BOOSTER TRAIN OPEN TO VIEW

Public is Invited to Inspect the Palace on Wheels.

FOUR CARS ARE ALREADY HERE

Excursionists Are Advised to Send Their Paraphernalia to the Depot Early, that Freyer May Check it Away.

The Union Pacific special which will carry the Omaha trade boosters on their trip next week will be made up of some of the finest equipment ever assembled for such a purpose. Four of the six Pullman cars have already arrived. Two of these are the compartment cars Luzon and Sardinia, which came in last evening direct from the Pullman shops. The other two are the two-section dining room cars, Havard, in which headquarters will be established, and a club car for the band. These are also fresh from the shops. Friday the sixteen-section standard sleeper and the ten-section observation car arrived at the yards.

In charge of the Pullman equipment will be W. P. Babcock, the veteran conductor, who is known to everyone who ever went out on a trade trip from Omaha. In order to give the families and friends of the boosters an opportunity to see a first-class train, the Union Pacific will have the special set out at the Union station for inspection at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. All of the cars will be open for inspection. The train will start from Union station at 4 o'clock sharp Sunday afternoon. The train will run on schedule time from start to finish. Labels for baggage with instructions as to their use are sent everyone, so as much baggage and advertising matter will be sent to the depot on Saturday as possible. Steward Freyer of the club will be in the baggage car all day Saturday and Sunday forenoon, stowing stuff away and making a record of it as it is taken on the car. A telephone will be in service during that time and the participants are advised to call up Mr. Freyer to make sure their stuff is on the train later than Sunday noon, to avoid search at the last minute.

Commissioner J. M. Guild will be in absolute charge from the time the train leaves Omaha Sunday afternoon until its return next Saturday evening. When the special pulls out Sunday afternoon there will be aboard General Manager W. D. Lincoln, Assistant Passenger Agent W. H. Murray, as well as the superintendent of the division, to see that everything starts right.

EXHIBIT CLOSES SATURDAY

Edholm's Second Annual Diamond Display Marked by Large Attendance This Week.

The second annual diamond exhibit of the Edholm store, Sixteenth and Harnay streets, will be brought to a close Saturday night. All during the week the store has been crowded with people who have gone there to view one of the finest collections of diamonds and precious stones ever brought to Omaha. The exhibition has been a success and has surpassed the first one for the brilliance of display and attendance. Special attention will be given to all visitors during the rest of the exhibit, and all who have not visited the store this week are invited to do so any time before 10 o'clock Saturday night.

The $1,000 blue diamond, which has been on exhibit during the week will be shipped back east to the importer. A telegram came to Mr. Edholm stating that there was a prospective buyer for the stone.

Omaha Woman Helps Baby of Poor Folks to Needed Clothes

Mrs. W. R. Matthews Fits Out Little Babe Who is Clothed in a Handkerchief.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wenk, Russian-German immigrants to this country, found an angel in need in Omaha, while stopping here a few hours Thursday afternoon. A little baby was born in the Wenk family fourteen days before reaching this city, while the family were crossing the ocean. The family had practically no ready cash in the exchequer, and what they had saved went for medical services, for they insisted on paying for these.

As a result the little baby had practically no stitch to its name when the Wenks arrived in Omaha, on their way to friends at Lincoln. Mrs. William R. Matthews of this city, while passing through the station, saw the infant and stopped to chat with Mrs. Wenk.
Immediately followed apologies in German for the condition of "meat kind."
"It was the dearest little baby I ever saw," declared Mrs. Matthews afterward. "Just as clean, its little pink skin almost shining from its scrubbing. And wrapped in a big black silk handkerchief."
The Omaha woman insisted that she should buy some clothes for the baby, and an hour later they arrived, all done up in tissue paper, just as she would have sent them to a personal friend. Friday Mrs. Matthews received a postal card from the family, written in German, and inviting her to be present at the christening, a great honor among the Russians and Germans.

Ask Bids to Pave Seventeen Streets

City Clerk Will Advertise for Curbing and Paving This Week—Paved Next Year.

Bids for the paving and curbing of streets in seventeen districts will be asked by the city clerk this week. The highways to be improved include streets in all sections of the city. It is believed, however, that work will not be started until next year because of the inadequacy of intersection money.

