill also contains some matter which Governor Carroll believes should not be added to the code and regarding which he differs from the present state auditor whose department is responsible for the bill.

Preparing the Express Cases

Secretary Wrightman of the State Manufacturers' association, in conjunction with the force of the railroad commission, is engaged in preparing the exhibits for the hearing before Judge McPherson on the express rates next week. The rates should have gone into effect March 31, but were held up. Now it is up to the state commission to make a showing of the reasonableness of the rates proposed.

Christianity Missionary Rally

LAKE CITY, Ia., April 23.—(Special.)—The fifth anniversary of the entrance of women's organizations into the missionary field was observed here Saturday and Sunday by a grand missionary jubilee rally. Among the prominent guests of honor at the meetings were Mrs. Anna Atwater of Indianapolis, president of the National Christian Women's Board of Missions associations, Mrs. Florence A. Mills, a missionary of Douglas, Ind.; Miss Alma Montgomery, national worker, and Miss Annette Newcomer, state secretary of the organization of this state.

On another page will be found the rules governing the Booklovers' Contest.

Various Plans for Visit of Noted Financier in Omaha

James Graham Cannon, president of the Fourth National bank of New York, will be whirled into a rapidly revolving cycle of events when he comes to Omaha on May 5. Following the announcement that he would like a tour of the west in his special car, activities were begun in various quarters of the city to welcome him, and every moment that he spends in Omaha will be a busy one.

The leaders of the local men and religion movements are looking forward with deep concern to his coming visit, because Mr. Cannon is chairman of the committee of nineteen, the body which is directing this great religious movement in North America.

Mr. Cannon is regarded as one of the most scientific bankers in the country, and local financiers are anticipating an opportunity to hear him deliver an address on some financial topic. Members of the Omaha Credit association are planning to entertain him, and have appointed a committee headed by Luther Drake, to make the arrangements. It is possible that he may be secured to deliver an address at the big banquet will be arranged for him.

JAMES GRAHAM CANNON. Commercial club, and in all likelihood a

Council Bluffs.

SALOONS IN THE BALANCE

Moon Law May Have Bearing on Number of Drinking Places.

EVIDENCE IS BEING SECURED

County Attorney Capell and Deputy District Clerk of Court Hardesty Trying to Get at the Facts.

County Attorney Capell spent several hours yesterday, assisted by Roy Hardesty, deputy district court clerk, preparing a list of the saloons believed to be affected by the decision of the supreme court and the enactment of the Moon law, limiting the total number of saloons in any community to one for each 1,000 people. He expected to have a statement prepared for publication in all of the papers, giving the names and location of saloons touched by the court decision and the new law, but the task proved to be too great for accomplishment in the time specified.

The county attorney received a copy of the supreme court decision yesterday, together with a brief letter from Attorney General Cossom. The letter contained no expression of opinion and an hour or two were spent studying the court decision. The more carefully it was considered the more difficult it became to determine to what extent it affected the Council Bluffs saloons. The first list prepared and believed to be affected left only about five of the drinking resorts of the city with a clear title to continue doing business, but when the decision was more closely examined the greater became the doubt in the mind of the county attorney. There was a wide difference of opinion among other local attorneys, no two scarcely agreeing upon the degree of damage that has been sustained by the local saloons. Attorney Capell finally refused to make the statement which the saloonmen and the public were anxious to secure. He decided to get further advice from the attorney general before taking any official action.

The county attorney's office was besieged all day yesterday by an anxious crowd of saloonmen from the city and country. They were seeking advice and safe guidance in the present situation. Mr. Capell was in conference with Emmet Tinley during the greater part of the afternoon, and it was at the close of this conference that a public statement by the present time. It was found that forty-two saloons were clearly affected by the court decision and the Moon law if the first view of the decision is sustained. The doubt arises from the ambiguity of the decision itself, which was written by Justice Weaver, and decided by the court upon a stipulation of facts, none of which are really applicable to the situation in Council Bluffs. The opinion appears to be contradictory, sustaining the text of the Moon law, which declares that "on and after the passage of this act" it shall be unlawful for any saloonkeeper who has been convicted of selling liquors illegally or against whom a permanent injunction has been issued to re-engage in the business anywhere in the state for five years, and holding that by the wording of the act it went into effect on April 15, 1909. In another part of the implication it is as plain that the law did not become operative until July 4.

