LONDON SOCIETY ENTRANCED

One of the Most Brilliant Seasons in History Assured.
BRITISH CAPITAL HOLDS COURT
Eyes of All Europe Centered Thereon and Notables Thronging Thither in Hurry—Functions for Irish and Scotch.
BY LADY MANWARING.
LONDON, May 6.—(Special to The Bee.)—London, beginning one of the most brilliant social seasons of its history. Rarely has there been such a busy three months for members of the fashionable world to negotiate and by the end of July a rest in the country and a trip abroad will be greatly needed. The functions in which the court and society will participate have begun, and with the coronation season near at hand society in Europe has attention centered in affairs in London.
The fact that their majesties will hold court at Dublin Castle and at Holywood Palace will, to a certain extent, ease the congested state of affairs, and it is understood that Irish ladies and gentlemen are requested to attend the court in their own capital at Dublin Castle, and a similar intimation has been conveyed with regard to the Scottish court. In all other respects the courts will follow the precedent set by the late king, and their majesties will remain seated throughout the evening. The court sees out of mourning for the late King Edward on Monday, May 8, and on Friday, May 12, their majesties will attend the imperial conference in connection with the Festival of Empire at the Crystal Palace. On May 13 the German emperor and empress and their daughter, Princess Louise, will arrive at Buckingham Palace on a visit to the king and queen, and on the following day the unveiling of Queen Victoria's statue, which has been so long in course of erection, will take place by the king in the presence of their German majesties and all the members of the royal family of England at that time.

Command Theatricals.
On Wednesday night, May 17, there will be a command performance at Drury Lane theater, which is to be graced by the presence of their majesties and their imperial guests. The play selected for this interesting event is Lord Lytton's "Money," and nearly all the leading actors and actresses of Europe will appear in the cast.
The royal naval and military tournament is to open on May 18 at Olympia, and the king and queen have promised to attend one of the performances during the fortnight the tournament is open. The queen's birthday will be celebrated on Friday, May 25, and on Wednesday, May 31, their majesties and a very distinguished company will be present at Epsom in order to witness the Derby. In the evening his majesty will act as host, for the first time, to the members of the Jockey club, the banquet taking place at Buckingham Palace.
Queen Mary will honor the duke and duchess of Devonshire on this evening with her presence at dinner and many of her personal friends will be present. Later in the evening the duchess of Devonshire will give a ball, which the king and his guests from Buckingham Palace will go to after dinner. This ball will be the first given by the duke and duchess of Devonshire. The king and queen will attend the race for the Oaks on Friday, June 2. On the following day the king will celebrate his birthday, and with the queen and members of the royal family and court will go to Windsor castle for the Whitsuntide recess.
The last few weeks have been marked by the marriage of an unusually large number of persons in London. Two pairs were married on April 27. The first of these marriages was that of the earl of Hardwicke and Miss Nellie Russell, the daughter of the late Mr. James Russell and of Mrs. James Russell of New Zealand. This marriage was held at St. Peter's, Eaton square.

The second was that of Lord O'Hagan, who was for some time a lord-in-waiting to the late king, and Miss Frances Strachey, daughter of Sir Edward Strachey. It took place at St. Margaret's, Westminster, and afterwards a reception was held at 14, Queen Anne's gate, which was lent for the occasion by Mr. and Mrs. J. St. Joe Strachey.
On the same day Mr. Charles Lyell, member of Parliament, and Miss Rosalind Watney, daughter of Mr. Vernon James and Lady Margaret Watney, and niece of the earl of Portsmouth, were married. The wedding took place at Cornbury, near Oxford.
Her Jasper Ridley, brother of Viscount Ridley, and Countess Nathalie Benckendorff, the only daughter of the Russian ambassador and Countess Benckendorff, were married on Friday, April 28, at the Russian church, Welbeck street. A reception was held at the Russian embassy at Cheesman Place following the marriage.
Lord St. John of Bletsoe and Miss Ethel Lottley had a very quiet wedding at the private chapel at Brockhampton, Herefordshire, on Wednesday.
At St. Margaret's church, Westminster, the same afternoon, Captain the Hon. Algernon Strutt was married to the Hon. Eva Bruce. The bridegroom is a young officer in the Second Life guard and the son and heir to Lord Belper. His bride is the youngest daughter of Lord Aberdeen, and after the ceremony Lady Aberdeen held a reception at 8 Eaton square.
On Tuesday Colonel the Hon. Miss Talbot, a brother of Lord Talbot de Malahide, was married to Miss Eva Joyce, at St. Peter's church, Eaton square, and the same afternoon witnessed the marriage of the Hon. Francis Needham, younger son of the earl of Kilmorck, to Miss Esther Combe, the daughter of Mr. and Lady Constance Combe, and cousin of the Marquis Conyngham. This took place at the Guard's chapel, Wellington barracks.