The streets to be paved are:
Chicago street, Fourteenth to Fifteenth street; Ninth street, Howard to Douglas street; Thirty-fourth street, Hamilton to Parker street; Thirty-fifth street, Leavenworth to Mason and Martha to Arbor street; Douglas street, Sixteenth to Twentieth street; Arbor street, Thirty-second avenue to Thirty-fifth street; Thirty-first street, Poppleton to Woolworth avenue; Thirty-fifth street, Leavenworth to Howard street; Davenport street, Eleventh to Thirteenth street; Castellar street, Thirty-second street to Thirty-second avenue; Ontario street, B to Twentieth street; B street, Thirteenth to Ontario street; Twenty-fifth avenue, Ames avenue to tax lot 14, Decatur street, Twenty-fourth to Twenty-sixth street, and Tenth street, Douglas to the viaduct.

"FAINTING BERTHA" IS ARRESTED IN LINCOLN

DEAVER OPENS SHOSHONE DAM

Omaha Man to Pull the Lever on Mighty Irrigation Project.

WILL IRRIGATE 150,000 ACRES
Government Has Been Working Five Years on This Project—Highest Dam in the World—Cost Is Enormous.

D. Clem Deaver, an Omaha man, has been chosen to pull the lever of the mighty Shoshone project dam just completed by the United States reclamation service, which will put in operation one of the most wonderful irrigation services of the world. The great event will be held June 23, almost an even five years after the day on which the dam was started, the section known as the Ralston unit being the one to be put in operation.

The Shoshone project, covering 15,000 acres of irrigable land, has been built at a cost of $67,000 to the government. One of the dams built in the project is today the highest wall in the world—the Shoshone canyon dam, 224 feet high. This wall will reach forty-two feet higher in the air than the famous Platoron building of New York.
C. J. Blanchard, statistician of the United States reclamation service, will be present at the opening also. Mr. Blanchard has followed the project all through its progress, and Mr. Deaver selecting the site for the big reservoirs. Mr. Deaver was asked to aid in the work because there is probably no man in the west who knows more about the soils, the need of water and the farming possibilities of the Big Horn Basin and northern Wyoming.

"I went out when the site was selected and a year and a half later was again out inspecting the work," said Mr. Deaver. "All that time workers had been chipping, blasting and in other means taking out rock from the Shoshone canyon preparatory to building the wall. In spite of this one could hardly notice that any work had been done, so enormous was the plan of building."

"When the dam is started there will be engines harnessed where the surplus water comes through a tunnel under the mountain, and electric light and power will be furnished to all the towns and farmers of that part of Wyoming."
D. Clem Deaver is the colonization agent of the Burlington and is interested in placing people upon farms along the lines of that road in Wyoming.

RUNAWAY HORSE INJURES TWO

Throws Owner from Buggy and Then Hits Pedestrian, Injuring Both Badly.

A runaway horse, belonging to Charles Westergaard of 2000 South Twenty-third street, an employe of the city engineering department, hurt two men Friday afternoon. Westergaard lost control of the horse on South Seventh street and was thrown out of the buggy when it hit an obstruction in the roadway, just south of Jones.
The horse and buggy, continuing north on Seventh, struck John Dineen of 50 South Twenty-first street, knocking him down on the Union Pacific tracks. Dineen was injured internally and cut about the head. He was attended Dr. E. H. Smith of the Union Pacific, and taken to his home in an ambulance.
Westergaard, although badly shaken and bruised by his fall from the buggy, was not seriously injured. The horse reared and was caught after crossing the railroad tracks on Jones street.

Disgraceful Conduct of liver and bowels in refusing to act, is quickly remedied with Dr. King's Life Pills, 2c. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.

Gold Dust Twins in Dance Program Are Clever Children

Two Little Colored Boys Will Be the Comic Stars for City Mission Benefit.

The "Gold Dust Twins" will be stellar performers in the terpsichorean festival which is to be given at the Brandeis theater Saturday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the City mission and the Child Saving Institute. These two little colored boys, George Washington Jones and Abraham Lincoln Johnson, are talented children and their comic antics have been very laughable in rehearsal. For all the members the rehearsals have been progressing splendidly and the ticket sales has been phenomenal.

Since the program is much of a "society affair" and the dancers are to a great extent from prominent families, the audiences will be large and brilliant. The patronesses are to be:
Mrs. W. B. Millard, Mrs. E. W. Nash, Mrs. George A. Joslyn, Mrs. Charles Offutt, Mrs. F. P. Kirkendall, Mrs. L. F. Crofoot, Mrs. G. M. Hitchcock, Mrs. J. M. Daugherty, Mrs. Arthur Metz, Mrs. E. A. Chubb, Mrs. John A. McShane, Mrs. Charles Kountze, Mrs. John Bourke, Mrs. K. C. Barton, Mrs. Robert C. Howe, Mrs. C. W. Hamilton, Mrs. C. N. Dietz, Mrs. C. C. Rosewater and Mrs. N. B. Urdike.

