MEDELSSOHN CHOIR PRAISED. Martin Bush Writes from New York Some Very Complimentary Comment. Martin Bush, the accomplished pianist and organist, who for some years was organist at the First Congregational of Omaha and who is now studying in New York, under date of April 16, writes Mr. Sigmund Landberg of this city as follows: "I heard the New York Oratorio society, under Frank Damrosch, give 'The Elijah.' It was stirring, too. Of course the chorus has sung it a score of times and knows it backward and forward, and Damrosch got excellent effects, but in finish and detail it did not come up to the Mendelssohn choir at all. It will be remembered that Mr. Bush was accompanist for the Mendelssohn choir for two seasons and while they were working on 'The Elijah' and so is familiar with the class of work that the Mendelssohn choir is doing under the baton of Thomas J. Kelly. It will be a pleasure to have to the many friends of Mr. Bush in this city that he contemplated returning here in the near future."
