From an apparent walkaway a few days age for Judge Green of Audubon county, the Ninth district congressional campaign has suddenly warmed up into a regular fight for the republican nomination. White Judge Green is still unquestionably in the lead, there is no denying the fact that several counties which a few days ago were regarded as certain for him are now talked of as "fighting ground."

Only sixteen days will elanse before the county conventions will be held in the district. It is conceded that Guthrie and Audubon and probably Montgomery will instruct for Judge Green. That will give Grand Master Speaks. H. C. Ring of Cedar Rapids, state grand master, told what the order had accom-plished since its beginning in this coun-try. He said there were now sixty-nine grand jurisdictions. There are fifty-seven grand encampments and 3,653 subordinate en-

> very strong sentiment there for Judge Green. Some of the more optimistic be lieve that he will be able to control that delegation of twenty-four, and if he could do so he would have fifty-one votes on the first ballot, or one more than the required number. On the other hand, the opponents of Judge Green may that the leaders in Pottawattamie cannot deliver all of the twenty-four votes and that, while Judge Green will get a good showing from Pottawattamie, the delegation will not be instructed and will not vote for him as a unit. Adair county, with nine votes, is first, last and always for Senator Savage, who is to be the temporary chairman of the congressional convention to be held in Council Bluffs May 16. Senator Savage has repeatedly stated that he will not be a candidate. He has a strong hold on the standpatters of the district and there are 'regulars" in practically every county who would be willing to turn to him. In case Savage holds to his announcement to remain out of the race, Adair is likely to be divided between Judge Oreen and Willia Stern. With Bavage out of it the county would be glad to have a man like Judge Green from the sastern and of the district Judge Green is also personally popular with the farmers by reason of his fearlessness on the bench and his record for handling crime without gloves. While Adair county is not included in his judicial district, word of his record is pretty senerally known among the farmers there. Mills county seems to be an unknown quantity in the race, with the odds favoring Willis Stern of Logan. The county is strongly standpat, and as Mr. Stern leans that way he would be likely to command support there. Judge Green has been on the bench of this district for sixteen years and has not been aligned with factions. politics. He has been a warm personal friend of Judge Walter L Smith, who re-