Woman Sues Lawyer for Health Damage

Plaintiff Declares Failure to Gain Vindication by Reversal Was Breach of Contract.

Damage of $5,000 in her health because of failure to "get her back" in an appeal from a divorce judgment, is alleged in a suit against Byron G. Burbank, attorney, brought by a former client, Mrs. Anna Pedersen.
In the suit filed in district court Friday morning, Mrs. Pedersen asks for judgment of $5,000, of which she avers $2,000 is for injury to her health and $300 money wrongfully collected. The suit is based on alleged breach of contract by the lawyer.

Mrs. Pedersen sets forth that the lawyer agreed to get the divorce decree against her in district court reversed in the state supreme court. This attempt failed, she said, because he did not confine his efforts to a defense of her honor, but sought acquiescence.
Mrs. Pedersen states that her instructions were simply that he should secure a reversal of the judgment and thereby the granting of a new trial in which she might vindicate her honor, and that the lawyer was not employed to secure alimony. She alleges also that he was so neglectful of her interests that she was forced to retain Judge E. P. Holmes of Lincoln as additional counsel.

The plaintiff admits that the contract between herself and the lawyer specified "a reversed or modified judgment," but alleges that Mr. Burbank in reading the contract to her misrepresented by leaving out the words "or modified." In case he secured a reversal or modification of the decree by the contract, as it appears, instead of the $500 retainer the lawyer was to receive a deed for some land valued at $500. She alleges that acting on this contract fraudulently secured, Mr. Burbank has attached the first $500 installment of the alimony and the coat money and threatens to secure the whole of the alimony allowed by the supreme court, amounting to $2,000.

FOR SAFE AND SANE FOURTH

Chief Donahue Prepares Some Rules to Be Enforced.

NO DYNAMITE CRACKERS GO
Citizens May Have Fireworks Celebrations, but Only Under Certain Regulations to Be Approved by the Board.

No firecrackers, except the little ones, and no fireworks, except under the strictest supervision, are to be permitted by Chief Donahue, who has his own ideas of a safe and sane Fourth of July. "Under no circumstances will the totting or discharging of firearms, loaded with blank cartridges, be tolerated," says the chief. "Chief Donahue" is making his plans for police regulations on the national holiday. As soon as he gets them completed, he will send them to the fire and police board for approval. He believes in taking time by the forelock, especially in matters of this importance.

"I like to see everyone enjoy himself," says the chief. "But not at the expense of life and limb. In the main, people are too careless on the Fourth and for that reason we have to regulate them, because they won't regulate themselves."
"We will not permit the firing of crackers, except of the smallest kind. No giant firecrackers, or those charged with dynamite, will be allowed. Neither will the discharge of firearms under any conditions be permitted."
"However, if citizens want to have fireworks near their homes, they will be permitted to do so, but only under rigid supervision. The regulations will cover all these cases and citizens will be advised in plenty of time."

Boggs Returns Home and is a Sick Man

W. H. Boggs of 2615 South Sixteenth street, returned home Friday after search for him had practically been given up. Police of Chicago had already established the theory that a man found murdered and drowned there was the Boggs of Omaha. Inquiry at the Boggs' residence revealed only the facts that Mr. Boggs had returned from St. Louis in a state of illness and could not be seen. His wife declared that his explanation of his disappearance and absence since April 15 was entirely satisfactory to her and refused to say anything further.

W. H. Boggs left home April 15 to attend the funeral of his father at Holland, Mich. He disappeared in Chicago with $25 in his pocket and his homecoming was the first word heard from him since.
"A secluded spot near a barn at Eleventh and Davenport streets went James F. Irvine, a Wyoming cowboy and John Wilson, his cook, last night for the express purpose of drinking two bottles of beer. While in the act, the cowboy was dragged by his seat and the bottle by a person who had slipped up behind him. A mighty combat followed in which Irvine escaped untouched, in the more recent as well as the ancient meaning of the word. Then Irvine had Wilson, his new found friend and guide arrested, declaring that the man had "steered" him to the place of battle.