The forty or more saloons in Council Bluffs whose owners got themselves permanently enjoined after April 15 closed their places of business for one day, June 22, after having surrendered their licenses and legally quit business. They opened up the next day with new permits from the city council, filing the required bond in the district court that they would observe the requirements of the moon law in full. Whether these new beginners upon new permits are to be construed as continuances of the old permits or wholly new starts within the meaning of the Moon law is the problem that is perplexing County Attorney Capell, and one which he does not desire to decide hastily. He intends to share the responsibility with the attorney general and every other official due to bear it.

Iowa News Notes

CRESTON—The wife of Edwin C. Cass, the Bedford tax collector charged with hoarding of funds, and who was recently captured in Durango, Colo., at the home of his son, will be held May 3.

IOWA CITY—McKee & Bliven, proprietors of a button factory in Muscatine, have decided to move here, being driven from their home city by strike troubles. They will not remove all of their plant here, but start a branch factory.

CRESTON—Creston Elks presented Past Exalted Ruler W. H. Brady a handsome diamond ring as a token of appreciation for services rendered the lodge while he was in office. The presentation was made by Mayor Reynolds on behalf of the lodge brethren.

IOWA FALLS—W. E. Shaffer of this place, who brought suit against the Chicago & Northwestern railroad for $25,000 damages for personal injury received at Salsboro, Minn., today dismissed the case, the company having settled out of court for $2,700.

CRESTON—Mrs. Charles Emerson has received news of the murder of her cousin.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

HUNT NEW LORIMER WITNESS

Detective Burns After Man Who May Give Important Testimony.

JAIL FOR THE CHICAGO BANKERS

Contempt Proceedings to Be Instituted Against Those Who Fail to Respond to Summons to Appear Before Committee.

CHICAGO, April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—A new and important witness was sought today to appear before the Helm committee that is investigating alleged bribery in the election of United States Senator William Lorimer when it resumes its sessions at Springfield next Tuesday.

This witness, who does not live in Chicago, is being hunted by W. J. Burns, the detective who handled the San Francisco graft investigation. Burns has been absent from Chicago for several days. The identity of this new witness is being carefully guarded, but his importance may be judged by the fact that Burns refused to give the case into the hands of any of his assistants. It was admitted at his office today by R. J. Burns that the detective has taken charge of the case.

John J. Healy, attorney for the committee, is said to have heard a report from the detective over the long distance telephone today. Mr. Healy admitted that new witnesses are expected next week.

Coupled with this development came the announcement today that Chicago bankers will face jail sentences for contempt of the senate if they again fail to respond to the summons served upon them for next Tuesday. The committee is anxious to discover who it was that induced them to ignore the subpoenas of the committee.

Attorney Healy said that Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing company, and reputed treasurer of the $100,000 fund raised to elect Lorimer, has not yet indicated whether he will respond to the fresh summons served on him for next Tuesday's hearing.

Mr. Tilden will be treated with no greater severity than will officials of the Drovers Deposit National bank and the Central Trust company, if they again ignore the summons to appear with their records," said a member of the Helm committee. "They will be liable for contempt."

Harvey Blair, cashier of the National Bank and Trust company, and Alfred Abbott of the Central Trust company is also under a subpoena to which he has thus far failed to respond.

Representatives of the committee are trying to find the secretary of the Illinois Lumber company to serve him with a subpoena. It is said, Mr. Healy said that the secretary of the Illinois Lumber company, C. F. Wiehe, secretary of the Illinois Lumber company, said that he did not want to talk to any newspaper men.

New Record is Made By Attorney Seaver

Oklahoma Lawyer Files His Petition and Secures His Decree Inside of Five Minutes.

MUSKOGEE, Okl., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—W. F. Seaver, a Muskogee lawyer, has established a reputation for professional speed by filing his own petition for divorce, having it recorded, pleading his own case and getting a decree in about five minutes.

