MANUFACTURERS TO EXHIBIT

Association Discusses Project for a "Made in Omaha" Show.

DATE IS YET TO BE SELECTED

Executive Committee Must Decide on Time for Holding Display—Strong Reports for Similar Exposition in Des Moines.

Preliminary arrangements looking toward a big exhibit of Omaha made goods were made Friday at the noon luncheon of the Manufacturers' association. A great deal of the time was spent on a discussion of the most likely dates for such a show. Some suggested Land show week, and an equal number believed that it should be held during the "Des Moines" week. It was decided in the end to refer the matter to the board of directors to be threshed over.

It was assumed that such an exhibit would be given some time during the present year. Much enthusiasm was created by Edwin T. Swobe, who gave an account of a similar exhibit in Des Moines recently. One phase of this show, which attracted wide attention was a premium scheme in which prizes were offered to people who bought the greatest variety of home made goods during a certain period. Prizes of gold were offered and the whole affair was very successful in every way. The premium plan will no doubt be adopted by the Omaha manufacturers.

J. M. Gillan, manager of the Omaha Auditorium, was present at the meeting, offering to lend his assistance toward making the coming show a success. He also made a brief report on the results of the Des Moines exhibit, which is declared to be one of the greatest things ever exploited in that Iowa city. The Des Moines show lasted a week, during which time there was an attendance of 24,000. The exhibit was such a success that every foot of space has already been reserved for the next annual exhibit.

Lieut. Tom Hayes to Drill the Policemen

Omaha's Finest to Be Taught to "Front" by a Veteran of the War.

Under the direction of Lieutenant Thomas Hayes, patrolman of the Omaha police force, will begin drilling next Monday morning for the municipal parade which will be held on May 25.

Chief of Police Donahue issued orders Friday morning directing all officers to report for drill duty. The men will be drilled in two shifts, according to the plans of the chief.

The first and third details will be drilled in the morning between 7 and 7:30 o'clock, while the second detail will practice from 1 to 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. All details will conduct their maneuvers on Eleventh street between Dodge street and Capitol avenue.

Protest Against Base Ball Playing in the Public Parks

Park Board Has Received Numerous Complaints from All Sections of the City.

Complaints against boys and young men, who have been transgressing on the parkings of the city, poured into the office of the board of park commissioners Friday morning. The protesters stipulate that the parks and even private property is being disfigured to such an extent that unless the practice is stopped, the grass will be wholly destroyed.

The park board has spent money and devoted much time to make the parkings beautiful. Throughout the city, stands of grass have been obtained after much effort. Now the lads are undoing the work of years.

Ball playing on the parkings and on the lots is the greatest evil, say the protesters, though in many instances, citizens have worn paths by their constant tramping to avoid the long way round. Most of the complaints received Friday morning came from the north or south parts of the city. "The park board will take some action at its next meeting to stop the evil," said Mrs. C. D. C. Jewett, secretary. "I have received a dozen protests this morning, unless the practice is discontinued, transgressors will be arrested and fined."

Village of Ralston Has Poison Epidemic

Industrial Community is Wrought Up Over the Work of an Unidentified Person.

Ralston trembles in the fear of a poison epidemic. Nineteen valuable dogs have been mysteriously killed within a week. Several families have sold off their stock in the fear that the animals will fall prey to the poisoner.

Call on the office of the sheriff for help was made Friday by Charles Woodruff, an employe of an automobile plant at Ralston.

The citizens of the little industrial village are enraged over the wholesale poisoning of their animals. A watch is being kept by an amateur vigilance committee.

A deputy sheriff will be sent to Ralston to investigate.

R. M. Moore, of Ralston, reported to the sheriff later that his dog, a highly-prized family pet, had also been poisoned. Mr. Meadows, proprietor of the hotel there, complains that a large number of his chickens have been poisoned.

The residents think that some miscreant has scattered poisoned bread in wholesale quantities over the town.

EMPLOYERS INSURE SELVES

Plan Which May Be Adopted in Omaha Because of Raise.

SAY THEY PAY TOO HIGH RATES

Some Say Their Rate Has Been Almost Doubled During the Last Year—Statistics Are Being Gathered.

Pronounced increases in the rates for employers' liability insurance have been brought to the serious attention of the Omaha Manufacturers' association, and at the noon luncheon held Friday at the Commercial club several proposed plans of retarding the advances in premiums were suggested.

One plan, which seemed to meet with hearty approval from some, is to form a mutual insurance company composed of employing manufacturers of Omaha. It is believed that lower rates could be secured in this way than through the old line companies.

One manufacturer declared that since the first of the year the premium on liability insurance carried by him had doubled, but this is not an ordinary case. The general increase is said to be from 10 to 15 per cent. The cause of the increase is said to lie in the adverse decisions against employers in favor of the laboring man.

Action was not taken on the matter, but arrangements were made to get statistics to be submitted at the next meeting, and on these statistics will be based the future action of the association in the matter of liability insurance.

Jesse Lee Gets Into Court, but Fails to Get Usual Sentence

Grand Juror Called Up to Answer to Charges of Vagrancy Again Discharged.

Jesse Lee, variously known to the police as "vag" and "p.d.," the vernacular for unornamented intoxication, erstwhile grand juror, got into police court for the tenth time Friday morning. He asked for mercy and got it.

Lee urged on the court the fact that he had served 311 days in jail last year and eighty out of the young year now passing. He was discharged.

The prisoner at bar made capital of the fact that he had been called for service on the grand jury.

Another complication in the case arose Friday when it developed that another Lee, John A., had also been called for service on the jury.

The second Mr. Lee insists, with perfect propriety, that he is not a customer of Judge Crawford's court.

PUFFING ENGINES MUST GO

Electric Locomotives for Handling Freight on City Lines and Terminals.

A special type of electric locomotive has been perfected for handling freight on city lines and at city terminals. The service to be performed includes the collection of freight from terminals and docks, where the grades are both short and sharp, and the transportation of the goods over lines used for passenger service which cannot be used for freight car storage. As this locomotive must combine high power with speed, the motors installed are rated to develop 25 horsepower each which is more than is required ordinarily for switching service. The design in general appearance is the same as the regular switching electric locomotive with a central cab and sloping end compartments.

The main operating cab of this new general electric type of locomotive is in the center of the platform, with auxiliary and compartments and side platforms extending out towards the ends of the locomotive. This arrangement gives the operator an extended view in all directions from his seat. Four motors are employed to furnish a tractive effort of 2,500 pounds at a speed of seven miles an hour which is sufficient to haul a 50-ton train up a 2 per cent grade, or along a level track at a maximum speed of thirty miles an hour.

The control which is of the multiple-unit type is demanded by the service conditions, which require high speed for level work. Three-speed control has been employed on locomotives for heavy railroad service, but it has never been generally required for electric roads.