On Thursday Mr. Pryce Harrison and Lady Lettice Cholmondeley, the only daughter of the marquis and Marchioness of Cholmondeley, was married at St. Margaret's church, Westminster, and the same day Mr. Walter Roch and Miss Florence Herbert, the daughter of Colonel Sir Ivor and the Hon. Lady Herbert, took place at Llanarth. On Saturday the Hon. Sackville Tufton, a younger son of Lord and Lady Hothfield, was married to Miss Cloely Hill at St. Paul's church, Knightsbridge.
The marriage of Mr. Richard Sturgis Seymour of the British embassy in Berlin and Miss Victoria Fitzroy, a granddaughter of the duke of Grafton, was celebrated at St. Genevieve's church, Euston, near Tottenham, and the same afternoon there was the marriage of Mr. Robert Emmett and Lady Alexandra Danby, the widowed niece of the earl of Aylesford.
Children to Celebrate.
Hundreds of thousands of children throughout the British empire will celebrate the coronation of King George V. On the day of the celebration 100,000 children will be entertained by the king at the Crystal Palace; at Edinburgh 50,000 others will be regaled by the city; at Newcastle there will be a party of 50,000; at York will entertain 30,000; Birmingham, Portsmouth, Brighton, Windsor and other towns will add their quota to the list. It is also expected that by the time the youngsters have been to the Festival of Empire at the Crystal Palace the total will reach somewhere about 400,000. The British Chamber of Commerce in Paris will entertain about 13,000 guests.

Lady Ludlow Dead.
Death claimed one of England's most noted society matrons in the death of Lady Ludlow, who died suddenly at her country residence. Lady Ludlow was a daughter of the late Mr. William Holden and married Lord Howard de Walden in 1856. Lord Howard de Walden died in 1890, and his widow married Lord Ludlow thirteen years later.
Lady Ludlow was one of the most beautiful women in society, says the Evening News, and was in the seventies and early eighties, with Lady de Batho, then Mrs. Langtry, and Mrs. George Cornwallis-West, among the prettiest women in England.
Big Kissing Bee.
A quaint kissing custom still exists in the pretty little Wiltshire town of Hungerford. An ancient toll is claimed by the authorities on Easter Monday from every man and woman in the town. From the men the toll is one penny, but that imposed upon the women is a kiss. The custom is maintained by the headies, who march from house to house and levy their quaint taxes. After the headies have had their innings, any man is at liberty to kiss any girl that he meets. And Hungerford is crowded with visitors on Easter Monday.
King on the Jump.
King George is now the busiest man in England, and at the coronation season will doubtless be the most strenuous period of his career. During the coronation festivities the king will hardly have one moment's rest. Every day will see some official function of an exacting nature which he has consented to attend.

FEDERAL PRISONERS GUILTY

Three of the Five Indicted Enter Pleas of Guilty.
MORRISON SAYS "NOT GUILTY"
Man for Whom Special Grand Jury is Called Fails to Plead as Was Expected that He Would.
Four of the five prisoners, who were indicted by the federal grand jury on Thursday were taken before Judge W. H. Munger in the United States district court to enter pleas, Saturday morning. Three pleaded guilty and the other not guilty. James Owens, pleaded guilty to having in his possession false and altered obligations of the United States. In company with W. L. Sheppard, Owens raised $100 to a $5 denomination and attempted to pass the same on a woman who runs a small candy store in South Omaha. Sheppard claimed that he was an unwilling participant in the deal, but also pleaded guilty. Owens drew a fine of three years in the federal prison at Leavenworth and Sheppard was given eighteen months in the same place.
Mrs. Carrie Smith pleaded guilty to mailing non-mailable matter and sentence was put off until Monday morning. Mrs. Smith is said to have written letters through the mail claiming to be a doctor for women's diseases. The contents of the letter were not in keeping with the government laws. Mrs. C. J. Jones who was indicted for the same offense was granted a continuance until the early part of next week, before entering her plea.

To Hold Omaha to New York Talk Party

Bell Company Will Entertain Representatives of Press with Long Distance Chats.
The Bell Telephone Company will soon open public service lines between Omaha, Chicago and New York, and to celebrate the event C. E. Yost, president of the Nebraska company, has planned an informal gathering of representatives of the press for the first talks over these lines.
The Omaha gathering will be held in Room 206, Kennedy building, Nineteenth and Douglas streets, but the date of the party has not been arranged.
Poetical Paragraphs.
Moderation is one thing that is rare in the extreme.
If a girl is pretty hands she can afford to dispense with gloves.
Don't display your lack of knowledge by boasting about what you know.
Care is said to have killed a cat, but there is a lot of care and a lot of cats that fall to the ground.
