

HIGH SCHOOL READY FOR MEET

Athletes in Good Trim for Contests at Lincoln.

TENNIS TOURNEY IN PROGRESS

Both Girls and Boys in Contests on Courts—Preparing to Play for Golf Championship of School.

A week's hard practice has rounded the track squad of the Omaha high school into splendid condition for the Missouri valley meet at Lincoln Saturday. R. L. Carns, coach, and Andrew Dow will leave for Lincoln Friday morning to complete arrangements for the meet, but the squad, under the management of Donald Howe, will not leave for Lincoln until Saturday morning.

No limitation is placed on the number of entrants the high school may have, and Carns will select a squad of about fifteen. Any lad who has shown up well so far this season in the various meets has a chance of being picked by Carns. The final try-outs for the various entries will be held this afternoon.

Robert Wood, John Drexel and Hugh Millard will be entered in the dashes. Albert Cahn and Ralph Ludwig will be entered in the half and quarter-mile runs. Ellsworth will be the only runner to represent the school in the mile. Lavigne and Rowley will be entered in the hurdles. Andrew Dow will throw the weights. Vergil Hector, who holds the school record in the pole vault, and also, Harry Munkey will be entered in the pole vault. Robert Wood, who broke the school record in the broad jump this season, will also be entered in this event.

Coch Carns has not yet chosen the runner who will fill Rouse's place on the relay team. Omaha is expected to have a fast relay team, as three of the members were on the team last year.

A trial meet will be held between Council Bluffs high school and Omaha next Tuesday, May 16, at the Omaha Driving park, to practice for the state meet.

Busy on Courts.

Tennis is claiming the attention of many of the high school boys this week. The tournament for the championship of the school is being played and the tournament has progressed as far as the third round. Guy Beckett, Frey Nelson, Herbert Davis, Park Larson and Sievers Suman were the matches yesterday, which places them among the first-class players.

Nelson is slated to play Beckett and Davis will play Larson. The winner of the match between Davis and Larson will play Suman. Suman is the school champion, having gained the title last fall. He is playing in better form than last year and the chances are that he will perhaps retain his title.

The girls have also been progressing rapidly in their tournament. Seven rounds have to be played off before the semi-finals, on account of the many entries. The girls have played every afternoon, however, and four rounds have been played off. The results of the fourth round were:

Charlotte Hedwell defeated Gladys Gifford 6-1, 6-3.
Ruth Rhylander defeated Mary Nygaard 6-0, 6-1.
Lucile Fellers defeated Emma Gibbs, 6-0, 6-1.
Erma Ring defeated Frances Malloy, 6-0, 6-1.

Start Golf Saturday.

The second annual golf tournament of the Omaha high school will start Saturday morning. Most of the matches will be played at Hazy Hollow. Harold Johnson, the present champion, will defend his title. Ted Forbes and Clarence Peters are in charge and have received more than twenty-five entrants.

George Ross, the runner-up in the tournament held last fall, has been showing up in fine shape this year, and the race for the championship will be between Ross and Johnson. Forbes is another good player who has quite a reputation as a crack golfer.

Following are the entrants for the tournament: Clarence Peters, Ted Forbes, Harold Johnson, George Ross, Royal Warner, Walman Walters, Robert Schobbe, Wayne Selby, Phil Dunn, Malcolm Baldrige, Guy Beckett, Jarvis Offutt and Henry Howes.

English Polo Team Shows Great Form in Practice Work

Riders From Over the Sea Trying Out at Lakewood Surprise Their Observers.

NEW YORK, May 12.—If any person interested in polo thinks that the Englishmen who have challenged for the international cup, the series of matches for which will be played at Meadowbrook on May 21, June 3 and 7, are not man men in the field, dashing horsemen and skilful with the mallet, they have only to witness the challenges play to change his opinion. No points that have ever come from abroad have so impressed enthusiasts as have the Englishmen.

Although the English team has been severely handicapped by lack of practice and the players have been on the ocean for many weeks, during the period they have knocked the ball about at Lakewood they have shown great form. It must be remembered that it takes weeks of practice for poloists to become accustomed to one another's plays. This helps in what is known as team work. Individually the English players have shown up well.