Ten years ago Mrs. Seaver, then a young woman, brought suit for $25,000 damages for breach of promise against a man named Davis, at Porum, Okl. Seaver was her lawyer and during the trial dropped to his knees before the jury and, with tears streaming down his face, asked for a judgment in favor of his client. He won the verdict, but later it was set aside. Seaver fell in love with his client, whom he married after obtaining a divorce from his first wife.

MISSED IN THE CENSUS COUNT

Living Like Robinson Crusoe, People Are Found Upon Unknown Island Off Washington Coast.

NEAH BAY, Wash., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Just a year after the census man finished counting the noses of people of this state comes the news of the discovery on an isolated island off the coast of Washington of forty persons who were missed in the count, and for that matter were not generally known to exist.

The discovery was made by the captain of the Admiral Sampson, which vessel was forced to put into a cove during the high wind last week. As the vessel came to anchor in the natural harbor, several men came down the beach. Robinson Crusoe fashion, and the story of the hermit colony was known.

There are fifteen men, eleven women and sixteen children living on the unnamed island. They make their living fishing and gardening. Thus far no person had known of their lonely abode.

When a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from leaf sugar, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by all dealers.

GOOD-BYE TO THE BLONDES

Dr. Moylan Tells Why Brunettes Will Be More Numerous.

BACKED UP BY PROF. PUTNAM

Women Are Developing Better Physical Type and the Tan They Gather Has Come to Stay.

NEW YORK, April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—"The universal prevalence of the brunette type in this country is but a question of time, at least if present conditions endure," says Dr. George L. Moylan, president of the American Physical Education association and medical director of Columbia university. Frederick W. Putnam, head of the Peabody museum at Harvard, is responsible for half of the prophecy.

Prof. Putnam, in a lecture, said: "I believe that the color of this country will gradually grow darker, and though the result will not be coppery color of the Indian, it will be much darker than the average today. One reason for this is the immense proportion of southern Europeans and Hebrews settled in our cities.

"Intermarriage follows and a darker race results. The tide of immigration from southern Europe includes the southern Italians and Sicilians, nearly all dark, and the Syrians and the Greeks. Then there are the Hebrews and the Poles, each a dark skinned race."

Dr. Moylan said he thought Prof. Putnam was right in his conclusions, and continued: "There is another curious little fact which I have observed, that has to do with the coloring of the skin. More and more even our city dwellers are seeking the outdoor life, particularly during the summer season.

"A coat of tan is the fashion. Now, I know it to be true that the skin once thoroughly browned by the sun never regains its former fairness. If generation after generation of young men and women tan themselves deeply every season it seems as if that in itself might produce a certain general copperish complexion."

Not only does Dr. Moylan believe the coming American will be darker complexioned, but says they will be larger of stature. "At Columbia," he said, "where for eight years I have made a physical examination of every undergraduate, I have noted a distinct increase in the physical efficiency of the man now entering college.

"The American girl of today who plays golf and tennis and wears sensible clothes is apt to be taller than her mother at her age. Not only is her general health better, but her muscles are more developed. If she keeps on this, too, will evolve into a finer physical type.

"But our men must learn to take care of their strength after they get it. When they enter business life they must not drop the habit of physical exercise. The average man will get on very well with week-end, from Friday until Monday, spent in some healthful, bodily exercise. If every man will make some sport his stimulant instead of taking alcohol and drugs, the physical well-being of the race would be enormously increased."

GIVES ADVICE TO THE PASTORS

Bishop Niely Talks of Pastoral Calls and Says that Preachers Should Not Ring Door Bells.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

BRIDGEPORT, Me., April 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Bishop Thomas B. Niely of New Orleans, presiding officer at the Maine Methodist Episcopal conference now in session here, is urging the New England pastors to keep a jealous watch on their good name in their communities.

Dr. R. W. Keasoner of Colorado Springs. He was held up by a negro and robbed of his watch and a diamond pin. Dr. Keasoner was killed and the negro, Taylor, was so badly injured he died.

CRESTON—An inquest held over Charles McDonald, shot here Wednesday, resulted in a verdict that McDonald came to his death at the hands of George Dow and that the murder was a cold-blooded and uncalculated affair. Dow was held to the grand jury without bail.

SHENANDOAH—At a meeting of the Hundred Booster club plans were laid for the extension of enterprises that will promote the growth of this city. Among the subjects touched upon were the Waulonsie trail, street