In respect to the use of the mallet the Englishmen, particularly in the backhand stroke, are more clever than the Americans. The backhand stroke is a great favorite among the challengers. They are such adepts that they use it on every possible occasion. Many times during the game when they have had a chance to wheel their ponies and face the ball and hit it a driving forward stroke they have preferred to hit it backhand.

Since the challengers arrived they have profited by looking at the Americans play. The defenders are fast riders and quick to grasp every opportunity. The Englishmen were at first slow, but now they adopted the American tactics and showed up to better advantage.

Captain Cheape, the No. 1 man of the English team, stood on the side lines during a recent game. Commenting on the practice of his team mates, he said: "We are more or less bothered by the lack of offside and onside rule. In India we never play except under those conditions. Many of the other members of the team are similarly handicapped. The sideboards tend to confuse us. In small fields in India we do not use them."

"I think the team that will represent England this year is much stronger than the one that lost at Hurlingham in 1909. This estimation of the relative merit of the two teams is generally accepted. Without detracting the slightest from the merits of the American team, I believe that their opponents at Hurlingham were very weak."

Alexander Pope Said:

"Blessed is he who expects nothing, for he shall never be disappointed."

We run this store for the man of high expectations. He will find here high quality clothes with no signs of the "high cost of living" bugaboo.

We've managed to have put the greatest value into our Suits and Overcoats.

as poloists. After we have a little more practice here I am certain that our skill will be equal to the standard which has been set for us."

Offside and onside play never has been a feature of polo playing in America. It is distinctly English. Offside means that the leader of a team or the man who has the ball must not be passed by one of his mates. In other words, members of the team must remain behind the man who has the ball. If a member of the team passes the man with the ball, under this rule, it constitutes a foul. The Americans abolished the rule because it prevented sharp, fast playing.

English Foot Ball Players Will Tour

NEW YORK, May 12.—Definite announcement that the Corinthians of England, the famous amateur foot ball team, will tour the United States and Canada in September, was made by Harry Manley of the United States Foot Ball club and the Field Club Soccer league of New York and New Jersey after a visit from A. W. Parker of Toronto, North American representative of the Corinthians. The Englishmen, according to the arrangement entered into between Manley and Parker, will play only one game in New York, under the auspices of the Field Club league, about the third week in September. The tourists will start their schedule in Canada, and play also in Philadelphia, St. Louis, Chicago and Fall River.

Jeff Warns Wolgast Against McFarland

Lightweight Champion Takes Old Head's Advice and is Acting Wisely.

NEW YORK, May 12.—James J. Jeffries has advised Wolgast to steer clear of McFarland. Jeff told the lightweight champion after he had beaten Hogan the other night that he would be foolish to make a match with Packy under any conditions. Wolgast, it will be remembered, agreed to box McFarland before Jack O'Brien's club in Philadelphia on Washington's birthday and fixed the weight at 135 pounds, weighing at 7 p. m. Because of Wolgast's poor showing with K. O. Brown, however, O'Brien called this match off. When Wolgast went to Los Angeles to fight Memsie he met Jeffries, who is one of his most ardent supporters, and the big fellow said:

"Don't box McFarland at all. He is too clever and will outpoint you sure." Jeff's advice struck home, it seems, for Wolgast now refuses to let McFarland weigh 133 at 3 o'clock, declaring that ringside weight must govern all contests for the lightweight title. Wolgast says he cares nothing for precedent. The fact that Lavigne lost the title to Erne at 136, weighing at 3 o'clock, cuts no figure with Wolgast, who says he is not called upon to give or take two pounds in a match with McFarland or any other challenger.

Horse Races and Auto Show.

RELIÉ FOURCHE, R. D., May 12.—(Special.)—The dates for the auto show which is being arranged for in this city have been changed from June 18 to June 22, on account of interference with the dates of the race circuit at Spearfish. On the latter dates the auto show will be held in this city and in addition to this three days of racing of horses will be given on the well known South Dakota circuit, making a joint celebration of goodly proportions.
